OLD NICODEMUS NIMBLE—AT THE FRONT

No. 1—Once I found myself in the Carpathians—between two fires. I had with me a considerable supply of medicine and instruments intended for the red cross doctors.

No. 2—I hollowed out a huge log making a place big enough to hold me and my supplies! It was no easy task—except to me!

No. 3—Having plunged from a sheer cliff in this receptacle, I rode through a hail of bullets, now in the air, now bouncing from the cliffs!

No. 4—I heard the soldiers of the enemy howl with rage as they saw me safely reach bottom. I clambered out in a jiffy—safe!

No. 5—Then I carefully loaded the nearby red cross wagon with my medical supplies. I needn't say that later I was hailed as the benefactor of the service!

place became for the time a true sanctuary, a place where God meets with his people.
Although nothing of special attraction had been previously announced more than Christian worship and religious exercises still the meeting was well attended and the lively interest shown gives evidence to this fact that church life and interest in the gospel message are not dead in Central Point and the inclination of the people to respond to the call of gospel work gives promise of a good harvest in the future.

prospector who made the tramp from Burns, Ore. While gone Mr. Hammersley secured fifteen bear and sixteen cougar, besides numerous smaller varmints. "It was a splendid vacation, and a profitable one as well," he said. "I call Gold Hill my home and I am back to stay for a while." He also intimated that this trip carried out his idea that a fellow can have the kind of pleasure he desires, and still earn a livelihood from it.

Last Sunday the Gold Hill ball team again showed their prowess, in a game with the Table Rock boys, which resulted in a score of 15 to 1, in favor of the local team. Foley, the G. H. pitcher was in fine shape as he had 16 strike outs to his credit after the game, while Collins, of T. R., made but three. Other data from the score book follows: Gold Hill, 22 hits; 15 runs; and 2 errors. Table Rock, 10 hits; 1 run; and 5 errors. Tomorrow the local boys will make the trip to Merlin, where they expect to again clean the magicians.

Married at Jacksonville Wednesday afternoon, July 14, Lawrence Whitsett and Miss Della Walker. Both parties are well known in Gold Hill, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Walker. Our best wishes go with them all along the journey of life.
