

STATE ADVISORY BOARD COMING

Beginning Monday, July 12, the advisory board of the state highway commission, consisting of Messrs. S. Benson, J. H. Albert and Leslie Butler, will make an inspection of the Pacific highway from Portland to the California line, returning through central Oregon. The members of the county courts accompany the advisory board through their respective counties and such additional distance as they may see fit.

It is the purpose on this trip to discuss road matters in general and to receive suggestions or ideas that may assist the advisory board and highway department in planning for the future, having more particularly in view at this time the 1916 construction program.

Members of the Jackson county court are requested to meet the party at Grants Pass at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of Wednesday, July 12.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

A new phone directory is out as of date June, though it was not available until about July 1. Ashland is credited with 831 subscribers, but few of them being duplicates. The prefix "Me" is attached to 19 names. Among corporations, the Southern Pacific leads off with four phones, while one business firm, J. P. Dodge & Sons, and affiliations, are represented by five phones, the largest number in use by any one firm in town. Only one store in the city uses two phones, that being the grocery firm of Nims & Samders. The familiar surnames of Brown and Jones are comparatively few, but Smith comes to the fore, patronizing an even dozen phones, although one of the parties is disguised under the name of Smyth.

F. M. Blevins went to Grants Pass Saturday for a visit with his son, J. T. Blevins.

Ed Wheatley and John Manly of Grinnell, Ia., old-time friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Day, were transient visitors here Saturday afternoon, being shown over some of Ashland's scenic attractions. Both were on the way to San Francisco, and from there to Los Angeles as delegates to the Elks' convention.

A stranger was noticed Saturday sampling the waters from the Carter fountain on the Plaza. He went the rounds of the various bubblers, declaring there was nothing in it as to any appreciable difference in the drinks from the several taps.

Troop A, Portland cavalry contingent of the O. N. G., passed through here Sunday, sixty strong, bound for maneuvers at Monterey. Captain Frank P. Tebbets was in command.

Mrs. R. Gillilan of Clifton, Pa., accompanied by two daughters and chauffeur, passed through here the last of the week, bound for Portland and Seattle. The party occupied a Cadillac. They were twenty-four days on the Lincoln highway from their eastern home to San Francisco, and three and one-half days from that city to Southern Oregon in this vicinity.

Miss Francis Hamlin, instructor the past year in schools under the auspices of St. Andrews' oratory at Honolulu, returned last Thursday for a summer's vacation with a host of friends here. She came to San Francisco on the steamer Manon, Captain Weeden, the same vessel on which she made the outgoing trip. Verne Blue, from the same school, is also visiting here, accompanied by his protégé, Wai Chun Shin, an unusually bright Chinese lad of 15 years, son of a Chinese minister in the Hawaiian islands. Both these teachers will return to the islands the last of August.

Mrs. Agnes Russell and daughter, Margaret, relatives of the J. W. McCoy family, who have been visiting here, leave for the exposition this week, returning to Ashland later on. They are from Norfolk, Va.

Stanford Johnson, at one time manager of the local Fruit & Produce association, and who is visiting his brother, Albert Johnson, residing on Walnut street, will make a trip to Portland and other northern points before returning home to South Pasadena, Cal.

D. M. Lowe left the first of the week for San Francisco, Fruit Inspector Hopkins went with him and they took along additional exhibits to supplement displays already made in the big agricultural building. Of the thirty-eight gold medals already awarded Oregon exhibitors, Lowe has captured over a dozen of them.

Mrs. Eastman arrived Friday for a visit with her son, H. G. Eastman, her daughter, Gertrude, accompanied her. Mother and daughter now reside at Santa Ana, Cal.

W. E. Herrin of San Francisco, general counsel of the Southern Pacific, was here the last of the week, visiting his father, J. S. Herrin. He was accompanied by his son.

OLD NICODEMUS NIMBLE—AT THE FRONT

No. 1—Ever hear of my old horse, Shadrack? Greatest animal that ever lived! I trained him. Never was a horse with as much sense as Shadrack. Many a general tried to buy him from me in Europe. I refused all offers!

No. 2—They were sending artillery to a hilltop in Flanders! It was necessary to get a dispatch to the first line trench ahead.

No. 3—Leaping on Shadrack, I galloped off, the shells bursting round me! Suddenly a big shell whizzed past!

No. 4—Shadrack, carefully trained, planted his hoofs on it and it bore us along toward the position being assaulted!

No. 5—Sailing over the enemy's battery, Shadrack landed me before the commander's tent! I delivered the message!

Marshfield, arrived Saturday evening, driving a Ford clear through to San Francisco. His wife, who is a niece of the Tozer, Murphy and Neil clans, accompanied him, also the keeper of the Marshfield lighthouse and his wife. Mrs. Henry Hart of Roseburg, with her son as chauffeur, were of the party in another car.

Police Chief Porter, while living in Indiana, had a hand in remounting what is said to have been the first automobile ever constructed in this country. It was known as the "Haines horseless carriage," built by a genius named Haines, who was prominent in developing oil and gas territory throughout Hoosierdom. O. H. Zearing, a friend of Porter's, who has visited here, helped build the machine at Kokomo.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Porterfield of Murdock, Ill., visited last week with the family of Mrs. William Mathes, accompanied by the Misses Hazel Porterfield and Maude Horsley. The Porterfields were former neighbors of the Mathes family near Phoenix.

John Maxedon is now delivering the local carrier circulation of the Portland Journal, Harry Butterfield having relinquished that service July 1.

Ashland's Fourth of July observance was held in a quiet, informal manner on the 5th, with throngs gathering in the park. All business houses were closed. The chief outing event was the Epworth league excursion to the summit of Mt. Wagner. The organization left Saturday night for Long's Lodge at the mountain's base, where an altar was erected and Sunday was strictly observed in accordance with orthodox requirements. At midnight of that day the picnic gorm was given full sway. The mountain was climbed and after several hours enjoyed in viewing the panorama from its summit, the excursionists struck the trail for home, hiking all the way.

Conductor Louis Hilly left on Friday for San Francisco and other California points on an extended vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Butler were in Gold Hill Sunday attending the funeral of their brother-in-law, Reuben T. Caine, fireman of the Rogue River Public Service corporation, who died suddenly last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. W. Z. Moss of Lakeview, sister of Attorney W. J. Moore, was visiting her brother's family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner, residing on North Main street, left early this week to visit old home surroundings in Iowa and South Dakota.

John D. Martin returned the last of the week from a business and pleasure trip to Portland.

Funeral services of the late A. W. Silby, who died suddenly at the Cove ranch last Thursday, were held in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. J. Douglass. The deceased was nearly 60 years of age. His remains were taken to Los Gatos, Cal., for interment. Besides the widow, members of the family present at the funeral were two daughters, Mrs. Irma Brindon of Los Gatos, and Mrs. Harriet Kellogg of Marshfield, also other near relatives.

Agreeable to weather forecasts made a week ago, there were warm showers here on the Fourth, which laid the dust and cooled the atmosphere, even if they didn't drench the lawns and gardens.

H. L. White will remove this week to his residence property, corner of B street and First avenue. Mrs. White is in a San Francisco hospital with her daughter, Dr. Letha Tyler, having undergone a surgical operation. Her condition is progressing favorably.

W. F. Caldwell, Western Union operator, who recently broke a leg and who has been in the Granite City hospital under care of the Elks, is out on crutches.

Allen Davis is home from the Western Star mine, located near Gazelle and owned by an Ashland syndicate. His return here was due to the serious illness of Mrs. Davis. When he

GOLD HILL NUGGETS

Mr. Hunt is erecting a cement plant. This fall they will remove to their former home in Kansas, where they will spend the winter. However reports have it that they will make their future home in Gold Hill.

L. Boyd, formerly S. P. agent at Halsey, Oregon, arrived last Saturday to assume charge of the local depot, due to the departure of Mrs. M. R. Rice to Portland. Mrs. Boyd and her son arrived on Friday of this week.

Dr. Kelsey and a crew of assistants are at work each evening making a small dam in Rogue river, so as to create a swimming pool. By putting in rock between the shoe and an island it will make a still water pool, which will be almost ideal for swimming. It is intended that in time to arrange for more extensive bathing and swimming places.

Horace Pelton recently shipped twenty-six head of alfalfa fattened two and three-year-old cattle from his Sam's alley ranch to Portland markets.

Supposedly caused by defective wiring, fire broke out in the Kellogg undertaking parlors in east Gold Hill, Friday afternoon, about 4:15. The firemen were soon in action with hose cart, but owing to a lack of blaze and a very dense smoke the source could not be located readily. By steady work the fire was practically confined to the one building. One fatality occurred while endeavoring to prevent the fire spreading to the telephone exchange, Reuben T. Caine, local manager, and in which building he had his residence, undoubtedly over-exerted himself, causing heart failure. He had been frequently troubled with his heart before and it is thought this was the cause of his death. He is survived by a wife and two small children, a sister, Mrs. Floyd Eddings; a brother William Caine, all of Gold Hill. Mrs. Caine's sister, Mrs. E. N. Butler, of Ashland, was summoned at once, as was also another sister from Medford.
