

TABLE ROCK TABLETS

Verne Pendleton and his uncle, T. H. Pendleton, spent last Saturday and Sunday fishing on Evans creek and returned Monday loaded down with the speckled beauties.

Dick Waters and wife of Medford were guests of the Sealrooks last Sunday.

James Reese cut six acres of barley last week on the Pendleton ranch that was so heavy that it required twenty-seven pounds of twine to tie the bundles.

When we consider that ordinary grain requires about two pounds of twine to the acre, it will be seen that this was some grain, even for this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Table Rock's "newly weds," went to Applegate Friday, where they visited relatives and attended the celebration, returning home Monday.

Oliver Pendland of Talent made a business trip to this district last Tuesday.

Professor Haight, the music teacher, reports that he is well pleased with the progress being made by his pupils in this district, who, he says, are among the brightest he has ever had the pleasure of teaching.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. J. W. McBride and Clark Collins of this place were among the injured in the train wreck at Ashland last Monday. Mr. McBride was cut and bruised about the head and Clark Collins had his knee sprained.

U. S. Collins and family of Medford visited relatives here over Sunday.

Quite a crowd enjoyed a swim in the river last Sunday and found the water much warmer than usual at this time of the year.

The Bob Whites are becoming quite numerous in these parts, and their whistling in the evenings remind people from the "States" of their boyhood days.

More than a score of our citizens attended the movies at the Page the first of the week to view the pictures made in this county, and all were delighted with them, some saying that they were far better than the average films making the circuit.

Harry Nealon and James Pendland were business visitors in Central Point Tuesday.

Table Rock was represented at many different Fourth of July celebrations, but the majority of our people stayed at home. The usual interest in such affairs seemed to be lacking.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Table Rock Ditch company will be held at the home of Colonel Washburn on July 12.

Carl Beebe of Agate, who is a frequent visitor in Table Rock, has been missing lately, owing to a severe attack of quinsy.

The damp weather this week is somewhat retarding the harvesting of grain, but is proving to be of some benefit to other crops.

Weldon Sage and Sanford Richardson of Medford were Sunday visitors in Table Rock.

The Table Rock ball team is scheduled to play with the Antelope team at that place next Sunday.

Charles Dunlap and wife of Lakeview, Or., and John Dunlap of New Jersey are spending a few days at the Lydiard home, and seem to be well pleased with our valley. Mrs. Lydiard is a sister of the Dunlap brothers.

It would definitely determine with our diplomatic relations were to continue.

GOLD HILL NUGGETS

Miss Mildred and Master Abram Myers left for Portland last Friday, where they will reside with Mrs. Barkhoff for the present at least.

George W. Sorenson, formerly secretary of the Rogue River Public Service corporation, in company with several Grants Pass mining men, spent Saturday last in Gold Hill, investigating several mining properties in which they are interested.

Professor and Mrs. W. C. Thom had Gold Hill friends farewell Monday evening before leaving for Portland that evening. Mr. Thom was formerly a partner with A. E. Kellogg in the Comus theater, of this place, and also director of the Gold Hill concert band. Both Mr. and Mrs. Thom are excellent musicians and they expect to secure positions of this nature in Portland. One of their vaudeville musical stunts is producing harmony from bottles and dishes.

Pete Myers and Lester Lord are spending their vacation as the guests of Tommy Anderson at his mine on Jump-Off Joe creek.

Miss Alta Farmer, a former resident of this place, but now of Ashland, has been visiting with Mrs. Luke Jennings for the past fortnight.

Mrs. Anna Nixon arrived from Grants Pass for a brief visit with Mrs. W. E. Darling, Thursday.

No. 2—I listened to the commander's tale of woe. His trenches had been washed away by a giant hydraulic nozzle of the enemy!

No. 3—Seating myself in my Maggrip, I flew over the entrenchments to the scene of action!

No. 4—I dove headforemost into the terrific stream of water coming from the nozzle! But I am a marvelous swimmer!

a drug store in Ashland, visited with local friends for several days the first of the week.

Professor and Mrs. Charles F. Beck of Peru, Neb., departed Sunday afternoon for San Francisco, where they will visit the exposition, after spending a few days with Mrs. Beck's brother, W. E. Darling, and family. Mr. Beck is president of the Nebraska State Normal school, located at Peru. They will also visit at Oakland and Los Angeles.

W. G. Myers was a business visitor at Medford and Jacksonville on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. R. Walker visited with relatives in Grants Pass for several days the first of the week.

President Adams being absent, the Tuesday evening meeting of the Greater Gold Hill club was called to order by Vice-President H. D. Reed. Also, Secretary Dodge being at San Francisco, Ben H. Lammman acted in his stead. About thirty members and visitors were present. During the reports of committees it developed that Gold Hill now has a tourist camping ground, located within the city limits, to which city water will be piped and connections made with the sewer. It is very well located, with plenty of fine shade trees and a splendid view of the river. It was also decided at the meeting to hold the next open session and reception next Thursday evening, July 15, on which night the famous liberty bell will pass through Gold Hill. Arrangements are being made for an appropriate program, as well as a large demonstration at the depot, since it has been learned that the bell is well lighted and visible even at night. Kodaks will be in evidence.

Z. Drumm, at one time operator of the Nellie Wright mine, on Blackwell hill, stopped off in Gold Hill Monday for a visit with old friends, after an absence of ten years. He is now located in San Francisco.

Doc Yroman of Ashland visited in Gold Hill Wednesday and Thursday.

Fritz Dean, civil engineer for the Rogue River Public Service corporation, is at present surveying at the Ament dam on a company project.

Marion Hodges and his daughter, Mrs. McCue, of Randon, Or., arrived Thursday night and will visit with the former's brother, S. T. Hodges, and family. The Hodges brothers are preparing for a trip into the hills, while Mrs. McCue will also enjoy the Rogue river sunshine and pure air, on account of her health.

G. B. Walters arrived at the Horace Pelton ranch in Same Valley from Portland Thursday.

Preparations have been begun for the industrial fair this fall. In connection with the fair, the "Roaring Camp of '52" will be repeated. Everyone who attended it the last time was more than pleased and have asked time and again that it be made a regular feature.

EAGLETS ADRIFT

By A. C. Howlett.

The last time that I wrote for the readers of the Mail Tribune I was giving an account of my trip from Medford to this place, and if I remember stopped off just after we had passed where the wreck occurred. Shortly after passing the place where the wreck occurred we came to the celebrated Shasta Springs and here is one of the noted places on the entire route as here is one of the greatest health resorts along the entire route unless it is the celebrated Ashland springs, but by being held up on account of the wreck we were detained about three and a half hours and that threw us into the dark. Just before the hold up there were two ladies and a boy from Oakland, Cal., who were having their summer outing at the Shasta resort and had been fishing along up the Sacramento river, boarded the train so as to avoid the five mile walk and in order to hurry up and save time, and after we had been kept up there for over two hours they came to the conclusion that they would have saved time and the suffering from empty stomachs if they had gone on on foot. But our tribulations were not over, for in a short time we were stopped again and an investigation, for there is no use in asking any of the train men what the trouble is, for they never know a thing. We found that we had run into a broken rail and in the course of a short time we had another stop and found that the trouble was another broken rail, and by this time we were so far behind that we had to stop and give the right of way to other trains until we reached Lahama when it seemed that the way was made clear for us, for from there on we had no long stops and smooth sailing. By this time daylight began to appear and we had a fine view of one of the beauty spots of northern California. We traveled for miles over a vast prairie interspersed with grain, in sacks that were scattered over the fields, indicating the reason that there were so many fine large houses and barns and occasionally an orchard but the principal part of the country seemed to be devoted to farming and while a part of the land would have the grain in the sack, for there they use the combined harvester, there was a large part of the grain still standing and in addition to the grain there were hundreds of acres of alfalfa and everything indicated that we were passing through a fine productive country, but there is one very serious drawback, not that I would speak disparagingly of the country, but we all know that every country has its drawbacks, and one great drawback to that part of California is the heavy winds and occasionally a north wind which often burns up the crop, for I have seen apples almost cooked when I was preaching on the Red Bluff circuit. Along the route we passed several towns and in some instances what might claim to be cities, and at last we began to reach the land of my earlier days where I spent my early manhood and finally we came to a stop at Davis, situated on a vast prairie between here (Vacaville) and Sacramento City, and there we made quite a stop and I had a chance to look around and see what changes had taken place since I preached my first sermon in the old school house in 1858 when I was nothing but an exhorter, and my memory was kept busy running over the past fifty-seven years. Leaving there we soon arrived at Elmira where I had to change cars for Vacaville.

The next time I write I will try to tell something of the country around here and my ride to Vallejo, about the roads, orchards etc.

Vacaville, Cal., July 6/1915.

Such bidder's bond shall be conditioned that if said bid is accepted, the party bidding will duly enter into and execute the contract. The foregoing quantities are approximate only, being given as a basis for the comparison of bids, and the County Court of Jackson county does not expressly or by implication, agree that the actual amount of work will correspond therewith, but reserves its rights to increase or decrease the amount of any class or portion of the work that may be deemed necessary or expedient by the county surveyor of Jackson county.
