

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

In addition to city deliveries of litchia water in jug lots to suit purchasers by parties who are making this matter a special order of business, the product of the sparkling springs is being exported to neighboring towns extensively.

Miss Minnie Ireland of Grants Pass has recently been visiting friends here. She is a candidate for postmaster of that town by virtue of being well qualified for the position, and in these days of equal suffrage men are expected to be gallant enough to divide these offices with the women.

There's music in the air. The cause will be the resurrection of the local band. A combination of circumstances will help along the blare of trumpets this summer.

With an alleged case of wife beating on Church street and the arrival of a resident all the way from California to investigate the actions of a vicious and unruly dog which is defendant in an alleged case of trespass on Bush street, there promises to be sensational developments.

The fund for the relief of the family of the late Game Warden Hubbard is practically complete. Aside from a $1000 policy in the Macabees, the family will profit by the appropriation made by the state of $3000, which has not as yet been definitely apportioned between the widow and two children.

interests of the Portland Telegram and visiting friends.

A corker confronts the Methodist church people here. They need a new carpet for the main audience room, and it has been a question not so much as to how to raise the money for contributions as coming in liberally, but as to what material to select.

Hope Rebekah lodge, of this city, has appointed Mesdames D. Peruzzi, William Myer and Ed Gowland to represent that organization at a state assembly to be held at Newport, May 18.

The girl hikers, the Misses Fay and June Shea and Kattie Beretz, arrived here on schedule time Thursday afternoon, on their walk from Portland to San Francisco.

Thursday's stock fluctuations in connection with the public market on the curb were confined to one sack of potatoes, which found no buyers up to the close of the curb exchange at 4 p. m.

The fund for the relief of the family of the late Game Warden Hubbard is practically complete.

TABLE ROCK TABLETS

Mr. Hartzel and family of south Medford spent Sunday at the Lydiard home.

John Vincent and wife of Jacksonville were calling on relatives here Sunday.

Professor H. G. Gilmore of this city, who not only enjoys visiting a great affair like the Panama exposition, but has the happy faculty of describing the impressions created by such a big show, has received from President Moore of the exposition company a letter conveying his thanks for the professor's kindly sentiments incorporated in an article entitled, "The Exposition as Seen Through Ashland Spectacles," recently appearing in local papers.

Strawberries in ear lots are being rushed through here daily on passenger train schedules for northern cities, principally Portland, Seattle and Spokane.

Darwin Phillips has finished his work on the Cline ranch and is at present helping Mr. Seabrook.

Glen Corawell and wife of Medford spent Sunday with the Mc Bride's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham Watkins of the Eagle Point district were visitors at the Nealon ranch last Saturday.

The Table Rock road was lined with buzz wagons last Sunday and many drivers were breaking the speed limit.

Mr. Wright of the Gates garage was talking Ford in these parts last Monday. He reports that several in the Beagle district are figuring on buying cars in the near future.

An agent of the Page fence men was through this district Monday gathering up fencing tools that some of our farmers had neglected to return.

The ball game Sunday between our boys and a team from Sams Valley was won by the local team, the Sams Valley boys proving to be easy money for them, as the score keeper was what shy of paper he did not get all of the runs.

Stewart Porter and family of Talent spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. T. May at the Table Rock orchard. This orchard formerly belonged to Mr. Porter's father.

Owing to the dry weather many in this district have begun to irrigate. This is something unusual for this time of the year.

Road Supervisor Vincent has a crew of men working on the new road between here and Sams Valley which will be a short cut to Gold Hill.

The Arrow Heads are rehearsing the play, "What Happened to Jones," which they intend to give at Eagle Point next Friday night.

A representative of the Mail Tribune was through here the first of the week doing business for that popular paper.

A birthday party was given Nellie Eldridge last Saturday evening at the Reese home by the little ones of the neighborhood. The party was in the form of a surprise, but the secret must have leaked out some way for we noticed that several of the grown ups arrived in time to help take care of the ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Collins was pleasantly surprised by a large crowd of her neighbors last Tuesday night, it being the thirty seventh anniversary of her birth. Many interesting games were played and the usual good time was had after which dainty refreshments were served and at a late hour the merry makers departed wishing Mrs. Collins many more happy birth days.

The Table Rock Improvement association held their annual meeting last Wednesday evening. The work of the past year was reviewed by President Carlton and showed that many things of great importance to the community had been accomplished by the association.

As each epoch of the work done was reviewed many of the members themselves were surprised that so much had been accomplished in so short a time.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: E. W. Carlton, president; M. B. Chase, vice president; R. E. Nealon, secretary-treasurer and R. C. Washburn and A. L. Vincent council members. The calling of the roll showed 59 members in good standing.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Glen Laidley.)

"The Nautical Knot, or the Belle of Barnstable," a musical comedy, will be presented by the high school chorus, at the Page theatre next Friday evening.

Dr. Lee of Albany college gave an excellent talk to the student body of the high school Friday morning.

Both the boys and girls chorus sang a number of selections from the "Nautical Knot," to the student body Friday morning.

In the near future the high school will hold their annual exhibit at the high school building.

Mr. Frees, a member of the U. S. engineer corps, gave a splendid talk Tuesday morning on the Yellowstone Park. Mr. Frees graduated from the old high school nineteen years ago.

The seniors will stage the "College Widow" at the Page May 25. There will be twenty-six students in the cast.

The tennis tournament will probably be held next week. The faculty announces that they will not participate.

The art class will probably make the posters for the "College Widow" and also for the coming track meet.
