

CZAR'S INVASION OF HUNGARY IS AGAIN HALTED

Berlin Reports Efforts to Force Lupkow and Dunkla Passes Repulsed - Petrograd Denies Reverse - French Report Gain of Ailly Wood and Mile Advance in Alsace.

LONDON, April 15.-Failure of the Russians' attempt to invade Hungary was announced today by the German war office. The statement is made that the effort of the Russian army from Przemyel to force the Lupkow and east Dunkla Passes was not successful, and that its attacks at several points along this front resulted in defeat with heavy losses. In consequence it is said the attacking power of the Russians has lessened visibly.

Although official reports from Petrograd concede no such reverse, they indicate the Russian advance has been brought virtually to a halt. The Russian war office says "slight progress" was made near Uzok Pass and a counter attack at Koziova by the Austro-German forces failed. The German report speaking of the Koziova fight asserts the Russians were repulsed with large losses. The Russian report makes no claim to further progress in the Carpathians except at Uzok Pass.

Advices have been received in Rome from Saloniki that the intervention of the war of Rumania appears to be imminent. It is said the Rumanian army is well equipped and ready for instant action. Four attacks by the French are mentioned in the Berlin war office statement today, and all are said to have resulted in failure. The Paris statement, however, asserts that in the Ailly wood, a section of ground 400 yards long and 100 yards deep, was won, and that in Alsace an advance of nearly one mile was made. The British steamer Ptarmigan has been sunk by a German submarine in the North sea. Eleven men of her crew of twenty-two were saved. The robbers fired several shots at the crew.

After forcing the engine crew to uncouple the locomotive and run it a short distance down the tracks, the robbers lined up the engine men and three other members of the train crew against a box car and left one of their number as guard while the others looted the merchandise cars. Four five ton auto trucks were waiting and were quickly loaded with booty. Engineer Goss of Syracuse escaped the guard and running a fusillade of shots, reached his engine in safety. He made a record run of eight miles and gave the alarm.

ARIZONA TOWNS FLOOD MENACED; DAMAGE $400,000

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 15.-Dispatches received here today telling of the breaking of the Lyman reservoir dam near St. Johns, estimate the total damage so far in the flooded area at $400,000. St. Johns is fifty miles from a railroad, in the northeastern part of the state. The Hunt dam, two miles from St. Johns, was carried out by the flood shortly before noon. The water swept toward the dam at Woodruff. It is feared Woodruff will be badly damaged unless the dam breaks. If the reservoir holds, the water must be diverted directly through the streets of Woodruff. The flood will reach Woodruff tonight and people are already moving out of the reach of the waters. Telephone warnings have been sent to the 3000 people who live in the flood district, which is mostly grazing country, with some small agricultural spots.

HOLBROOK, Ariz., April 15.-Lyman reservoir, which impounds waters of the Little Colorado river, 12 miles south of St. Johns, Apache county, broke shortly before midnight last night, drowning eight persons. A reservoir at Hunt, northwest of St. Johns, is in the path of the flood, and if the dam there, which is threatened, gives way, Woodruff, twelve miles southeast of Holbrook, will be in danger. The eight persons drowned at Lyman had been living directly under the reservoir dam, which collapsed, as did a similar but smaller dam ten years ago. At St. Johns today the flood released from the reservoir had reached a depth of three feet in some places, although no greater damage has been done there.

Three of the eight persons drowned at Lyman dam were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Palmer and the grandchildren of Mrs. Rachel Berry, one of the two women members of the Arizona state legislature. Lyman reservoir furnished water to irrigate 30,000 acres.

LONDON, April 15.-England's experienced a second Zeppelin raid last night when a German airship made an extensive flight over the north-eastern coast in an abortive attempt to damage shipbuilding works along the river Tyne. With the exception of negligible damage to property and slight injury to two civilians, the attack was fruitless.

The promptness with which the cities and towns in this part of England were plunged into darkness when the coming of the Zeppelin was announced, undoubtedly prevented the infliction of greater damage. As it was, some narrow escapes were recorded, with bombs falling near a passenger train in one instance and close to a shipyard in another.

According to special dispatches appearing in London, both the Russians and the Austrians still continue to claim local successes in the Carpathians. Nevertheless, it would appear as though reinforcements of Austro-German forces had checked the main Russian offensive in the region of the Usok pass.

Brimming with plans for wider extension of the reforms he was able to initiate in the Atlanta penitentiary, even though a convict, Hyde resumed his business just where he was compelled to leave off 16 months ago.

"It was difficult," he said "to break through the traditions of prison discipline. And we are far behind our civilization in dealing with crime and criminals. A prison cannot, unfortunately keep ahead of public opinion, the public must Pope's Letter Published The pope's letter follows: "Beloved sons and venerable brethren:

"Greeting and apostolic benediction: We have recently learned that preparations were being made at Washington for observing with due solemnity the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Catholic University and that the celebration, graced by your presence and by that of distinguished members of the laity would be quite in keeping with the singularly happy character of the occasion. That you, beloved sons and venerable brethren should above all, rejoice at the prosperity of the university is obvious to everyone who realizes that the beginning and the gratifying progress of this seat of learning are owing especially to your wise and timely care. And yet this joy of yours is not so peculiar to you but that we also may in some wise share it. For we love, nay, we dearly cherish the American people for their forcefulness and their vigor of youth and second to none in efficiency of action and thought; and earnestly desire that an ever widening path to the highest level of human achievement may open before them so we cannot but feel the deepest pleasure at everything that furthers their progress.

Light That Fails Not "Still in your tireless endeavors you unaimed not merely at enriching the mind with learning; what you chiefly sought was to imbue it with heavenly wisdom whose light can be put out" and "with which all good things shall come to your flocks. These proofs indeed of your pastoral solicitude must appeal to every fair minded observer as worthy of the highest commendation and deserving of the appreciation and support of your fellow citizens especially of our Catholic people and in particular to your clergy.

"In this connection we will not withhold our praise from the Knights of Columbus, who as you lately informed me, by their splendid contribution to the funds of the university have carried into effect their wisely conceived design of extending to (Continued on Last Page)

Villa Attacking Celaya From North, Angeles From East, and Zapata From South - Villa Worsted in Battle Last Week With Loss of 4000 - Quiet at Capital.

EL PASO, Tex., April 15.-Official reports that the Obregon army at Celaya was being surrounded by Villa and Zapata troops were confirmed today by private advices from the south. It was stated that while Villa again was attacking Celaya from the north, General Angeles had arrived from Monterey with 1500 men and a large amount of artillery to assault the Carranza position from the east, while General Banderas with from 8000 to 10,000 Zapata troops three days ago had reached San Juan del Rio, just south of Queretaro, Obregon's base.

Together with this information came details of the first battle of Celaya, in which the Villa army was defeated severely last week. The Carranza commander allowed the enemy to enter the outlying districts of the town and then showered the crowded streets with machine guns and shrapnel fire.
