

HILL NO. 60 IS STILL HELD BY FRENCH FORCES

PARIS, May 6.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading:

"To the north of Ypres we repulsed with fairly good success a night attack made by the Germans from Steenstraete.

"To the south of Ypres the Germans yesterday at a point near Zwartalen attacked the trenches of Hill No. 60 occupied last month by British troops. Their very violent onslaught, during the course of which they again made use of asphyxiating gases, made them victorious in the beginning of the position, but our allies subsequently delivered a counter attack and recaptured a portion of the trenches previously lost.

"In the forest of Ailly the counter attack delivered by us toward the end of the day made slight progress and we captured a position where the Germans had succeeded in gaining a footing in the morning. During the night the Germans delivered a counter attack against our position at Mamelon to the east of Sillawakerwasen, the summit of which they recaptured. All the remainder of our gain in the direction of the River Fecht has been consolidated and maintained."

WAR RESOLVES INTO CONTEST OF ATTRITION

LONDON, May 5.—"German confidence is still unshaken, and that he still is able to strike in some strength where he sees the chance or where local advantage can be secured.

"The true idea of the meaning of the operations of the allies can be gained only by bearing in mind that it is their primary object to bring about the exhaustion of the enemy's resources in men," says an official British report issued tonight.

"The extent of the ground covered by either side, as measured on the map, is usually a minor matter, although a position of certain points or of areas may, for tactical reasons, be of considerable military importance. Progress, therefore, as a rule, may be judged by the drain caused to the enemy's strength and not by the extent of ground won or lost.

"In the form now assumed by this struggle—a war of attrition—the Germans are bound ultimately to lose and it is the consciousness of this fact that inspires their present policy. This is to achieve as early as possible some success of sufficient magnitude to influence the neutrals, to discourage the allies, to make them weary of the struggle, and to induce the belief among people ignorant of war that nothing has been gained by the past efforts of the allies because the Germans have not yet been driven back. It is being undertaken with a political rather than a strategical object.

LAFE YOUNG HELD AS AUSTRIAN SPY

VIENNA, May 6, via London, 12:35 p. m.—Former United States Senator Lafayette Young of Des Moines, Ia., accompanied by a former American deputy consul at Bern, Switzerland, was arrested at Innsbruck, Austria, yesterday on a suspicion of espionage directed against Mr. Young's compatriot.

Mr. Young was promptly released with apologies after a few hours' detention in his hotel, but his communication was held in custody in the hotel until today, before he was able to satisfy the authorities, who apparently had been warned to look for a man of the same name.

Mr. Young arrived in Vienna this morning. Speaking of the incident, he said he saw no reason for complaint. He left later in the day for Berlin.

BETHELEM STEEL ADDS 5 POINTS

NEW YORK, May 6.—Partial recoveries from yesterday's late selling movement were recorded during the day's early trading on the stock exchange, although the movement as a whole was decidedly irregular. Pressed Steel Car rose two points, and Westinghouse, Crucible Steel and Amalgamated Copper a point each. Bethlehem Steel added five points to its material rise of the preceding session. Leaders like U. S. Steel, Union Pacific and Great Northern opened with fractional gains, but these were soon lost as a result of recurrent weakness in leading. The general list receded moderately after initial offerings had been absorbed.

BASEBALL PEACE IS NOT IN SIGHT YET

NEW YORK, May 6.—Hopes that the statement by President Johnson of the American league in Boston on Tuesday, favoring withdrawal of the legal suits between the Federal league and organized baseball presaged peace were diminished today by a further statement from Johnson.

No secret pact, regardless of the many conflicting reports, has been signed between the American league and the Federal league, the American league president was quoted as saying: "The American league has no understanding of any kind with President Gilmore or his organization. There will be no peace as far as I am concerned.

"I wish to say that neither the American nor the National league has made a single proposition to the Federals that would restore peace in baseball."

CROWDS SEE "THE PIT" AT PAGE THEATER

A very appreciative audience at the Page last night enjoyed the splendid production "The Pit." It is the story of a giant corner in wheat and features two of the best known stars on the stage today. It is considered the greatest stage triumph of Wilton Lackaye, who is supported by the artist Gail Kane, famous as the adventuress in "Seven Keys to Baldpate" who is now starring in Frohman's new play "The Hypocrite." The wheat pit scene at the Chicago Board of Trade is a striking feature of the play and contains over 500 people, probably the largest number ever shown in a motion picture interior scene.
