OLD NICODEMUS NIMBLE—AT THE FRONT

HOLD PROGRESSIVE PARTY TOGETHER ADVISES CLAPP

By Gilson Gardner

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 1.—If next year brings prosperity and the country is kept out of war, no power on earth can defeat Woodrow Wilson.

This is the opinion of Moses E. Clapp, United States senator from Minnesota.

On the other hand, if times continue as hard as they were last fall, it's Clapp's opinion that the standpat republicans will have things very much their own way. They can elect the most reactionary man they can find.

"And," Clapp adds, "if they have none left sufficient for the purpose, they can dig up one from the grave."

As evidence of this the Minnesota senator cites the election returns of last fall in Pennsylvania. That state, he says, had undergone a wonderful moral awakening but under the pressure of scarce work and small profits it reversed its Roosevelt majority of two years before and endorsed Boise Penrose.

Hold Progressives Together

In spite of these political predictions, Senator Clapp is strong for the progressive party, and strong for holding it together. In a letter to the chairman of the progressive national committee, Senator Clapp says:

"If the progressive party can hold together as a nucleus, it will sooner or later receive a large accession of strength from the split in the democratic party which would be hastened by Woodrow Wilson's re-election. For the democratic party, like the republican party, must eventually split wide open. It is made up of two irreconcilable elements, one standing for progress, and the other for reaction. When the split comes the progressive party will have a big accession from the south."

Senator Clapp believes that there is a psychological danger of business depression associated with the democratic party. The same kind of a tariff revision done by republicans would not depress business in the same way that it does when the democrats do the revising. "The fact," says Clapp, "that they approach the tariff from a standpoint of conditions hostile to protection will produce a business depression, while the same schedules enacted by the republican party in its avowed spirit of protection would not produce a ripple."

Leadership the Issue

Senator Clapp believes that the important question for the progressives in 1916 will be as to what leadership the party will have. "I do not know," he says, "whether Col. Roosevelt will accept it again. The colonel would get an immense vote, especially if the times were good."

Senator Clapp thinks the prohibition issue may prove to be important in the next presidential campaign. "The prohibition movement today," he says, "differs from that movement in former times. When we were boys growing up there was a temperance wave and everybody took the pledge. Some kept it and some did not. The present movement is entirely different. There is no hysteria or excitement about it. It is simply a calm, deliberate judgment on the part of the American people that the saloon is a menace. Having come, in a quiet way, free from hysteria or excitement, and as a result of deliberate judgment, I am inclined to think it is here to stay."

Senator Clapp has heard talk of Governor Hiram W. Johnson as leader of the progressives in case the republicans decide to name some one like Weeks or Root. He believes Johnson would prove a good candidate and would poll a considerable vote and would certainly hold the party together as a nucleus for the [illegible] which Senator Clapp sees for [illegible]

FORTY MINES IN JOPLIN DISTRICT CLOSED BY STRIKE

JOPLIN, July 1.—More than 40 mines in Webb City and Joplin are now shut down, the result of the strike of lead and zinc miners which began last Monday. Ten more mines, among the heaviest producers in the Joplin district were closed today. The week's output of ore will be greatly curtailed. Three thousand or more men are out of employment.

A meeting here last night, the first held by the strikers, was addressed by leaders of the movement to organize an independent union. At the meeting it was agreed to march upon other mines at Joplin today, demanding that they close. Operators have predicted that if the strike continues, there will be but few mines in southwest Missourin operating by the end of the week.

Miners of the Joplin district have never before been affiliated with labor organizations and no foreign classes have been employed in the mines. Leaders say they will attempt to organize locals in every city of the district. They are opposing affiliation with the Western Federation of Miners.

RAIN KEEPS PRESIDENT BUSY DICTATING LETTERS

CORNISH, N. H., July 1.—Kept indoors by rain today, President Wilson spent the forenoon in his study with his stenographer. No comment on the loss of American lives by the torpedoing of the steamer Armenian by a German submarine was forthcoming, as the president was awaiting complete details.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Last Saturday night Professor C. E. Johnson and your correspondent hitched old Babe to the buggy and started at 7 o'clock for the Table Rock schoolhouse to attend a social entertainment that was given for the purpose of raising money to pay the balance of the piano that the Arrowhead society purchased for the general use of the school, church and society, and on reaching there found quite a number had already arrived, but when the manager came to count noses found that there were two of the principal members who were to take part in the exercises were not there, so they decided to have an entertainment at any rate and have it. So at 9:15 p. m. the president of the society, Emmett Nealon, called the house to order and we were treated with a nice program, consisting of music, both vocal and instrumental, three pieces on the violin and others on the piano and some readings and recitations, etc., an hour or more, after which intermission was announced. Then the president called the society to order and they transacted some business, appointing a committee of the program for the next meeting, [illegible] the members who did not come up to the requirements of the constitution and by-laws, and read the times, etc., after which we returned and then we visited for twenty or thirty minutes and started for home, reaching the Sunnyside at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. For me to say that we had a fine time would not convey fully the whole truth, for if any one wants to have a genuine good time in a [illegible] social way all that they have to do is to go to Table Rock and attend one of their literary entertainments.

Sunday morning [illegible] on us bright and clear and [illegible] fair to be one of the bright days of Eagle Point, but just after early breakfast the whizz of the autos began to be in evidence and [illegible] 7:30 a. m. seven autos loaded down to the guards dashed out of town for Hornbrook to witness the ball game between the Medford and Hornbrook teams, and to see the Pacific highway through the Siskiyou mountains, and since then you can hardly hear anything else except [illegible] the scenic beauties of the road and the splendid road we have [illegible] the route. The first man that I [illegible] about the trip was Royal G. B[illegible], one of our merchants, and his idea is that the English language [illegible] inadequate to tell of all of the beauties along the route and the [illegible]ness of the Pacific highway, [illegible] as it is completed. The next man to tell of the trip was Fred Heath, another one of our merchants, and he says that so far as the [illegible] is concerned he does not begrudge his part of the tax to make [illegible] a road, and so far as the scenery is concerned that we do not have to go to Yellowstone park or the [illegible] of Switzerland for beautiful scenery, but simply take a trip slowly [illegible] that road and you will see enough to satisfy the most fastidious. And then comes F. T. Boltz [illegible] his idea is that the half has not been told. The members of the party were: J. Frank Brown and wife, [illegible] Pelouze and wife, J. V. McIntyre and wife, W. C. Clements and wife, George von der Hellen and wife, [illegible] Bradshaw and family, Len Charley and family, S. B. Holmes and wife, [illegible] C. Narragan and wife, Royal G. [illegible], daughter, Miss Hazel, and niece, Miss Allison Officer, William Brown, Dr. W. P. Holt and wife, F. L. Heath and wife, and T. F. Boltz, all with whom I have talked all say that they were well paid for the time and expense they endured on the trip.

[illegible] C. Stock and wife came over from Ashland Monday with their [illegible] auto hearse and brought some [illegible] caskets for his agent, Fred L. Heath, and also made the arrangements with Mr. Heath so that any one buying a casket can have the free use of the auto hearse to carry the corpse to the cemetery. It was as nice a one as I have seen for a long time.—Adv.

Professor C. E. Johnson went to Jacksonville to take the examination on some of the higher branches and prepare for his life's work as a teacher Tuesday.

Among the incidents that took place last Saturday that I failed to mention in the proper order was that William von der Hellen and family and E. Hurd and family motored to Prospect and attended a dance in that neighborhood, returning Sunday evening and taking supper at the Sunnyside.

And another incident was that our mayor, John M. Nichols, has treated himself to a 1915 Ford.

Another incident was that the Misses Mildred and Jennie Hamilton and their brother, Sherwin, children of W. Hart Hamilton, who moved his family from San Jose, Cal., and Miss Hazel Brown, Miss Allison Officer, Fred Heath and his sister, Miss Frances, and Gene Narregan had a regular picnic supper by moonlight on the banks of our beautiful Little Butte creek one night last week.

The people of Little Butte expect to meet at the picnic grove just above Brownsboro July 3 and join in celebrating the national birthday.

And the people along Rogue river between here and the free ferry are to meet at the same time at the Vaeght farm, on Rogue river, for a picnic dinner.

Fred L. Heath shipped in the first watermelons of the season Tuesday.

P. Cowgill brought [illegible] of [illegible] gooseberries and blackberries [illegible] for the Eagle Point market, disposing of them without any trouble.

There will be quite a number of our citizens go to Medford on the 3d to join in celebrating our great national day. I heard Sam Harnish remark this (Wednesday) morning that he had to make two trips to Medford with his car Saturday morning, and I think from what I can learn that the most of the cars will be pressed into service on that day.

Since my last report R. R. Minter renewed his subscription to the Daily Mail Tribune and S. H. Harnish has paid $3 for auto service ad and F. L. Heath has paid $1 for ad in Eaglets.

R. R. Minter made a business trip to Medford Tuesday, returning on the motor car Wednesday.

APPLEGATE

The girls of this community are going to start something new in the line of sports for girls. The Provolt girls challenged the Applegate girls for a game of baseball. The girls are going to call a meeting, when they will elect a captain and organize a team. "Then leave it to us."

The dance at the socialist hall last Saturday night was quite a success. The crowd enjoyed the music and had a good time. Twenty-three numbers were sold.

Helen and Gertrude Mee, Mary and Hazel Bebb and Billy Lafferty took dinner at the Wright home Sunday.

A number of the farmers in this valley have driven their cattle to the high range near Steamboat.

Fred Huffman and Alvie Kendall left for Crater Lake last Wednesday.

James Francis of Jacksonville is visiting George Huffman of Thompson creek.

Dave Buckley of Ruch met with an accident one day last week. While walking down the road he fell on a stone in such a way that he broke his leg between the knee and ankle. Dr. Sweeney of Murphy set the broken bone.

The hay balers are pretty busy in this vicinity.

Robert Winningham, who is staying with Abe Krombling, went to Grants Pass Friday.

A number of boys and girls went in swimming at the Kubli swimming hole Sunday afternoon. Some jumped in and jumped out again, saying that the water was like ice, while others said with chattering teeth and purple lips that the water was fine.

Mrs. Wilcox, with Kathryn Offenbacher, spent a few days in Jacksonville last week.

Mary and Hazel Bebb returned to their home in Central Point after visiting their grandmother and relatives on Thompson creek the past month.

Fred Offenbacher spent Sunday at the Kubli home.

Mrs. Ballard, who has been visiting friends and relatives on Thompson creek, returned to her home in Chico, Monday.

Mrs. Maud Kubli and her daughter Edith drove to Medford Friday.

Mrs. S. L. Benson received a telegram Monday telling of her father's death at Buckeye, Cal. She and Mr. Benson departed Tuesday morning for Redding to attend the funeral which will be held at that place on Wednesday, June 30.
