Blood was spurting from Frank's wounds and another prisoner was trying to make his way back to bed. A knife made from a file which the convicts had used in killing hogs during the day was found on the dormitory floor.

Dr. George B. Compton, the prison surgeon, was at once called, but before he could reach the prison dormitory, two surgeons who are serving terms in prison were at Frank's side, administering first aid.

AGED MINER IN FIT OF DESPONDENCY COMMITS SUICIDE

Old and sick and despondent, Romeo D. Strang, age 79 years, a prospector of the hills of Colorado, Idaho and Oregon for years, committed suicide Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Joe Kelly, in the Griffin creek district. Strang sat upon the edge of the bed, put the barrel of a 40-44 rifle against his chest, and discharged the gun by pressing the trigger with his cane. The bullet ploughed its way through the heart, at the back, imbedding itself in the roof of the house. Death was instantaneous. R. W. Stansbury and Clifford Kelly heard the shot and rushed to the spot, but the old man was beyond human aid.

Strang had worked for Joe Kelly for five years, doing chores but of late he had been in poor health. He made careful preparation for ending his existence. A piece of cloth always kept in the barrel of the gun was found on the edge of the bed. The last three or four days Strang had been downcast. Personal papers inspected by Coroner John A. Perl showed that he was a member of the Masonic lodge of Idaho Springs, Colorado, and that he had filed on mining claims throughout the west.

Nothing is known of any of the relatives of Strang. No inquest will be held. The dead man left no farewell note. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

No such thing as "rubber roofing"

A lot of manufacturers call their roofing "Rubber Roofing," "Rubberine," "Rubberoid"—Rubber-like and Rubber-thin. The life is all out of rubber if exposed to the daylight for six months. It would be silly to put rubber in roofing, and rubber costs more per pound than roofing-sells for for a hundred pounds. There is no such thing as "Rubber Roofing" of any kind. There is no rubber in
