

PROGRAM OPENS AT CHAUTAUQUA

ASHLAND, July 8.—Chautauqua opened Tuesday morning, which date was termed Ohio day, although the Buckeye designation was honored more in the breach than in the observance. The glorious shower prevailing was welcomed as a general benefit, even if it did temporarily discommode some of the Chautauqua worshippers.

In the morning at 11 there was a health talk by Miss Edna Eugenia Lowe, also a reading at 2:45 p. m. by the same lady. The event of the day was Ramsgard's lecture on "Napoleon," accompanied by nearly 150 elegant colored views.

Wednesday was Central Point and Gold Hill day. A health talk and prelude were followed by two of Ramsgard's masterpieces, "The Present European Crisis," which, as its title implies, deals with past and present conditions in the great war zone, and "Russia of Today," which included rare descriptive features of the czar's people and government.

Among familiar Chautauqua faces none is more welcome than Professor Frederick Berchthold of Corvallis, member of the faculty of O. A. C. This is his sixth or seventh consecutive season here. His specialty this year is "Contemporary English and Continental Literature," the classes meeting each morning except Sunday.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Poley, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Poley and her daughter Minnie, left Wednesday morning for San Francisco and other points. The trip will be a motor one in Mr. Poley's Studebaker. Miss Eva Poley, teacher in the local schools, will join the party later by train.

Investigation of the recent wreck in local railroad yards is going forward. Railway officials are reinforced in efforts to arrive at findings by two Ashland citizens, V. O. N. Smith, cashier of the Citizens' bank, and ex-Mayor Robert Neil. A searching inquiry is being made and "private audiences" are being granted hourly on board the "Shasta," with many railway employees invited to appear on the carpet, and such invitations are minus the formal "R. S. V. P." Star chamber proceedings are reported to be in vogue, with probabilities that the "safety first" slogan of the S. P. will receive a severe jolt in view of developments.

Mrs. P. B. Whitney returned Wednesday from Grants Pass where she went to visit her niece, Mrs. Kenneth Neil, who is a daughter of Phil Meichan, Sr., of Portland. The Neil estate is Ardencraig, located about 7 miles out from Grants Pass, and is an extensive property. Mr. Neil is an officer with a British regiment in France. He has been ill in the hospital for some time past, but a recent cablegram announces an improvement in his condition. The family name, Neil, is eminently Scotch.

Manual training and domestic art finds are discontinued by the public schools of Chico, Cal., which have recently added 50 beautifully gowned dolls to their training department. Mrs. Homer Billings has returned from a six weeks' visit with her parents in western Iowa. Siskiyou county teachers will hold their annual institute this year at Dunsmuir instead of Yreka, as has been customary. The institute begins Aug. 20, with over 100 teachers in attendance.

Mrs. Mary Broker of Sacramento, daughter of S. Peniston, is home for a visit with her parents. In cleaning out Yreka's old septic tank, contractors removed gold dust, the "clean-up" amounting to $2.50, which has been turned into the city treasury.

Mrs. Gus Hedberg and children have returned from an exposition visit which extended as far south as Los Angeles. Gus preceded her home by a few days in time to round up the Modern Woodmen neighbors for the July assessment and also to resume his duties as Western Union lineman.

George Roberts of Talent, an old-time stage driver of this section, was a picnic visitor at the doings on July 5. He used to drive the "limited" from Barrons to Rock Point on the Rogue river, and met many former acquaintances among Ashland people.

W. H. McNaair is attending a state convention of Oregon druggists at Gearhart this week. He will also visit his brother Sydney at Raymond, Wash., before returning.

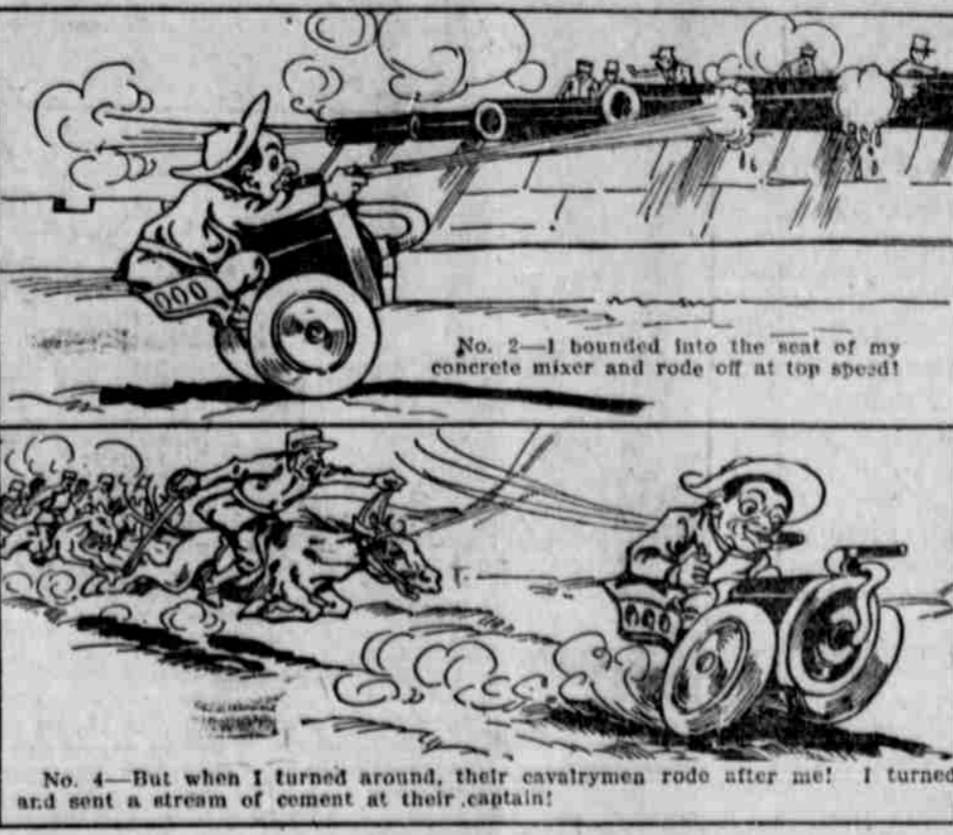

Miss Bernita Mix of Sacramento arrived early in the week for a visit with her mother, Mrs. F. B. Mix, who has been in this vicinity for sometime past. F. B. Mix was former owner of the depot drug store.

Nowt Jacobs, a former county clerk of Jackson county, in the days when populism controlled political affairs in this region, is visiting friends hereabouts. He attended the

OLD NICODEMUS NIMBLE—AT THE FRONT

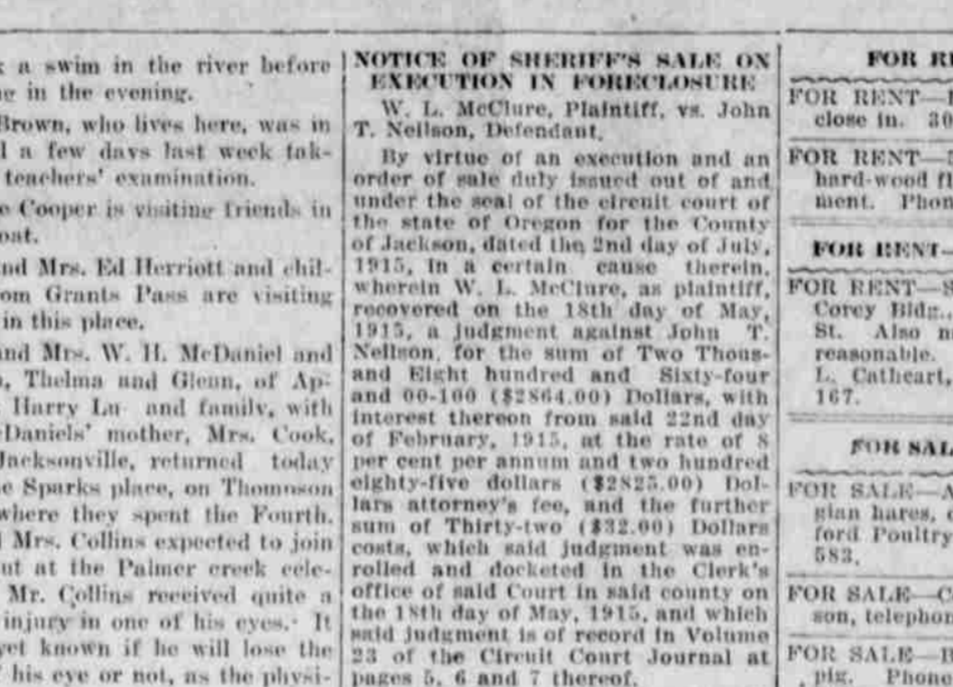

No. 1—A certain general believed he could save the day if he could silence the guns of the enemy's chief fortress. He asked me for a plan.

No. 2—1 bounded into the seat of my concrete mixer and rode off at top speed!

No. 3—Approaching the guns I sent a stream of cement over them—the men fled in terror! I was soon master!

No. 4—But when I turned around, their cavalrymen rode after me! I turned and sent a stream of cement at their captain!

big picnic at Ashland on the 5th. Nowt, now resides at Riverside, Cal.

In reviewing the history of the nomenclature of northern California towns, the Sacramento Bee of recent date copies circumstances heretofore related in these columns, giving credit to James Thornton and Jacob Wassner of Ashland and their associates for having mined the first placer gold on the spot where Yreka now stands. This was 64 years ago. Mr. Thornton is still living here at the age of nearly 90 years. What is now Yreka was first called "Thompson's Dry Diggings" and afterwards "Shasta Butte City." Yreka is derived from "Yreka" the Indian vernacular for Mount Shasta.

Miss Elizabeth Morrison, accompanied by her nieces, the Misses Emily and Ruth Longfellow, all of Minneapolis, Minn., were Fourth of July visitors here with relatives among the Beaver families.

E. M. Fowler of New Westminster, B. C., partner in the local Carson's Lumber Co., has been a recent visitor here. He is connected with large shingle mill interests in the Canadian province. His sister, Dr. Lulu Fowler, graduate of Russums Medical college, Chicago, and who has been a resident of Eugene, is now in Ashland and will locate and practice in this vicinity. Later on she will be joined by her parents.

Mrs. Major Barron is adding to the appearance of her property, the slightly Staples residence in the Nob Hill district, which she purchased some time ago from E. T. Staples.

Benton Bowers is down town again, after severe illness which has kept him confined to the house for weeks past. His condition is yet in the convalescent stage.

S. P. diner No. 1003 is manned by a white crew of cooks and waiters instead of darkies.

Louis E. Joy of Portland, has been in this territory for some time past as country circulator for the Oregonian. He is a brother of A. C. Joy, former principal of the Bellevue school and owner of the Producer-Consumer orchard in that locality.

Rev. Robert Tweed and wife, former residents but now living in Idaho in the vicinity of Harrison, are chautauqua visitors. The family still own property here and are eager to return to southern Oregon. Mr. Tweed is a retired Presbyterian clergyman.

Miss Edna Bowers, daughter of Benton Bowers, was married at the home of her aunt, Mrs. T. A. Childers at Marfa, Presidio county, Texas, to Clay Holland, of Deming, New Mexico. The ceremony occurred June 23. Miss Edna left Ashland about a year ago to visit her aunt in Texas. Mr. Holland is a prominent cattleman of his home region.

Mrs. S. A. Kirby of Douglas, Wyoming, sister of E. T. Staples, is visiting her brother's family here.

Dr. J. R. Cooper and wife of Newcastle, Pa., have been visiting Ashland in connection with a tour of the western country. Dr. Cooper is a majority stockholder in the Ashland Commercial Orchards company.

APPLAGATE

The showers are very inviting and refreshing after the few days of hot weather. One of the days last week the mercury in the thermometer huggled 100 degrees from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m.

The people here all spent their Fourth in picnicking. Mrs. Mand Kubli with daughter and son, Edith and Edward, with their friends, Jack and Beatrice O'Brien and Alta and Chester Kubli, went the Fourth and a few days at the lake. The McFamily drove up to the O'Brien Park, on top of Steamboat hill, and returned the same day, and a number of others were gone that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler drove out here last Sunday, attending to some of their household goods. Mr. Wheeler took a swim in the river before returning in the evening.

Roy Brown, who lives here, was in Medford a few days last week taking the teachers' examination.

Bessie Cooper is visiting friends in Steamboat.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Herriott and children from Grants Pass are visiting friends in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDaniel and children, Thelma and Glenn, of Applegate, Harry La and family, with Mr. McDaniel's mother, Mrs. Cook, all of Jacksonville, returned today from the Sparks place, on Thomson creek, where they spent the Fourth. Mr. and Mrs. Collins expected to join them, but at the Palmer creek celebration Mr. Collins received quite a serious injury in one of his eyes. It is not yet known if he will lose the sight of his eye or not, as the physician is not able to tell yet.

Thaw, witness mine whips, killed the large suit, the people that have been staying in Steamboat with Mr. and Mrs. Potter, left for their home in Corvallis a few days back.

Bessie Colvin of Jacksonville is out staying with Marie Benedict this week.

We are all glad to know that Mrs. Pernell was able to be up in a wheelchair Tuesday. She expects to come to her home in about a week.

Walter Miller, Harvey Ruch and Herbert Read left Monday for Klamath county and will be gone about three months.

Fred Surran, the miner from Steamboat, made a business trip to Applegate on the Fourth.

Joe Rader and wife of Phoenix are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Messenger.

Kate Shepherd and Sam Jordan of Ashland tarried a couple of days in Steamboat fishing, having excellent luck.

Our second traveling library is in the community. The books are at John Pernell's store and can be had at your calling for them.
