

"ON TO TRIEST" IS BATTLE CRY OF INVADING ITALIANS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Paralleling the mighty drive from west to east that the Germans are making in Galicia, hundreds of thousands of fresh, well-equipped Italian troops are pressing a rapid invasion against vital points in Austria's Mediterranean empire, and the early great battles in this new war theater will find the Italians widely spread over the first of the eastland provinces, well on their way toward Triest, a port more valuable to Austria than is New York to the United States. A bulletin dealing with the Austrian crownland Goerz and Gradisca, prepared by the National Geographic society, says of this region:

Boundary of Mountains. Through Goerz and Gradisca runs the valley that forms the main artery of traffic of the northwestern Austrian eastlands with the interior. From the Austrian province of Carinthia, in the north, Goerz and Gradisca is bordered by Italy to the Gulf of Triest. In the northern and central parts this boundary is very mountainous, a way almost impassable for armies and their supply trains, a way of sharply developed ravines and gullies, of precipices and bare rocky summits, and a way broken through by but a few wild, indifferent passes. In the south, is a coastal plain which allows of far easier access into Austria. It is in this plain that the Italian troops captured the first Austrian towns.

Camiola, Istria and the Triestine territory bound the province on the east and south, excepting its twenty-five miles of coast along the northern shore of the Gulf of Triest. The crownland has an area of 1125 square miles, all the southern part of which is exceedingly fertile and abundant in wine grapes and in fancy fruits. Silk production is also one of the rich industries of the plain. Vineyards are everywhere, and the wines rival any of those produced in the dual monarchy. The climate of the valley, which almost bisects the crownland, is one of the mildest, languorous and delightful along the Mediterranean, famed for its many lovely northern stretches where the softest weather reigns.

Inhabitants Mixed. The Goerz and Gradisca crownland is not inhabited principally by Italians. More than two-thirds, about 68 per cent, of the people are Slovenes, and the remainder are Italians, with an intermingling of some 2400 Germans. The population, according to most recent statistics, is 235,000 people. The population is mainly an agricultural one, being distributed through the provinces in small villages. Goerz, the capital of the crownland and its largest city, only has a population of 26,000. Other principal towns are Cormons, Monfalcone, Kirchheim, Gradisca and counts 6000 citizens.

The crownland has no part of any consequence, its short coast line lacking any good harbor site. Grado, its first port, is accessible to the larger kind of coasting vessels. This place has been reported as captured by the Italians. In general, the coast is fringed with alluvial deposits and drifting sand bars. In the time of the Roman world, Aquilina, here, was a noted seaport, but this city has dwindled now to the size of a small village.

APPLEGATE

Miss Bertha Catkins and Miss Jean Creechpaw of Ashland in company with a violinist will appear at the Socialist hall June 5 in an entirely new program consisting of Irish songs, violin solos, humorous and dramatic readings, with chorus and costumes. The entertainment is to be given under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association. A charge of 15 and 25 cents will be made. Following the program there will be a dance with special music. Miss Catkins and Miss Creechpaw are well and favorably known throughout Southern Oregon, having given entertainment during the past winter in most of the towns and cities. It will be remembered that Miss Catkins appeared on the program at the creamery picnic and school field meet at Applegate May 29, where she won special distinction as a reader.

Mr. and Mrs. Hornbuckle and Mrs. G. C. Watson of Crescent City, Cal., were visiting the Wheelers last week. Mrs. Watson is Mrs. Wheeler's aunt. Beatrice O'Brien and Thelma McDaniel visited Mrs. Throckmorton of Ruch Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Grubb spent Sunday afternoon at Wrights. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wheeler expect to make a business trip to Crescent

City in their car as soon as school is out.

Community graduation exercises for the schools of this section of the Applegate valley will be held at Ruch Monday night, June 7. The affair is to be under the direction of Supervisor A. R. Chase and is estimated that nearly a score of the eighth grade pupils will receive diplomas at that time as a result of the May examination.

The principal features of the program will be music and an address by Prof. F. L. Griffin of the Oregon Agricultural College.

Mrs. Ella Cook returned to her home in Jacksonville after spending several weeks visiting at the home of W. H. McDaniel.

Lester Layton and family with Mrs. Rouffy motored to Woodville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kubli drove to Jacksonville Tuesday.

Fremont Jordan spent Monday with Paul Wright.

On Friday, June 4, the pupils in this school, together with a number from the community, are going up Thompson creek for an old-fashioned picnic, as Friday is the last day of school.

Ben Herriott is visiting his brothers Thomas, John and George Herriott.

Beatrice McKee left here for her home on Rogue River. She attended high school here for two years. Her aunt, Mrs. Herriott, and all the rest regretted to see her go.

A. L. Bates, for the past six years manager of the Valley Pride Creamery, has resigned his position. Mr. Bates has no special plans for the immediate future any more than to take a much needed rest and vacation. W. E. Werth, who is to succeed Mr. Bates, arrived here several weeks ago and has been familiarizing himself with the duties of the new position. Mr. Werth should be well qualified for the position, as he is a graduate of the Wisconsin Dairy school and has had twelve years actual experience in creamery work, the last four years of which he spent on this coast, coming here from the Corvallis creamery.

Mrs. Werth and baby arrived Saturday. Mr. Bates' resignation takes effect June 1st and the new-comers took charge at that time.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Samuel Pollard, a brother of John Pollard, who bought the John Smith home-stand on Reese creek, has traded a farm in Oklahoma for a farm in Sams Valley, I understand.

D. W. Daniels and Thomas Sharger of Lake Creek were in town Saturday.

E. D. Reaney and J. L. Kershaw of Climax have shipped in a quantity of wire fencing.

F. J. Ayres and wife, who own and operate a fine farm on the Derby road, were in town Saturday, and while here bought of Roy Ashpole a McCormack mower.

Daniel Fowler, who lives on the divide between Rogue river and the Umpqua, brought in a lot of mohair that he sheared from 100 goats that netted him $1.12 per head. He sold his wool to George Brown & Sons.

E. P. Melvey of Seattle, Wash., representing the Crescent Manufacturing company, was with us last Saturday. It was his first visit to this section of the country, and he seemed to be very favorably impressed with our surroundings—in fact, he has done as almost everyone does who comes here—falls in love with our lovely valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palouze and his son Robb came out on the P. & E. last Saturday, and so did Rube Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Palouze had been to Medford to attend the graduating exercises of the high school, where their son Robb was one of the graduates. Robb expects to enter either the Corvallis college or the University at Eugene this fall.

Mrs. H. C. Backer drove in from the farm just above Brownsboro last Saturday with a lot of hens for our railroad agent, F. T. Newport, and told me that she expected to take home with her a hundred of the White Leghorn breed.

Mrs. Thomas Farlow and family motored out from her home Saturday to meet her husband, who came out from Jacksonville, where he had been serving as a jurymen. Ed Foster also came out at the same time, took supper with us and went on up home the same night.

L. B. Castor of Derby was with us Saturday.

J. V. McIntyre and wife and F. L. Heath and wife motored to Medford Saturday afternoon.

The foregoing articles were what I had to leave out of my last article on account of its length.

Herbert Carlton and Miss Kotta Robbins of Wellen came in to the Sunnyside Saturday night about 8 o'clock and called for supper, and after eating a good hearty meal spent an hour or so hearing our phonographs. They came Sunday night at about the same time, but unfortunately for them we had had the following named persons here for dinner, or supper, and Mrs. Howlett had gone out at that time, and I was alone, so I declined to try to get them a square meal at that late hour. Among the guests were Rob Harnish, Clarence Robinson, Jay Spicer, Ed Coy, Henry Trusty, Guy Bishop, George Wamsley, Carl Ringer, Carl von der Hellen, Glen Haley, John Singleton, R. A. Petty, Mrs. J. S. Quakenbush and son, William Mervin Quakenbush, and his aunt, Miss Dorris Arens, Merritt Dews, Floyd Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. George von der Hellen and son Donald, William von der Hellen, wife and son Hugo, Fred Collins, Charley Abbott, George B. Henselman, Charles Bacon, wife and two sons, Louis Miteber, Harry Baker, Herman Meyer, Jr., and wife, John R. Tyrrell, Heath Childreth, George Lewis, Joe Moorman, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clements, Robb Palouze and Percy Haley. After all of that crowd had been fed, besides our regular boarders and myself, and you know that the Table Rock correspondent thinks that I am a great eater, does the reader wonder that I balked at trying to get Herbert C. and his friends their supper at that late hour.

Well, the occasion of such a crowd being here was that it had been announced that there would be two games of baseball played here Sunday afternoon, one between the Eagle Point scrubs, the younger boys, and the Antelope small team, and one between the Jacksonville team and the Eagle Point team—the invincibles. Well, the result was in the first play the game stood 6 to 7 in favor of the Antelope team, a hard-fought game. And—well, my hand trembles so that I can hardly write—well, the invincibles came out second best, the game standing 6 to 14 in favor of the Jacksonville team. Since the Medford Tigers came out and scared our boys so badly they have lost their grip.

There was quite a number of our citizens went to Medford and Central Point on Saturday, Sunday and Monday to attend the memorial exercises. Also quite a number went to the Antelope cemetery on Monday and decorated the graves of loved ones who have gone on before.

The citizens of Battle creek valley above and at Brownsboro met in a beautiful grove just above Brownsboro and had memorial exercises and a picnic dinner. D. W. H. Nading delivered the address.

J. L. Kershaw of Climax had two fine buck goats brought in this (Tuesday) morning on the train.

John Allen of Derby brought in two sacks of wool this morning and sold to George Brown and Sons.

Since my last report David Cingcude and F. L. Heath have renewed their subscriptions to this Mail Tribune.
