

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Harold Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Simpson, and a high school graduate of the present year, has entered the employ of the First National and will learn the banking business from the ground floor up. Recently the cashier of the institution, J. W. McCoy made a requisition upon G. A. Briscoe, superintendent of the city schools, for a young man who, in the superintendent's opinion, would fill the bill. Mr. Briscoe submitted three names for the bank's consideration, the choice falling upon Harold.

George Cyster, who for some time past has been living in the vicinity of Aberdeen, Wash., returned to Ashland with his family early in the week and will remain here indefinitely with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Cyster.

At the close of business June 5, there remained in the park and improvement fund of the mineral springs development project a balance of $41,513.54 out of an original appropriation of $75,000. Among recent heavy expenses have been $5000 set aside for publicity purposes and $3000 placed in a trust fund to be used exclusively for erecting a suitable memorial to the donors of a generous tract toward the park system.

Ashland is determined to see the liberty bell, even if it arrives as early as 1 o'clock in the morning. To this end, Homer Billings says he will be one of 500 early risers in order to get a glimpse of the ark of the covenant. The train will have to stop awhile here, anyway, and further representations will be made to the bell's custodians in behalf of exhibiting here. It will arrive July 16. A big booster meeting may be planned to keep the crowd awake till 1 a. m.

"We have with us this evening," was the wording of the preamble in which Morris J. Duryea, late of Eugene, was introduced to Ashland Lithians as their newly appointed publicity manager, he having assumed those duties June 1. The occasion was a regular meeting of the Commercial club Monday night. Tersely and to the point, Mr. Duryea outlined the status of his position here and in a most optimistic vein reviewed the measures which confronted Ashland in its purpose to be placed on the map as a resort center. To this end he was ready to devote all his energies and simply asked the hearty co-operation of one and all in the big undertaking of making the mineral springs project and its allied features of parks, camping grounds and scenic drives, an unqualified success.

H. O. Frohbach, curator of the southern Oregon tri-county exhibit in the state building at the San Francisco exposition, arrived home Tuesday morning for a brief stay on business matters connected with Ashland's display at the big fair.

Mrs. W. O. Dickerson is a prospective purchaser of a brand new Ford car, and consequently is being coached in the running of the same by chauffeurs from the local Ford agency.

J. M. Beaver is a vacation visitor with the family of Bert Harr, a rancher living in the vicinity of Watkins, Mrs. Harr being his daughter. He was taken over into the Little Applegate section last Saturday afternoon by his brother, A. M. Beaver, whose car made a record spin both going and returning.

Ashland will not formally celebrate the Fourth of July, but at a meeting of the Commercial club Monday evening the subject of a good old-fashioned observance of the day for all such as do not care to go abroad to celebrate, was discussed, the plan being received most favorably. L. S. Brown, F. H. Walker and H. G. Eiders were appointed a committee to further the movement.

Six new members were duly received and acknowledged as members of the Commercial club at its last meeting. Among the number was Blaine Klum of Medford. The members now number 375. Committees were appointed on about every phase of work in which the organization is employed, except applying heroic remedies in the treatment of delinquents, an intricate matter which was delegated to the trustees.

Rev. H. J. Van Fossen, superintendent of the Klamath district, Methodist church jurisdiction, left for the north Monday evening. He will go as far as Portland and may extend the trip to Seattle.

The Loyal Moose of Hornbrook are preparing for a jollification on June 12, an event which will attract quite a number from the local organization hereabouts.

George Gash is here for a vacation spell, due to ill health. He has been at work in the vicinity of Weed, in the center of the lumber industry.

If there is any platform in this town upon which the tenets of Christianity are exemplified, it is in connection with the broad principles as enunciated by the Sunshine society. When other organizations halt and falter the Sunshine following goes forth and accomplishes something, and never is a deaf ear turned to a needy appeal. The membership is cosmopolitan, being made up of

OSCAR AND ADOLPH

Methodists, Episcopalians, Congregationalists, Christian Scientists, Baptists, Seventh Day Adventists, Presbyterians, Brethren, Catholics, Spiritualists and others. During the past year it disbursed nearly $365, with receipts, including balance, a trifle over that amount. Mrs. Ida Gard is president; Mrs. Louise Freeberg, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Wilshire, secretary; Mrs. Jessie Rondan, treasurer.

In going to Richmond, Cal., in the employ of a branch of the Oakland Polytechnic college, Professor J. H. Hardy, who left here recently, again becomes identified with the institution from which he graduated and in which he was a former instructor.

Bert Turner, in the employ of Wells-Fargo as extra helper during the warm season, sees to the icing of perishable stuff out of Ashland southbound. His run is indefinite, sometimes extending as far as Redding.

A thousand men volunteered Wednesday morning of this week to work on the scenic drives elevated above the Plaza, a spontaneous movement which will be duly featured in picture films being prepared by A. C. Allen. Perhaps the number was not 1000, but it was formidable.

ALONG ROGUE RIVER

Miss Mary Robertson of the Reece creek school passed the eighth grade examination held last month.

George Croft went to the valley Tuesday.

Mrs. George Weeks went to Eagle Point Friday. Her sisters, Mrs. Hazel Sears and Miss Freda Leabo, have been her guests.

F. Benson autoted out Tuesday evening after Mr. Saeger to help him on his ranch.

Mrs. Davis and daughter of Medford are the guests of the Slusser home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Hannah were Central Point visitors the last of the week.

John Fry returned from the valley Monday.

Miss Eula Houston closed the spring term of school in the Long Branch district Friday.

Steve Smith attended a birthday dinner at his sister's, Mrs. Abbott's, Sams Valley Sunday.

Mr. Robertson and son, John, are in eastern Oregon looking for home to suit them.

Charles Pettigrew started to school in the Reece Creek district the fall of 1910 and has been neither absent nor tardy during the five years school in the district. He is 12 years old and has just completed the sixth grade.

Charles Skyrman and wife went to the valley Monday. They will visit the Panama exposition for the next two weeks.

Ben Pettigrew was recently married at Yreka, California. Mrs. Pettigrew came here from Los Angeles. We extend to them a welcome and wish them a happy journey through life.

Misses Janie, Polly and Hattie Johnson are visiting in Central Point. The farmers seem to have difficulty in selling their fat goats, as people are prejudiced against them. The goat lives the same as the deer and the deer is considered a delicacy.

ANTIOCH ITEMS

Mrs. Theo Glass and her mother, Mrs. Morris Case, were trading in Central Point Tuesday.

Jasper Rodgers, the Beagle merchant, made several trips to the valley towns this week.

Roy Stacy of Beagle is gone to Texas with the McCreight brothers. They started overland this week with their auto. The other members of the family started from Medford by train.

William Louis, the sheep man, and Frank De Ford were callers at the Chapman ranch this week.

The Table Rock correspondent was misinformed in regard to Claude Chapman's cattle that he sold. He bought them from different parties in this valley. If cattle are easy to raise as that in this section your informant must have got the figures mixed. He ought to have said twenty-four hundred instead of twelve hundred.

Mr. Peirce of Eagle Point, deputy assessor, was doing business in Antioch this week.

J. G. Martin of Medford was looking after his business interests in Antioch this week.

Mr. Fraley was a business visitor in Central Point Saturday.

Mr. Welch of Ashland, a veterinarian, was looking after the farmers' horses in this section this week, doing dental work for the horses.

Oscar Rodgers of Eagle was in Central Point Saturday with a fine load of stove wood.

The dance at the home of Mr. Moore Saturday night was a good one. Young people were there from other sections of the valley and all of them enjoyed themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Moore of Medford were visiting the home folks Saturday and Sunday.

Rube Moore and Miss Lillian Chapman were visitors at the home of John Bigham Sunday.

Mrs. Theo. Glass, Mrs. Jessie Glass and Mrs. Elbert Glass were visiting Mrs. W. C. Chapman Thursday evening.

Frank De Ford returned home Saturday. Frank is a good sheep shepherd and has been shearing the Louis bunch of sheep near Central Point.

Miss Stella Armstrong who has been suffering with a broken arm, had to go to Grants Pass this week and have her arm rebroken and reset as she could not use her hand.

WILLOW SPRINGS

If men had the making of the weather what a mix up there would be!

Pearl Bean and family have moved to the property of Mr. Higginbotham in Kansas Creek district.

Numerous real estate dealers have been in this locality showing several tracts of land which are on the market.

In those vernal seasons of the year when the air is calm and pleasant it were an injury and sullenness against nature not to go out and see her riches, and partake in her rejoicing with heaven and earth.

C. W. Clarke and family of Talent were visiting G. W. Kennedy of this district Sunday.

Mrs. George A. Taylor and daughter left Wednesday for San Francisco and Oakland. While in California they will visit Miss Amy Rinehart and enjoy the fair for several months.

Every lady can give somebody a piece of her mind but she will miss it if she does.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Traylor of Medford were Sunday dinner guests of Frank Tompkins.

Colonel Mims left Monday for Portland to attend the rose festival. On his way he will remain several days in Albany.

No other days are like the days in June. They stand on the summit of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Canby of Grants Pass enjoyed a visit with R. W. Elden and family Sunday. Mrs. Canby and Mrs. Elden were friends in New York.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. John Sletty and Frank McKee attended the wedding of Miss Nora Beebe, now Mrs. Roy Rulison.

The Misses Helen and Leah Parker and Earl Grant were luncheon guests of Miss McNasser Saturday.

Mrs. Frost of Phoenix visited Mrs. W. A. Thompson the latter part of the week and Sunday they spent with Mrs. Thompson's mother in Phoenix.

Miss Tessie Neal is enjoying her vacation in Portland. She left Monday morning and will visit relatives and the rose festival.

The grange picnic was an event of the summer, although many of the members were busy in the hay fields and other occupations quite important at that time, yet a large number enjoyed the festivities. The well filled lunch baskets, the lemonade, the coffee and outdoor sports made the day complete. The baseball game between the older and younger boys was thrilling and caused much merriment. The score was so close it really would be a shame to give either side more praise than the other. Mr. Hull and Mr. Keiser of Medford addressed the picnicers on the subject of "Boy Scouts," and in the near future a company will be organized and Frank Thompson was chosen scout master. The day finished with another great success for the grange. Saturday evening the meeting will be held at the school house and we will be entertained by the Agate grange.

FLOUNCE ROCK FRILLS

Pearl and Ralph Peyton spent the day at the Erskine home Tuesday.

Ora Ditsworth came home Tuesday to spend the summer vacation.

Mr. Vaughn purchased some new farm machinery and wire fencing while in Medford, and he and his son Roy have been hauling the new machinery home during the past week.

Miss Margaret Mansfield is spending the summer months at home.

Miss Aikens' school at Prospect closed May 28. Miss Aikens expects to travel for some time and will visit relatives in the east.

Lucius Kincaid and Elmer Dawson came home Wednesday from Klamath county. Lucius has now gone to his station at Bessie Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin and Mrs. Lowe motored to Medford Wednesday and returned Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelso and Grandma McKee spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Higginbotham.

Markery Erskine spent Tuesday night with Ella Lytle.

T. B. Higginbotham transacted business at the power plant Sunday.

Tuesday was the twenty-eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Peeler, so Mrs. Blanchard invited the Sunday school to come in the evening to the Peeler home and surprise Mr. and Mrs. Peeler and learn songs in the new song books.

Twenty of the neighbors arrived about together, but their coming was not an entire surprise. The evening was spent in singing, games and various mirth-provoking stunts. Light refreshments were served and the guests remained till after midnight, which was dissipating considerably for some of the older people. Mr. and Mrs. Peeler received several gifts and many good wishes.

Bert Higginbotham and family spent the week end visiting at John Allen's.

Frank Ditsworth returned from the valley Wednesday.

The Mansfield boys and Harry Welsh took Sunday supper with the Peyton boys.

The Sunday school picnic was very well attended and was quite enjoyable. Strawberry time is a good time to have picnic dinners.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Mooney Saturday.

J. P. Ditsworth, Sr., has gone to the valley for several days.

The mailcarrier says we have not told that he has the new comfortable rig on the route again, so we here make mention of that fact and will refrain from further comment on the subject.

Oscar Higginbotham and Robert Coffman, who spent several days at Mr. Higginbotham's left Thursday for their respective homes.

Miss Ella Lytle is spending several days visiting friends at the Garden ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Glass and baby and Miss Gordon, all of Sams Valley, came up in a car Sunday and brought Violet Vaughan home.

G. W. Kincaid went to the valley the first of this week on business.

The W. C. T. U. met Saturday with Mrs. R. E. Peyton. The Union decided to postpone the medal contest because of many difficulties which arise at the present time. It will probably be held this fall, instead of July 4. After the meeting Mrs. Peyton and daughters served sandwiches, strawberries and cake.
