

ASHLAND CLUB PLANS NEW OFFICERS

ASHLAND, June 14.—Contingent upon further expansion as to membership, the commercial club plans to occupy enlarged quarters accordingly. A project is under way where by the organization may become housed in the McCarthy block, on West Main street, occupying those entire quarters which are now available. The armory formerly was located on the second floor of this building and it is equipped with every requisite in the way of lobby, auditorium, kitchen and pantry. The auditorium affords one of the finest dancing floors in town, and is also suited for other social functions. The plan is to locate the offices, reading and billiard rooms on the first floor, leaving the second floor to be used as above indicated. The location is an ideal one, with a north frontage, and is situated on the principal thoroughfare through town where all the travel over the Pacific highway would pass directly by its doors.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

In line with the demands created by new projects which Ashland is launching on a big scale, its Commercial club membership is to be boosted on a commensurate basis. H. U. Purcell, Clerk Bush, Chester Stevenson, A. M. Heaver and J. R. Croxall have been appointed a new membership committee and are out in earnest for the largest class of recruits ever secured in the history of the organization. The club has not only been reorganized with consequent increased interest in its meetings, but the social phase is not being overlooked, a feature which appeals to all. In an exceedingly optimistic spirit the new committee is planning to get busy and pry things loose, with the determination to make this Commercial club the most talked of organization of its kind in the country.

Don Applegate, Wells-Fargo agent, and D. Perozzi of the Ashland creamery left Sunday for the exposition.

Frank Heberle and wife of Weed were visitors here the last of the week. Frank was a former well-known resident.

The congressional appropriations committee, now touring the west on business, mingled with pleasure, will arrive on June 21, occupying two coaches attached to No. 16. They are headed north. Publicity Manager Duryea of the Commercial club is conferring with Medford over a plan of entertainment which cannot help but be of mutual satisfaction to not only both towns, but also to the edification of the distinguished visitors.

Professor McMurray goes to Tacoma this week in attendance upon the annual convention of the Northwestern Music Teachers' association. Later on he will go to Seattle and also visit a brother at Ridgefield, Wash.

Messrs. Martin and Higgins, expert boiler inspectors in government employ were here last Friday.

Clair Beble is performing the duties of train clerk at the depot temporarily during the absence of the regular employe.

The Baptist chapel car Grace was sidetracked here the last of the week for one day only and was visited by a large number previous to leaving for southern benighted regions.

Captain Malone, Lieutenant Blake and Brevet Private Hal McNair, all of First company, who leave for Fort Stevens on Tuesday afternoon, are also duly accredited representatives to various Masonic grand bodies which meet in Portland this week. In certain instances these duties will be delegated to Messrs. Blake and company's lieutenant and will visit at Portland during the encampment and at Corvallis later on.

J. F. Roeblo's recent testimonials in the local press afford further evidence of the efficacy of sundry mineral waters. Citizen Roeblo came from Colorado several years ago in the last stages of obesity, complicated with hunger troubles. For days at a time he existed upon nothing but beef-steak, bread and vegetables, his diet being confined to charcoal and coal tablets. On a strictly liquid diet his best measure has been steadily reduced from a maximum of 247 pounds to a minimum normal, and he can now revel in anything from corn-beef and cabbage to liver and fried onions, sans either cooke or charcolon relishes.

Postmaster Kaiser returned Sunday from the recent convention of postmasters in Portland.

Last Friday 11,000 sheep in 35 double-deckers, reached here for feed and transfer into 70 regular stock cars, which went out Saturday morning in two trains, each drawn by five locomotives. The animals were from Heppner and vicinity, being shipped by Miller & Lux to Stockton. It required seven tons of stuff to meet feeding requirements. On Friday also ten cars of fine steers went north on speedy schedules. The animals numbered 241, and were from the ranches of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, in the vicinity of Volta, Cal. This shipment was "personally conducted" by Jeff Hayes, manager of the stock department of the various Hearst estates. Over 6000 head will follow in the season, gathered up from the Hearst ranches in California and Mexico. Saturday morning five cars of fat cattle went north consigned to Portland commission houses. George Gillette of Dunsmuir, trainmaster of the Shasta division, was in town several days last week expediting the shipments through this terminal.

Ed Estes and family of Muskogee, Okla., who summer in southern Oregon, arrived last Friday to occupy their bungalow on West Main street.

R. J. Edwards returned last Friday from Klamath Falls, where he had been summoned to serve on the federal jury in a murder case, Indians being implicated. Owing to complications which Mr. Edwards entertains regarding the infliction of capital punishment, he was excused from serving on the panel.

In leaving for the south the last of the week, Jim Bowers goes on a business mission to Arizona, having learned that his uncle, Ira, lives in Sonora, is safe, for the time being, at least, from Mexican bandits.

The dance and concert at the armory Friday evening netted a goodly sum for the band. In addition, the organization is regularly subsidized during the summer season $25 from the Commercial club, $25 from the city and $10 from the Civic Improvement club, payable monthly. The interesting stories by Peter B. Kyne in the Saturday Evening Post are reminders to Hal Emery of the First National bank that the author was an old-time acquaintance of his in the Philippines during Spanish war times.

H. L. White, who operates the Maple Gulch mines, in the vicinity of Gold Hill, was here last Thursday with his wife, who left that day for a visit with her daughter, Dr. Leatha Tyler of San Francisco. Mrs. White has been teaching in the Gold Hill schools. The past term Harry White has taught school in the Pleasant Creek district.

G. H. Hedberg and family left Sunday for a visit to the expositions, having been delayed several days by an accident which happened to their son Elwood. They will be some several weeks. During Hedberg's absence his duties as Western Union lineman will be looked after by Clad Level of Sacramento, who is already on duty.

J. W. Morgan of McCook, Neb., arrived Saturday for an indefinite stay, on a visit to the coast, which will include various sections. He is stopping at the Hotel Ashland.

The dining rooms of the Hotel Ashland are being renovated preparatory to the taking over of the management by Mrs. Julia Orres and Mrs. Emma Metcalf, who assume control on or about June 20. Later on they may take charge of the rooming facilities also.

Former residents of Humboldt, In., now living here—W. L. Moore and L. J. Orres—are interested in the announcement that Frank Gotch, noted wrestling champion, is to reappear in the ring after supposed retirement. Humboldt is to have a monster Fourth of July celebration, in connection with which and as a chief attraction Gotch has challenged all comers to a wrestling bout. He is the well known protegee of Farmer Burns, another former champion in wrestling circles, and is reported to be worth over $150,000, a good portion of which is stashed down in choice bona bonds.

Frank Russell, employe of the city electric light plant, had the misfortune last Friday to fall from a ladder, breaking two bones in his left wrist while out among the fruit trees at his Laurel street home. Instead of lacking the proverbial cherry tree with a hatchet, he was engaged in gathering a supply of Bings and Early Dukes. Mrs. Russell and three children are visiting in Lake county, but two husky boys remain at home with their father and the triple entente are getting along with the house-keeping even better than could be expected.

Rev. M. C. Reed, a newcomer here, is associated with Hodgson & Whitmore in the realty business on weekdays and on Sundays preaches to the Methodist following at Talent. The National Electric association, occupying ten coaches of a special, were here Sunday afternoon, north-bound, and during their stop were recipients of the usual courtesies at the hands of the Commercial club. Job Tazer has received word of the death recently of his brother Guy, a resident of Fort Worth, Tex., who visited here several years ago. With the exception of this visit, the brothers had not met before since 1864. Guy was a master carpenter, his specialty being stair building. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delahoyde of Marshalltown, Ia., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Malone. The visitors from the central west are touring the Pacific coast section.

In common with other members of the Siskiyou Kodak club, Cliff Payne has been taking some fine views of Ashland scenic surroundings. Payne Ashland scenic surroundings, notably pictures of work recently done by volunteers on the scenic drive development job, which he is arranging in sets of about a dozen each. These pictures, although taken by amateurs at the business, nevertheless exhibit professional skill in all details.

Charles Manning of Derby came out and spent the night with us. George Hall of Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trusty and Dr. Kirkgessner came out from Medford Friday morning on the Harish auto stage with the mail.

The remodeled motor car that the P. & E. railroad is putting on the railroad to carry the mail and passengers the days that the train don't run, made her trial trip Thursday and the company expects to have it make regular trips out here but have not given out their plans yet. Lemen Charley, wife, son and daughter motored out from their home above Brownshoro Friday morning, secured a fresh supply of gasoline of Von der Hellen Bros. and went on to Medford.

Mrs. Joe Riley and her daughter, Mrs. Cardwell, were doing business with George Brown & Sons Friday. S. Berquist and wife who own a farm on Rogue river, west of town, were also here Friday.

J. F. Lewis of Florence Rock passed through town Friday. I understand that a brother of Mrs. R. A. Whitman, wife of the foreman on the W. Hart Hamilton ranch, has come on but I have not learned his name.

While on my rounds Friday I met Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Tadwick, foreman

Mrs. Thomas and Miss Lenore McIntyre, aunt and cousin of the cashier of the Eagle Point State Bank. J. V. McIntyre of Illinois is here visiting her nephew and family.

J. M. Wolfrey and wife were in town on business last Wednesday and report that the crop of wild oats on their place is simply fine, tall and thick, in fact Mr. W. has one of the best sticky farms and orchards in the country.

Jeff Conover has bought a lot of wool for the Brown Bros. since my last report, and this reminds me that Robert R. Minter has just sheared his sheep and has about six thousand pounds of wool that he has sold to a firm in Salem. And he has an ad in this issue of the Daily Mail Tribune offering for sale five hundred head of sheep.

Mrs. Wm. Butler was doing business with our merchants Wednesday. Edison Hurd of Butte Falls was with us on Wednesday.

Miss Girace Conley came out from Medford the same day to visit friends.

Our county engineer is having the Anselmo bridge repaired, putting in concrete abutments.

Mrs. J. S. Quackenbush was in town Wednesday rustling a man to work on the Corbin orchard, and Charles Pruett was in town the same day.

Joe Smith, the county road boss, and Ed Dutton, the boss road builder, were here on road business last Wednesday.

Mrs. Marguerite Simpson, nee Miss Florey, came out from Talent Thursday to visit her parents here.

E. A. Taft of Seattle, Wash., took dinner here Thursday. He is traveling in the interest of the Fisher Flour Mill company of Seattle.

W. E. Buchanan, formerly principal of our school but now of Ashland, came up Thursday on business, returning the same day.

Carl Ringor, one of the railroad men, met with a little accident a few days ago and while recuperating is staying in his old room at the Sunny-side.

Thomas Farlow and family, and brother and sister-in-law, Mrs. E. O. Nichols, motored out from Medford Thursday evening and went on up to his home on the north fork of Little Butte creek. He has bought himself a large seven-passenger car so as to take all his family and some friends of his at once.

Get ready to attend the school meeting. Mr. Avery Trank of Ashland came up in his car and the last time I saw him he had three nice looking ladies in his car with him.

Miss Dollie Stowall, John Wingingham and R. E. Lally of Roseburg came out on the P. & E. Thursday and Mr. W. went on up to his home on Elk Creek. C. E. Johnson also went to Derby the same day, returning that afternoon. Mr. Lally spent the night here. He is a tobacco salesman for a San Francisco firm.

George Hall of Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trusty and Dr. Kirkgessner came out from Medford Friday morning on the Harish auto stage with the mail.
