

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The Memorial Day observance was universal, with a big gathering at the Chautauqua grounds. Martial music was in the air, and the parade of military, civic and fraternal organizations was imposing. Formal exercises were carried out as per schedule and were eminently patriotic. Bands were closed all day; postoffice was open an hour; business houses opened and closed intermittently, while the lid was removed from Commercial club headquarters at 8 a. m. and will remain off until 12 midnight, and then some.

Benton Howers is on the sick list, his severe ailment being an attack of bronchitis with gripe complications.

Complimentary to the Misses Beulah Caldwell and Ethelyn Hurley, prospective June brides, Miss Bertha Elinson, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Beryl Kramer, entertained in their honor Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock luncheon at the Elinson home. The rooms were lovely with spring blossoms. Covers were laid at the attractive table for an even dozen, those in addition to the guests of honor being the Misses Gertrude Engle, Jean Creekbaum, Madge Eubanks, Ada and Effie Alverson, Sylvia Brown, Gussie Undergraff and Pearl Walshire, all intimate girl chums of the brides-to-be, who have been popular teachers in the local schools. Positions at the table were indicated by dainty and distinctive bags of rice, within which passies were held in leash, and when these sacks were opened it needed no formal announcement of the approaching wedding ceremonies to herald the fact that "the cat was out of the bag." Incident to the kodaking of the jolly party, Cupid was observed hurling darts also in the direction of Misses Eubanks and Undergraff.

Charley Day, former telegraph operator here, has just been appointed first wire chief in the Southern Pacific general office at San Francisco.

The final gathering of the school year was the alumni reunion at Moose hall last Friday evening. About 70 were in attendance, mostly local residents, there being many vacant chairs conspicuously filled by the old-time grads from remote places. Nevertheless the reunion was a very pleasant one, hallowed by old associations and over their coffee cups those present pledged renewed loyalty to the Ashland high school spirit of the past, present and future.

Fulton Fleetwood of Baker, was here on Saturday visiting his nephew Festus Hutto.

Mrs. Mary A. Barelay, mother of Mrs. Ella Mills, died recently in the vicinity of Oakland, Cal. Her remains were brought here Saturday. Funeral was Sunday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Mills, on the Boulevard. Interment was in Ashland cemetery.

Thus far nearly 25,000 has been expended by the springs commission in creating park expansion. The commission assumes $10,000 of this expenditure passing the buck on to the city council for the balance over a period of deferred payments. The wish has been father to the thought that parties benefiting by the road tax refund might see fit to play the generous part of covering such refund into the springs development treasury. Such refund involves $10,000.

The women's hiking club on a recent tramp invaded a big strawberry patch on the eastern outskirts of town, the owner's name being suppressed on account of the position and standing of the trespassers. Mrs. Maure Roche qualified as an active member on this occasion. Rumor has it that the "Grizzlies" of Medford invaded this territory early Sunday morning, bent on a hike to the summit of Grizzly peak, thoroughly equipped as to commissary supplies and Red Cross appliances. The distance from town to the summit via the Oak street crossing over Bear creek is about seven miles. Ordinarily at this time of year considerable snow and slush is encountered near Grizzly's crest.

Mining operations are receiving an impetus hereabouts this spring. Eph Hackett has recently returned from the Hungry creek section, where a group of promising claims are being developed on the N. E. by a syndicate of Ashland men. George Pellett and Gerard Graves are also developing a quartz proposition on their fifteen acres nearer home, in the neighborhood of the brickyard, east of town.

Miss Nellie Anderson, formerly residing here, will graduate from the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at Los Angeles, early in June.

Miss Sadie Ward of Richland Center, Wis., left for the north last week after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. August Schermer.

Governor James Fielder of New Jersey and party passed through Saturday afternoon northbound. He was received by a "deputation" of roses, strawberries and lithia fizz. Senator and former Governor Cummings of Iowa seems to have been lost somewhere in the shuffle on his way home from Honolulu. He is credited with having aspirations for the presidency, a longing which will prove to be a vain one. When "the governor of North Carolina meets the governor of South Carolina," the event will probably take place at Medford.

P. J. Amer of Mapleton, Kan., cousin of Charley Van Huskirk and Gene Walrad, is a visitor here, comparing conditions in the Rogue River valley with those prevailing in the San Joaquin state.

Bruce Evans of the evangelistic circuit, plays a return engagement here beginning May 30.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner, having for their guests Mr. and Mrs. Mang of Huron, S. D., and Mr. and Mrs. Page of Galesburg, Ill., motored to Medford and Ray Gold Saturday, establishing the capacity of a five-passenger car to accommodate seven people without infringing on interstate traffic schedules.

Frank Russell of the local electric plant, is moving into the Tozer tenement on Laurel street.

New York wholesale grocers invaded this terminal on Sunday while Baptist convention delegates and Raymond & Whitecomb excursionists passed through in big numbers on Memorial day.

J. W. McCoy, cashier of the First National bank, now a visitor at the exposition, and at the same time attending a convention of bankers in San Francisco, has been elected a member of the executive council representing Oregon banking institutions.

Morris J. Duryea, newly appointed publicity manager for the local Commercial club, arrived from Eugene on Sunday and will be on the job here on June 1. He served in a similar capacity at Eugene for over three years and placed that town securely on the map through the influence of its "Radiators," a notable organization of boosters. It was due to his suggestion that during the floral festival season a rose found its way into the possession of every passenger on the Shasta limited passing through Eugene.

"Try not the pass," the old man said. In spite of this admonition, Saturday afternoon, Blaine Klum of Medford and Secretary Norris of the local Commercial club, tried to reach Siskiyou summit in order to select a location for a monster sign which will set forth Ashland's advantages. Three miles from the summit their car came to an absolute stop on account of tough roads, and they didn't get as far as "the rear line of trenches," to use a war expression. They will again attempt the trip at a more convenient season.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Lemon Charley and I. L. Bradshaw were in our town last Tuesday and while here called at the Sunnyside for dinner; also R. A. Petty, Charles Mason and Carl Von der Hellen of Wellen took dinner with us.

On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols took the P. & E. train for Medford to be gone several days, and some of the far-seeing ones predict that when they return they will come in their own "Ford."

The same day Miss Hazel McClelland and Miss Louise Blass started for San Francisco to visit the fair.

Notices have been posted that the general stores will close hereafter on Sunday so that persons desiring anything in that line will supply themselves on Saturday.

Edgar Southland of Lakeview has been here for some days visiting J. L. Robinson. They were old neighbors in Oklahoma and Mr. Robinson has returned with Mr. Southland to Lakeview to look over the country with a view to locating there.

Charles Veatch and W. E. Hammett have each bought a quantity of wire fencing of the Von der Hellen Hardware company of Eagle Point.

Mrs. Hazel Berra came in from Medford Tuesday to visit her mother, Mrs. Leabo and family.

Charles Bacon, the conductor on the Pacific & Eastern railroad who went to Newport as a delegate to the I. O. O. F. convention, returned Tuesday to his post.

Isiah P. Darson, the handy man, of Medford, was out Tuesday canvassing our town for work and spent the night with us, and Wednesday morning repaired the large clock that has been standing silent as death since the post office was moved and now those visiting the post office can readjust their time pieces.

W. Hart Hamilton, who owns and cultivates a large farm just outside of Eagle Point but has his home in San Jose, California, is here now and expects to have his family here in a short time to spend the summer. He has secured the house recently occupied by Mrs. Lottie Van Hoy for the summer.

Mike Sidley, Sr., and his son, Mike, came in Wednesday with a fine lot of wood that they sold to George Brown & Sons, and Mr. S. Sr., went on to Medford but young Mike came to the Sunnyside for dinner. The same day there were two men and a woman called for dinner but they were so reticent that I could find out but very little about them. They had been up in the neighborhood of Butte Falls for about a month and were from Portland. They had been camping out and their clothes would indicate that they had been in the timber crusing business as the men's duck pants were worn off several inches. They appeared to be persons of more than ordinary intelligence and refinement, and we concluded that they were rather out in the interest of a railroad of timber company. Jud Edsall, a special supply man for the P. & E. who lives with us, saw them frequently about Butte Falls and says that they each, all three, carried a heavy knapsack as though they were living a roving life, but they were the most close-mouthed people I have met for a long time. The lady told me they were from Portland, but they have no use for newspaper reporters.

Miss Lenore Walker, one of our high school girls who graduated in the Medford high school, has just past her fifteenth birthday and passed with the highest honors, while the average age for the girls in the high school to graduate in Oregon is eighteen years, and in the United States, seventeen. Miss Walker is a daughter of Mrs. E. S. Wolfers, whose husband owns the celebrated fruit farm above our town.

G. F. Hall of Prospect and Miss Inez Willets of Persist, and Charley Mason of Lake Creek spent Thursday night with us. Miss Willets has been attending the normal at Monmouth and was called home on account of the sickness of her mother, and I am glad to say that she is convalescing.

Henry Meyer of Lake Creek went to Medford last week and bought a Ford car and last Friday Mrs. Meyer and her children; with her son Otto as chauffeur, came out and motored to Medford, while Herman Meyer, Jr., and wife came out and met his father Herman Meyer, Sr., and his uncle Henry here, they had motored out from Medford and they all came around to the Sunnyside for dinner.

J. F. Ayres and wife were in town Friday and when I met him the first thing he told me was that he was mad and on enquiring the cause said that your correspondent who writes "Along Rogue River" said that he had an auto, and he was mad because it was not so. So after this we scribbled must know who has autos if we want to keep people in good humor, but I think he will get himself a Ford and then will be good natured.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carles May 27 a nine and a half pound boy, and Grandpa and Grandma Carles are just as proud as they can be.

GOLD HILL NUGGETS

The third annual commencement exercises of the Gold Hill high school will be held in the open house Tuesday evening, June 1, at 7:15 o'clock. The class consists of seven pupils, as follows: Vera Evelyn Davidson, Mary Truax, Agnes Rosalyn Dietrich,

Elsie Louise Miller, John Clinton Walker, Benjamin Raymond and George Ernest Lyman. They have adopted as their motto, "Love, labor and laugh." The class flower is the pink La France rose and their colors, pink and green. The commencement program is as follows:

Music, orchestra; invocation, Rev. C. E. Wharton; music, orchestra; oration, "Love, Labor and Laugh," Agnes Dietrich; oration, "Duty and Debt," Clinton Walker; flute solo, Linfield Hunt; class poem, Mary Truax; vocal solo, Miss Claire Tucker; address, Superintendent J. A. Churchhill; music, orchestra; presentation of diplomas; benediction.

But three changes will be made in the entire local school faculty. Professor Burt A. Adams, superintendent, tendered his resignation a couple of weeks ago and has accepted the superintendency of the schools of Lakeview Or. The position vacated by Mr. Adams will be filled by G. W. Milam of Ashland, who has been a principal in the schools of that place for several years and comes well recommended. Professor B. G. Harding has resigned and will have charge of the schools at Rogue River. Pupils and parents, as well as the remaining teachers, will regret very much the departure of these people, but will wish them a continuance of their success at their new charges. Also, Mrs. H. L. White, who has been a very efficient and successful primary teacher, has been forced to quit, due to ill health.

The boys of Gold Hill now boast of a gymnasium, due to the efforts of members of the Greater Gold Hill club. The room was opened Tuesday evening in the primary school building to a crowd of eager boys. Considerable apparatus has already been donated, some has been constructed by the boys and more is promised. A partial list of the material on hand includes a horizontal bar, flying rings and trapeze, climbing rope and two pairs of boxing gloves. The club, through the suggestion of H. D. Reed, realized the need of a place for the boys to spend the evenings and decided to have a committee take the matter up. C. N. Shaver and J. W. Hicks, together with Mr. Reed, were the men who most ardently brought about the above result.
