The recital which was given at the M. E. church on Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid was a decided success from every point of view. The church auditorium was filled and the enthusiastic applause which greeted every number proved the audience to be pleased and appreciative. Mrs. Hawkins is a reader of great talent and versatility. She gives comedy, tragedy or dialect with equal success, and her impersonations of children are especially good. No one could hear her read "Naughty Nell" or "A Christmas Dinner" without being carried back for the time being to their childhood days. Every selection which she gave was greatly enjoyed by all who heard her. The musical numbers were so thoroughly appreciated that an encore was called for from each musician, and these were enjoyed as much as the first selections.

At the close of the program the ladies of the South Oakdale circle served a luncheon in the basement to those who had taken part. The members of the Aid wish to publicly thank each person who gave their services to make this occasion such a success. The program which was rendered is as follows:

- Piano solo, "Rhapsody," by Litz, Miss Veneta Hamilton; reading (a) "Naughty Nell," (b) "Orphan Anna," (c) "The Coquette" Mrs. J. K. Hawkins; vocal solo, "A Summer's Message," Mrs. W. M. Van Seyoc; reading (a), "Ruggie's Dinner Party," (b) "Laska," Mrs. J. K. Hawkins; vocal solo, "The Rose Morn," by Landon Ronald, Professor Forrest Edmeades; reading (a) "The Jiners," (b) "College Oil Cans," (c) "The Bootblack," Mrs. J. K. Hawkins; vocal solo, "Last Rose of Summer," from "Martha" by Flotow, Miss Theiss; reading (a) "The Jiners," (b) "An Old Woman's Complaint," (c) "The Confessional," Mrs. J. K. Hawkins.

A wedding which came as a surprise to their many friends took place recently in Redding, Cal., when Miss Blanche Wood and Herman Powell were united in marriage. The bride is well known here, having been employed in the city recorder's office the past three years. The groom has resided in Medford for a number of years and is employed in the city treasurer's office at the present time. He is a graduate of Cornell university, where he was a famous football player. Mr. Powell is erecting a residence near the reservoir, which will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks.

Miss Vivian Stewart entertained the "Serious Ten" at her home on the corner of Oakdale and Hamilton, Friday evening. The evening was spent in singing and roasting marshmallows, after which a two-course luncheon was served. A blue and white scheme was carried out in the luncheon with a centerpiece of rosebuds. Those present were: Misses Lorraine Stratton, Myrl Davis, Edna Demmer, Doris Lane, Edna Marquis, Della Whisenant, Redieth Jones, Myrtle Purkeypile, Margaret English, Miss Merrick and Miss Aikens were guests of the club.

Word was received in Medford this week of the marriage of Miss Edith Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Hamilton of Medford, and Robert S. MacCullough, son of Rev. and Mrs. R. W. MacCullough of Seattle. The marriage took place in Seattle, Monday, April 19. The bride is one of Medford's most prominent young ladies, having lived here the greater part of her life. The groom formerly lived here, his father having charge of the Baptist church in this place. The young couple will make their home in Seattle.

A jolly party of eleven gathered at the home of Mrs. O. H. Gilmore Tuesday evening. They were the guests of Miss Streets and Mrs. Gilmore. The guests were our teachers and the senior class, and despite the fact that there was but one gentleman to ten ladies, the evening was spent most enjoyably. Refreshments were served with the assistance of Mrs. Streets of Medford.—Rogue River Argus.

Colonel and Mrs. Sam Matthews of Fargo, N. D., arrived in Medford Friday and will visit Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Davis of Geneva avenue, and other friends for a few days.

A pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the Presbyterian church when Miss Edith Wilson and Thos. J. Gifford were united in marriage by Rev. W. F. Shields, in the presence of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed under an arch of lilacs and palms erected for the occasion and a color scheme of lavender and white was carried out all through the church decorations.

The bride was charming in a gown of crepe de chene with a veil of point de spirit, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Laura Richards was the maid of honor and wore a gown of white silk organdie. The Misses Elizabeth Richards, Marie Lofland, Hazel Putney and Esther Harrington were the bridesmaids and wore gowns of shadow lace over lavender, pink, blue and yellow with polk bonnets and bouquets to match.

Mrs. Marsh played Lohengrin's wedding march and the ushers were Jay Gore, Carter Brandon, Herman Harrison and George Baker.

Mr. Chester Putney attended the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride for the most intimate friends and immediate family.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wilson and is one of Medford's most popular young ladies. The groom is well known in Medford, having been employed as salesman in Behling's shoe store for the past few years. The young couple left Wednesday evening for a short wedding trip after which they will return to Medford where they will be at home to their many friends.

The Cradle Roll of the First Baptist Sunday school and their mothers, were entertained by the Golden Link Bible class at the home of Mrs. S. L. Bennett, 531 South Riverside avenue on Wednesday afternoon, April 21st from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. The following program was enjoyed by about sixty mothers, babies and friends:

- Recitation..... Carol Baldwin
- Recitation..... Velma Meadows
- Song..... Bernice Gressley
- Recitation..... Ruth Loder
- Recitation..... Orville Wilson
- Song..... Eileen Gressley
- Recitation..... Mary Bennett
- Song..... Frances Loder
- Address, "Mother's Work"..... Mrs. Mears
- Address, "Safety First," Mrs. Carlow
- Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. There have been eighty-one names entered on the cradle roll since November, 1913. Of this number fifteen have either been promoted to the primary department or have moved away without leaving an address.

A very pleasant birthday surprise was given Miss Ethel Anderson at her home on Front street Tuesday evening. Games and music formed the evening's entertainment and dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Edna Marquis, Ethel Anderson, Stella Anderson, Margaret English, Hazel Wiley, Julia Wiley, Doris Lane, Vera Roundtree; Messrs. George Maddox, Gerald Woolen, Ora Woolem, Walter Marquis, Miles Power, Ward Van Demark, Mark Maxwell and Charles Cass.

The monthly business meeting of the Rebekah lodge was held Tuesday evening when delegates were elected to the national assembly to be held in Newport in May. A short musical program followed the business session after which refreshments were served.

The monthly business meeting of the Greater Medford club will be held at the public library Monday afternoon, April 26th, at which time election of officers for the ensuing year will take place.

Mrs. C. I. Hutchinson entertained the Thursday Nuno Bridge Club at her home on South Orange street Thursday afternoon, Mrs. W. B. Bidle of Chicago substituted for one of the club members.

The ladies of the Catholic church gave a card party and tea Wednesday afternoon, which was well attended and very much enjoyed. Mrs. Alex. Duff and Mrs. O. J. Patton were hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whitaker and daughter, Ruth, of Buffalo, N. Y., are visiting at the home of H. D. Schuler en route to San Francisco, Los Angeles and middle west points.

The Alumni Tennis ball, which occurred Friday evening at the Natatorium, proved to be one of the most pleasing of all the alumni affairs which have been given this season. Although the night was far from being a "balmy summers eve," nearly everyone present was attired in tennis costume or other fitting summer apparel, bringing out the spirit of the occasion to the last degree.

The hall was tastefully decorated with tennis nets, racquets, posters and high school colors, the stage being banked with palms and potted plants, imparting a summery atmosphere to the affair. Even the programs were ornamental by a clever little tennis cut. No details were overlooked in an effort to make this, the first tennis ball of the season, a fitting introduction for more affairs of the same kind which will follow during the warm weather. Among those present were the following:

- Misses Mildred Antle, Jean Budge, Kathryn Swern, Ethel Effert, Marie Effert, Dorothy Thorne, Esther Warner, Mildred Wicks, Laura Gates, Alleene Allen, Marie Gates, Flora Welch, Babe Cochran, Ione Flynn, Margaret Davidson, Frances Kenney, Leah Walther, Miss Price, Leah Slover, Miss Marshall, Miss Davis, Jeanette Patterson, Vera Marrison, Miss Gage, Susan Deuel and Browning Purdin. Messrs. Horace Bromley, Ralph Pierce, Milton Schuhard, Myron Powell, Mr. Moore, Mr. Pratt, Bob Pelouze, Roland Hubbard, Jay Gore, Earl Hubbard, Charles Ray, Frank Ray, Carter Brandon, Fletcher Fish, James Vance, Ben Plymale, Earl Isaacs, Lloyd Williamson, Mr. Tucker, Lunsford Black, George Gates, Wesley Judy, Hob Deuel, Walter Brown, Lyle Purdin, Elmer Foss and Vergil Strang.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. S. L. Leonard, Cottage street, Thursday afternoon, Mrs. C. P. Buck presiding over the meeting. Song, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow"; bible lesson, I Cor. 13th chapter, Mrs. Rosa Ponting; prayer, Mrs. Mary E. Fielder; song, "Bringing in the Sheaves"; paper, "Forgetting Youth," Mrs. Rosa Ponting; reading, "The Drunkard's Boy," Mrs. Riley D. Henson; paper, "Children's Manners," by Mrs. E. J. White; vocal duet, Mrs. Riley D. Henson and Mrs. E. J. White; short talks on "Mothers," led by Mrs. C. P. Buck, followed by Mrs. Fielder, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. White, Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Henson, Mrs. E. J. White, Mrs. Craig.

The Parent-Teachers' circle of the Roosevelt school held an interesting meeting Friday afternoon. The subject, "Co-operation of Parents and Teachers," was discussed by Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Galliger. The Roosevelt circle, though small, has accomplished a great many things in the way of improvements to the building and grounds. It was suggested that one excellent way to co-operate is to take an active interest in the election of trustees. The circle went on record as favoring the employment by the city council of a police matron. Preceding the discussion, a scene from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was given by pupils from Mrs. Galliger's room.

Mrs. S. F. Potter, formerly of Medford, left Wednesday for Los Angeles, where she will join Mr. Potter, now engaged in the automobile business in that city.

Mrs. Robert L. Taylor, 839 Taylor avenue, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Morton Lindley, in Portland.

Mrs. August Stephenson will leave Saturday for San Francisco, where she will join her husband. From there they will go to Orland, Cal., where Mr. Stephenson is in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Brewer of Chicago are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Patterson at their residence on Ross Court.

Mrs. Chas. English was hostess to the Tuesday Luncheon Club at her home on Oakdale avenue Tuesday afternoon.

The Friday Bridge Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. H. Brown on Ross Lane Friday afternoon.

MEDFORD COLLEGE NOTES

The third monthly typewriting contest was held Friday, April 23, and the results surpassed the standard set by former contests. An unusually large number of students took part, and some new records were made in both speed and accuracy. Mr. Ben J. Sheldon, of the Medford Commercial club, gave a short talk complimenting the students upon the work they were doing, and saying that the business men of the city were giving their hearty support to the work of the school. He emphasized the part that service and business efficiency play in the world, and gave some good advice which was much appreciated by the students. At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Sheldon presented honor ribbons to the following: Elsie Olson, Ruth Manning, Freida Binns and Flossie Williams. Miss Williams won first place for accuracy, making only one error. Underwood proficiency certificates were awarded to Bernard Roberts and Walter Hess.

Another event held Friday which created much interest was the rapid calculation contest. Marcus Vertin won first honors by working correctly 20 problems in 10 minutes. Honor ribbons were also won by Freida Binns, Grace Taylor and Florence Dittsworth.

An old-fashioned spelling contest was also held Friday morning. Miss Taylor and Miss Manning choosing sides. Honors were about evenly divided between the two sides, although Miss Manning's side won with a majority of two points.

Ruth Manning and Elsie Olson, having completed the manual, are now taking dictation.

Victor Delaire recently entered school and is taking a course in English.

Bernard Roberts acted as reporter for this week.

Marian Van Gilder was entertained Friday evening at the home of Elsie Olson.

With Medford Trade Is Medford Made

Buying Jewelry by Mail

Isn't as common a habit as it used to be. That's because the people are beginning to find out that there is nothing for them in the practice. Nothing saved in money, nothing gained in quality, no advantage anywhere. But there are disadvantages. Uncertainty about what you are getting, tedious waits, inability to examine goods. And disappointments all around. Buy at home, here where jewelry values are equal to any anywhere.

THREE GIRL HIKERS AT THE STAR SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

DRAMA LEAGUE COMMENDS OPERA

The operatic production which was given by the Andrews Opera company last Monday evening well deserves to be ranked among the most finished and best. When we consider that we have been given the rare opportunity of hearing one of the greatest tenors now in this country, we cannot but feel grateful to those who were instrumental in bringing an artist of such rank as Giordano to Medford. And this, by the way, reminds us of many other musical treats Mr. and Mrs. Andrews have secured for us in the past, as well as recently. To them we owe the best of what has been cultural in music impulse in our community.

Mrs. Andrews' work not only shows the careful training and experience of an extended career on the stage, but also reveals a great histrionic ability, coupled with a charm and grace rarely found in prima donnas of today.

We are, indeed, fortunate to have in our midst the little Andrews colony, for to them we have looked, and never in vain, for the generous, public-spirited interest which gave us not only pleasure, but also the inspiration for the highest in musical art.

We, of the Drama League, therefore, offer our appreciation of work of this quality, and shall greet, with a promise of hearty welcome and effective support, any production which the Andrews family may present in the future.

GIRL HIKERS AT STAR THEATRE

For the next three days the Star theater has an exceptionally attractive program to offer the patrons of that popular little playhouse.

The big feature this afternoon and tonight will be the thirteenth episode of "The Clutching Hand," and the story is complete, and if you have not been fortunate enough to see any of the previous episodes you should see this and the one next week, which will close this series.

As an added attraction for today and tomorrow, the famous girl hikers have been secured. The young ladies put on a fifteen-minute sketch that has attracted the attention of some of the big vaudeville managers, and while this pleases them very much, the girls are not inclined to think seriously of the stage, as they are all well known socially in Portland, where life is more pleasant surrounded by their many friends.

For Sunday, the Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady's great play, "The Better Man," has been secured, with William Courtleigh, the eminent English actor, in the leading role.

On Monday the feature will be "The Man From Home," with Charles Riehmman, an American play in five parts.
