

ARCHANGEL SOON FREE OF ICE FOR RUSSIAN TRAFFIC

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.—The National Geographic society in today's statement concerning the geography of the European war, says: "Archangel, the oldest port of the Russian empire, in a few weeks more will awaken to vital war importance, for when the Arctic ice clears from the White sea Russia will be able to communicate with her allies through a free western port and to receive much needed war supplies and other manufactures over a route thousands of miles shorter than that via Vladivostok. Archangel is situated at the head of the Deina delta, as far north as the northernmost shores of Hudson bay. It is the largest and most important city in the world placed so near the Arctic circle.

Free Only Short Season

"The harbor of Archangel is optimistically said to be open from May to October. However, it is only entirely free from ice during the months of July and August, although in the average year, it is free for navigating purposes for a period some weeks longer. The city lies on the Deina river, 26 miles from the White sea. It is 740 miles northeast of St. Petersburg, and is connected with the distributing centers of the interior by railway and canal.

"Not only is Archangel interesting as a city in the extreme far north, but it is still more interesting as one of the most ancient cities built upon the fringe of eternal Arctic wilderness.

Founded By Norsemen

Before the year 900 the Norsemen came here and traded. They laid the foundations of the present city, a city that has grown slowly, but almost without halt, preserved in peace by its isolated position in the north. The city has achieved its present-day importance as an outlet for the products of the far northern and western parts of the Russian empire.

"During its short season for navigation Archangel is the busiest port in all the north. Between 800 and 1000 vessels call here through the brief season. The total value of imports and exports of Archangel amounts to about $5,000,000, and this year, under war conditions, should amount to much more. The chief articles of traffic in peace times are fish, skins, furs, timber, wax, iron, tallow, bristles and caviar."

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Gus Norman, foreman on the Laidlow orchard, was doing business at the Eagle Point State bank Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Ailie Klippel of Medford came out on the P. & E. Wednesday and took the E. P. Perist stage for Trail to spend a while on the farm with her mother.

Mrs. R. A. Petty came in from the Corbin orchard and met Mrs. Quackenbush and took her to her home on said orchard Wednesday.

H. L. Osmann and his sister, Miss Effie, came out from their home at the mouth of Elk creek on Wednesday, took dinner with us and returned the same day. They report the roads in a much better condition than they were a few weeks ago.

William Hillman of Lake Creek also took dinner Wednesday.

Robert R. Minter was doing business with our merchants Wednesday and so was F. M. Cortles and he reports that his father, H. D. Cortles and wife, were out at the Alivista orchard visiting him, and that his son Lloyd, and wife, were going to move on the place recently vacated by Mr. Hon Ring, and owned by our road supervisor, Ed Dutton.

Mike Hanley and L. D. Harris came in Wednesday evening late for supper, but succeeded in getting all they could eat before leaving.

Thursday morning your E. P. correspondent made a hurried trip to Medford on the P. & E. and he wanted to return on the return trip. Had only thirty minutes to attend to business so had no time to call at the Mail Tribune office. On the return trip I met Mrs. Hattie Chambers and Mrs. Mary A. Campbell, both of Derby on their way home from Medford.

Thursday afternoon Benjamin Fredenborg came out to have Dr. Holt treat him for Job's pets and the next morning the doctor opened seven boils for him on one leg. He has been afflicted for the last two months but will likely improve. He is at the Sunnyside.

I see that the large hand painted bills are out for a grand ball Saturday night, May 1st, and that refreshments will be served at the Eagle hotel.

Guss Nichols and wife took the evening train for Medford Thursday.

George von der Hellen and wife motored to Medford last Wednesday to attend the theater.

I was down to the P. & E. depot Thursday looking for something to tell the readers of the Mail Tribune and while there met Mr. Hazelrigg, he was taking out Mr. John Rader's cream cans and that caused me to begin to look around and try to see what was doing in that line of business and found that there were still remaining twenty six empty cans to be delivered and that brings up the question, why can't we have a creamery here and save the expense of sending the cream off to some other place, and I know that some of it goes to the Willamette valley, and then when we want butter all that we have to do is to pay a grocery drummer from Portland to come out here and sell it to our merchants and then we pay the freight on it from Portland to Medford and then from Medford to Eagle Point and then we pay our local merchants for handling it and interest on the investment, etc., and then complain of the high cost of living.

F. M. Stewart and wife took passage on the P. & E. for the Edsall station Thursday. They were going up to visit Mrs. S's son, Wm. Perry for a few days. Mr. S. thought that the change might help him.

Norman McQuaid had a regular surprise birthday party Wednesday night. He is a member of the town council and was at the meeting of the council, not mistrusting that there would be any tricks played on him, but when he arrived at his home he found Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nichols, and daughter Miss Thelma, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ashpole, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Newport and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bacon. Mr. McQuaid's birthday was on Thursday but his friends thought that he would of course be at the lodge of Odd Fellows so they took time by the forelock and had the surprise party before hand. My reporter says that they had a very pleasant time and all hands wished Norman many returns of such occasions.

Mrs. W. A. Marbin of Gold Hill is here visiting her cousin, Mrs. Jacob Jones.

Mrs. George Weeks of Elk Creek (Trail) brought out a nice lot of mohair for shipment a few days ago.

R. E. McNeal and O. C. King of Medford were soliciting among our merchants Friday and while here called on Mrs. Howlett for dinner. John Holtz, a rancher was here also for dinner.

Miss Lizzy Biebersteadt rode into town Friday morning to have her horse shod. She is one of the enterprising ladies that has turned her attention to the cattle business and rides the range to look after them, and I heard one of our old stock men remark that she knew more of the marks and brands on the range than most any of the men who ride.

Sam Swenning, one of the old forest rangers, who has recently returned from Alaska, and William von der Hellen called for supper Thursday.

Well here I am on my twelfth page and still have to tell of our trip up to the rock crusher, about the work that is being done on the roads, about F. Pelouse's fine farm, etc., but will have to keep that over for the next time in order to keep "Our George" in a good humor.
