

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

J. B. Ware and C. M. Summers of this city are credited with having won a ticket each in the Buffalo Bill Himerick contest which seems to have created such a furore in Portland early in the week.

Mrs. Robert Dunlap, who died last Saturday, was buried on Sunday from Stock's undertaking rooms, interment being in Ashland cemetery.

Ed Barrett, brakeman on the Shasta limited between here and Red Bluff, and who lives on Mechanic street, reports pyrotechnical effects on Mt. Lassen fully in keeping with reports in the papers.

Once upon a time a cabal here were seized with the idea that the Bishop Scott School for Boys, located at Portland, was anxious to remove to Ashland and take over the normal property and install an educational institution which would bring hundreds of youths and many plunks to this vicinity.

Although this valley is capable of raising everything in abundance, the importation of potatoes goes steadily forward. Within the last few weeks several carloads have been shipped from states as far distant as Montana and Wisconsin.

Senator George Chamberlain passed through Monday, northbound, but at too early an hour to be met with the band and a bouquet.

Hayden Butterfield, living here, and connected with the Hoffman auto line which conducts a service between Montague and Yreka, Siskiyou county, reports that a five passenger Reo had been installed on a daily schedule between Yreka and Dunsmuir, taking in Edgewood, Gazelle, Weed, Sisson and Shasta Springs on the circuit.

In the assignment of teachers in the public schools of Portland for the ensuing year, Miss Myrtle Muir, an instructor here for some time past, is classified in the third grade, and her residence in Portland is given as 1415 East Stark street.

Robert D. Hall, nephew of A. M. Beaver, is revisiting relatives here accompanied by his wife. He is a missionary at large among the Indians, under auspices of the Y. M. C. A., with headquarters in New York City.

Miss Stella Owens left recently for a trip to the exposition which will be extended to Winnemucca, Nevada, for a visit with relatives.

Gilbert Grabiel and wife, lifelong friends of the Beaver families, are visiting here from Rushsylvania, Ohio, in connection with a trip to the Pacific coast, which will include several states.

C. M. McAllister, special representative of the Union Stockyards of Portland, was in the city Tuesday, while on a tour investigating livestock conditions throughout Oregon and California territory.

Chas. H. Willson, commercial traveler of the Portland wholesale grocery house of Wadhams & Kerr, and a resident of this city, has recently been granted a patent for a device in the way of a nut-lock.

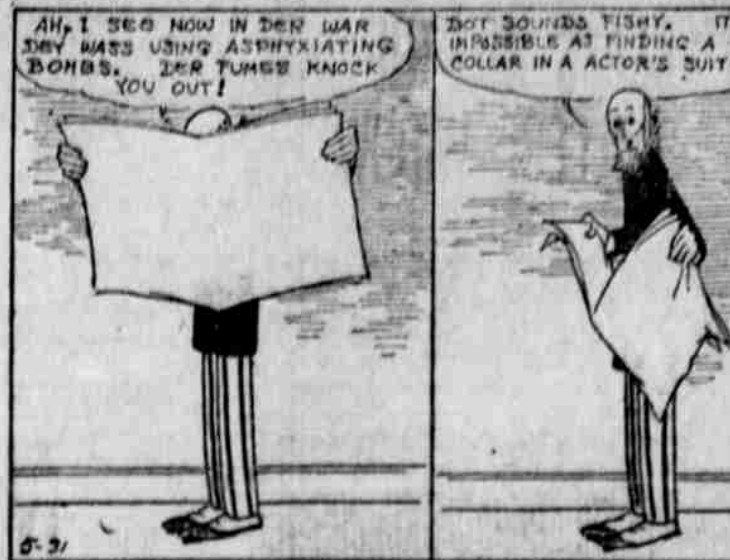

K. C. Myers and wife, who are hiking the trail from California to Washington on horseback, have been camped in this vicinity for several days past, resting up after a strenuous trip to this terminal from Red Bluff.

Mrs. J. W. Elden and Miss Rose Jones will entertain the Parent-Teachers' club at their orchard home one week earlier than usual, the date being Friday, May 28, 1915, instead of June 5.

Ralph Planburg of Superior, Nebraska, left Monday for San Francisco, after visiting for two weeks with his uncle, Mr. John Slaty.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Alvarson of Grants Pass spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Parker. They attended the graduating exercises in which Miss Helen Parker was valedictorian.

OSCAR AND ADOLPH

manager of the Union Central Life insurance company of Portland.

With the arrival of Donald McLaren, landscape artist, whose handiwork made San Francisco's Golden Gate park famous, the work of beautifying Ashland's park surroundings will be comprehensively mapped out under the auspices of the springs' commission.
