

FATE OF JEWS OF WORLD TREMBLING IN THE BALANCE

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., June 29.—The fate of one half of the Jews of the world, is trembling in the balance as a result of the great war in Europe, according to Rabbi Moses J. Gries of Cleveland, president of the Central Conference of American rabbis, who addressed the 26th convention here today.

"A crisis impends for Israel," said Rabbi Gries. "The million Jews of Eastern Europe are buffeted from persecutor to oppressor. Is it the beginning of a new epoch in the Jewish history?"

"All mankind has been made eye-witness to Belgium's misery and sorrow. Galicia and Poland suffer equal tragedy, but the world neither sees nor hears. Millions of Jews, always in want and in wretchedness, now experience cruelty intensified. Hundreds of thousands are sacrificing their lives for their country, yes, even for the flag of the oppressor—and no promise of freedom is clearly spoken."

"Not yet is there any abatement of Russian persecution, nor any change in the legal status, nor any removal of disabilities. Again thousands of Jews have been made to take up the staff of the wanderer, expelled from their homes and native villages."

"Again in the face of world-wide misery we discover ourselves unprepared and unorganized. We are never ready though Jews are ever in distress."

"Our duty is to send relief and yet more relief and it will not be enough."

"America is the only Jewish community in the world able to send relief."

"The war has flung a challenge to teachers of religion."

"The neutral nations seem pitifully powerless, but if the United States and the other neutral nations have not the power to suppress the world disorder, they have the power to refrain from helping to prolong it."

NEVER HEARD OF WILLIAM J. BRYAN

CHICAGO, June 29.—William Jennings Bryan was obliged to repeat his name five times, and spell it, before his identity was recognized by whoever answered the telephone at the home of Carter H. Harrison, former mayor of Chicago.

The former secretary of state called Mr. Harrison's home here yesterday, and on learning the former mayor was not there, asked that he call Mr. Bryan at a hotel upon his return.

"Yes; Bryan," the former secretary shouted over the telephone. "The initials? W. J. Yes—W. J. Bryan. B-R-Y-A-N. W. J. Bryan of Lincoln, Neb. No, not Ryan. It's Bryan—B-R-Y-A-N. Tell him I had hoped to see him. Thank you."

"Such is fame," commented Mr. Bryan as he hung up the receiver.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS APPEAL TO ITALIANS

MILAN, June 29.—The appeal of the German socialists in favor of peace is considered here to be most symptomatic of the change that has taken place in a large section of public opinion at the end of the first year of the great war. Such an appeal, it is believed here, would have been impossible in July, 1914.

Italian intransigent socialists have been approached with the object of seeing whether they were ready to take similar steps toward their government. The opinion prevails in Milan, however, that they will first see what the socialists of other countries concerned in the European conflagration decide to do.

STATE OF WASHINGTON TO WAR UPON SEALS

SEATTLE, Wa., June 29.—The state of Washington has declared war against vast numbers of seals which have established a submarine blockade of the entrances to Puget Sound, killing the salmon which are seeking entrance on the way to the spawning grounds. State fish commission launches will shoot seals in the water and dynamite the rocks on which seals lie when out of the water.

GENERAL ANGELES DENIES COMPLICITY IN HUERTA PLOT

WASHINGTON, June 29.—General Felipe Angeles, Villa's chief lieutenant, arrived here today to deny in person at the state department that he was connected in any way with the coup to re-establish a Huerta regime in Mexico. General Angeles first went into conference with Enrique C. Llorente, head of the Villa agency.

General Angeles announced he was preparing a statement to be made public later.

"General Angeles will make a statement," said Mr. Llorente, "in which he will deny absolutely that he is implicated in any conspiracy with Victoriano Huerta to launch a new revolt in Mexico. That is an impossible story. General Angeles will also explain his relations with General Villa and may say a word about his mission to Washington, which is a military mission."

Mr. Llorente said he did not know what Washington officials, if any, General Angeles contemplated seeing. Angeles and Llorente then went to the war department and entered a conference with Brigadier General Scott, chief of staff of the army. In view of Llorente's announcement that the mission of Angeles was a military one, and General Scott's thorough familiarity with Mexican military affairs, which includes an intimate acquaintance with Villa, the conference attracted no little attention.

Angeles and Llorente called only upon General Scott.

After a two-hour conference General Scott said General Angeles had not revealed the object of his mission to the United States further than to say that he had been in Boston visiting his family and expected to rejoin General Villa in Mexico. The visit, however, served to quiet rumors of a rupture between Villa and Angeles, since the latter presented to General Scott a personal letter from Villa. The letter referred to Angeles as "Villa's dear friend and companion."

General Angeles did not refer to the recent arrest of General Huerta and his adherents at El Paso, nor did he discuss at length the military situation in Mexico. General Scott said the discussion was more of a general review of the situation in Mexico and a description of some of General Angeles' experiences.

Holibaugh-Hurley Wedding

At 12:30 o'clock Sunday, June 27, 1915, occurred one of the prettiest of the happy weddings in the marriage of Miss Cecelia Ethelyn Hurley and Frederick C. Holibaugh at the farm home of the bride's father, three miles northwest of Ashland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Van Sooy in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The parlor was decorated with green boughs and spring blossoms. Mrs. Clara Hurley, sister-in-law of the bride, played Lohengrin's march, while the happy couple took position in a bower of white and green. The bride, wearing a white gown and covered with trailing veil, and the groom in graceful style bestowing the ring, all added much to the beauty of the ceremony. Following congratulations, a most bounteous dinner was served.

The groom is a native of Pennsylvania, where he received his education. During last year he was one of the civil engineers for the Pacific Highway Construction company, with headquarters at Medford. He is now in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railway company and his work will be in northern California. He is a young man of integrity and business and is well known in southern Oregon. The bride is a native of Iowa. She is a graduate of the Ashland high school and also of the Southern Oregon State Normal school. She taught in Medford for a short period and then came to the Ashland schools, where she has taught for five years, giving good satisfaction both to the board of directors and to the patrons. No another of Jackson county's successful teachers has gone out of the ranks of the profession. The hosts of friends of this well-matched young couple are expressing all kinds of good wishes for them.

Anticipating The New Baby

Every expectant mother should have at hand a bottle of "Mother's Friend." It is applied over the navel, makes them strong, they expand without undue strain, pain is relieved, nausea is overcome and the skin is thus preserved against scars and other defects so common where "Mother's Friend" has been neglected. $15,000,000 A DAY ENGLAND'S TOKEN TO GOD OF WAR

LONDON, June 29, 4:06 p. m.—The first really big subscription to the war loan, the application made by a London assurance company for 3,000,000 pounds ($15,000,000) of the new loan, was announced.

Premier Asquith opened the meeting by stating that apart from many of its "other features" the present war was the costliest that ever had been waged, with the total prospective expenditure for the year approaching a thousand millions of pounds ($5,000,000,000), the daily expenditure being and likely to be for weeks and months to come, something like $15,000,000.

The premier emphasized that for the first time in the financial history of Great Britain this was a democratic loan.

"Under such conditions," Mr. Asquith said, "I am confident that the success of the loan as a financial instrument ought to be and indeed is now absolutely secure."

ASK U. S. TO SAY TO KAISER THAT GINNELL 'CRAZY'

LONDON, June 29.—"A scandalous and wholly false aspersion," is the way Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking in the house of commons this afternoon, stigmatized a question put by Lawrence Ginnell, nationalist member for North Westmeath, suggesting that British troops were killing Germans after they had laid down their arms instead of taking them prisoners.

Sir Arthur B. Markham, liberal member for the Mansfield division of Nottinghamshire, invited Mr. McKenna to ask the United States government to convey to the German government "the fact that Mr. Ginnell is not of sound mind."
