Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 18, 1809, contains an affeld on "The Treaforest of Pulmonary Tuberculods, Hased on the Assumption That the Discrete Cause of the Discase is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John F. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognised as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation."

Among inorganic substances lime saits appear to be of special physiological importance "Individual to the cells can appropriate them for food."

for food."

Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Eckman's Alterative in cases of pulmenary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic threat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily appropriated by the cells.

Toubtiess this has had much to do with the results obtained in many cases of these affections, which appear to have yielded to Eckman's Alterative.
