

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

George Stannard of Ashland, who is interested in supplying the schools of the county with the general necessities of the schoolroom, spent two nights with us since my last.

Hornace Addis, field editor of the Rural Spirit, an agricultural weekly of Portland, spent Wednesday night with us.

Art Nichols has moved his household goods, I understand, to eastern Oregon, and his family will follow later.

Mike Sidley of Lake Creek was out last Wednesday after a load of pipe. He is going to install a water system and bring water from a large spring down to the house and barn so as to have everything convenient in that line. Those people up in the Lake Creek and Upper Butte creek country are a wideawake set and believe in having things up to date.

Mrs. Charles Skeeters and daughter, Miss Marjorie, came out Wednesday and spent the night at the Sunnyside with her husband. Mr. Skeeters is in charge of the county road roller that is in operation on the road between here and Brownboro, and his wife and daughter came out to visit him and see the country, as this is the first time they were ever out in our town, and I am authorized to say that she is very much pleased with our surroundings.

Royal Cowgill, chief engineer for the Fish Lake Ditch Co., and K. Benson stopped here for dinner Thursday on their way up to the camp at the intake of the ditch, where they have a gang of men at work repairing the road between the intake and Fish Lake so as to be able to haul the material up to make the big dam to form a reservoir. It is a big undertaking, but that company laughs at big undertakings and goes right along and does what it undertakes.

George von der Hellen, wife, son and nephew returned from their visit to Corvallis and Portland the first of the week.

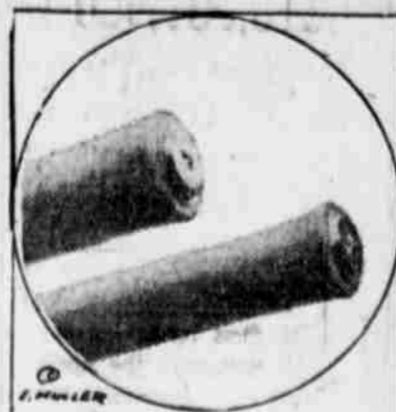

Last Thursday Professor W. O. Wheeler and wife, Mrs. J. B. Robinson of Talent and Miss Orpha Fox of Sacramento City, Cal., motored out to inspect the home belonging to P. H. Daley, that Professor Wheeler and wife expect to occupy during the coming school term. Professor Wheeler has been employed as principal of our school, and they were out to inspect the place. Since the school meeting decided to have four teachers and have the high school grades taught and will have to employ the fourth teacher, the probabilities are that the board will employ Mrs. Wheeler to fill the place.

Charles S. Wilson of Grants Pass, A. D. Wooding of Cottage Grove, E. Stienwalt and E. A. Hamilton of Roseburg passed through here Thursday on their bicycles on their way to Crater lake. They had been to the Josephine county caves and explored them and report that the sights are doubly worth the trouble and expense of the trip. They were prepared to camp, had their camp outfit, grub and bedding with them and are out for a good time and are bent on having it.

Since my last report, E. Hurd, our town electrician; L. K. Haak, one of our leading orchardists, and J. M. Wolfley have paid their subscriptions to the Daily Mail Tribune, and I regret to say that Mr. Wolfley and wife have been called, on account of business, to Salt Lake City and consequently ordered their paper discontinued. Mr. W. said that he did not know how they would get along without the Eaglelets for breakfast, dinner and supper, but did not think it best to have the Mail Tribune sent to Salt Lake City for so short a time, as they expect to return in August.

I started out last Friday to see what I could do in the way of collecting and soliciting for the Mail Tribune, but found that everybody was busy and the most of the men at work out in the field, and that ready cash was with some of them at least a thing of the past. But I saw some as fine looking grain and garden truck as any one would wish to see. The wheat and oats in most places seemed to be both tall and thick. I stopped to see an old friend, Fred Pelouze, and found him out in his alfalfa field irrigating his land, and his prospect of a bumper crop of hay is fine. I next called to see Win. Butler and found that he was about a half mile from the house cutting hay, and while at the house Mrs. Butler showed me some oats that Mr. B. had pulled up and brought to the house that was about six feet long and well filled that was raised on his upland. Passing on up the creek I passed several places where the grain showed the richness of the soil, as it seemed to be at least six feet tall and where some of it had been cut for hay the shocks were large and thick on the ground. I could not but notice what a fine job the road workers have done on the road between here and the Corbin bridge, and by the time that Ed Dutton gets through

OLD NICODEMUS NIMBLE—AT THE FRONT

No. 1—Once, in the lines, I stood watching the gunners cleaning a huge gun barrel! I wanted to create a little excitement during a lull in battle so, amid the protests of the soldiery, I prepared for an experiment. They watched me breathlessly!

No. 2—After some reflection, I ordered the men to remove the plug from the gun's mouth!

No. 3—Then, sure of my nerve and confident of the success of my plan, I mounted the platform!

No. 4—Seated on the muzzle, I gave the word to fire!

No. 5—As the shell whistled out amid terrific explosion, I leaped onto it, grasping tightly!

No. 6—In mid-air, I rode past a shell coming in the opposite direction! Quickly I leaped onto it!

No. 7—In this way I rode back to camp!

with it the road will be equal to any of our city streets, unless they are hard surfaced, and the way the county court is making our roads it will not be long before the farmers can bring in a full load of the farm products. Let us have good roads and good schools and the country will soon be settled up with progressive farmers.

Among the many improvements made along the route one of the most important is the putting in of a culvert in the stream in front of the Pelouze home, so that in the winter the horses will not have to break the ice to pass the place. The road boss has opened up a way so that the travel can still cross in the water, but in the cold weather they don't have to.

When the county court agreed to make that piece of road two men, Frank Brown and F. Pelouze agreed to haul 500 yards of the crushed rock to put on the road, and Chris Natwick has agreed to finish the part yet to haul by the two men, so that is secured.

Mr. McPherson of Portland, a son-in-law of Thomas E. Nichols, has moved onto a farm just northeast of our town. Gus Gorman, the foreman on the Lundlaw orchard, was in town Saturday and reports that he will have a fair crop of apples this year, considering that this has been a poor year for apples.

J. M. Wolfley has left his orchard in charge of Wilfred Jaek.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Miss Frances Retinger, of Olathe, Kan., is the guest of Joshua Young and his daughter, Mary, at the family residence on North Main street. W. Henry Hosler, the efficient curator of the West Side school premises, whose untiring efforts have made the grounds of that institution a thing of beauty to instructors, pupils and the general public and a matter of pride to himself, will leave this week on a well-deserved vacation. The exposition at San Francisco will be the objective point. Mrs. Hosler will accompany him.

Teressa Melkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Melkle, former residents here, and a member of the alumni of the Ashland high school, has recently graduated with honors from the law department of the University of California at Berkeley with the degree of A. B. She will pursue post-graduate studies in the Hastings Law School of San Francisco, a course which is implied at university graduation.

"Sari" was the most gorgeous production presented in the history of the Yvings, as given by a representative metropolitan attraction here last Thursday evening. Costumes and performance were superb. At the close of an ideal entertainment members of the company went to the Natatorium for a plunge in the pools of that popular resort.

At the recent Scandinavian picnic held here it was resolved to observe the next annual mid-summer day in Ashland on the last Saturday in August, 1916.

Miss Olive Thorne has returned from her studies at the San Jose normal, from which institution she has graduated. She will teach the forthcoming year in the Gold Hill school.

Henry Wolf, a well known traveling salesman from San Francisco, was here Friday and incident to this visit was taken by Mayor Johnson for an extended auto trip over the scenic drives in this vicinity.

Carroll Beaver Byrne, son of Governor Frank M. Byrne, of South Dakota, is an ensign on the submarine K-8, located at Mar Island navy yard. He has recently seen service in Mexican waters. Ensign Byrne has visited relatives here. His second given name is due to the fact that he is the "nephew of his uncle," A. M. Beaver of this city.

The Methodist Sunday school held its annual picnic this year on the normal school grounds last Friday. Nearly 200 were present and the outing event rivaled any heretofore enjoyed by that virile organization.

Mrs. Laveta Pardee of Los Angeles, a niece of Chas. Hargadine, arrived last week for a visit with relatives in the Hargadine and Casey families. This is her first visit here in 14 years. Her husband is a druggist in the Southern California metropolises.

A busier and more trustworthy lad cannot be found than Harley Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Holmes. He is 16 years old and a junior in the high school. Formally he is a Tidings carrier, also janitor of the Baptist church and city hall. Informally he attends to a dozen or more lawns about town and looks after vacant properties. When time hangs heavily on his hands he delivers the Saturday Evening Post. A gasoline motor attached to his bike expedites hurried movements from place to place. Here's to Harley!

High Chinese officials who have been touring the Pacific coast are due to pass through here Tuesday of this week, bound for San Francisco and thence home to the orient. Backed by the local Commercial club, Wah Chung, resident vicerey of the Flowery Kingdom in these parts, will participate in reception features attendant upon John Chinaman's tour throughout southern Oregon.

C. C. Whittle, a brother of Floyd Whittle of this city, is now soldiering in Hawaii as a member of Co. G, Second U. S. Infantry, stationed at Fort Shafter in the vicinity of Honolulu. J. W. Detwiler, of Des Moines, Iowa, brother-in-law of J. R. Casey, left for the east last week after an extended visit here. He will stop at Eugene to visit other relatives in the Willamette.

Contemporaneous with the assumption of control of the Ashland Garage by Perry Ashcraft, the loud sign on the corner of Main and Second streets has disappeared, to give place it is hoped to one of brilliant electric effects as originally intended.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Shippee, of Kenosha, Wis., old time friends in former Illinois days of the Nims and Saunders families now residing here, were brief visitors in Ashland last Thursday on their way home from the exposition.

The Telford family are occupying the Titus place on Mountain avenue during the absence of the latter folks in California.

ANTIOCH ITEMS

Mr. Drake of the Meadows has bought a new Deering binder and will bind grain for some of the farmers in the Beagle country and for his neighbors in the Meadows.

Mr. Wilhite, Sr., was trading in Medford this week. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Case were trading in Central Point Saturday.

Henry Morgan and wife left last week for Klamath county, where they will stay for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillett of Central Point were Antioch visitors Sunday. Most of our farmers have got their hay crop stacked or in the barns and are busy getting the headers and binders ready to harvest their grain crops. The prospect is good for a much larger crop in this section than last year.

Mrs. Morris Case and Mrs. Theo. Glass were Central Point visitors Friday. Some of our neighbors are getting their teams in shape to go to the lake to work through the summer. They will take their families with them to camp out, as it will be healthier for them in the mountains.

Mrs. W. W. Chapman and son, Claude, and Misses Lillian, Viola and Myrtle, were trading in Central Point Friday and visited the movies and stayed for the dance at night.

E. E. Fraley is building a small bungalow on his ranch near the upper Table Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield passed through Antioch last Monday on their way to the Meadows.

Sam Marshall of Central Point made his Beagle friends and relatives a visit Sunday.

Miss Estella Bogue, who has been staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Case, left last week with her father for Klamath county, where she will make her home.

Mrs. Tom Brown and Mrs. Monroe Brown, from the Willamette valley, are now making their relatives a pleasant visit at Beagle.
