EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, R. R. Minter, August 3. 1915, by Rev. L. L. Simmons, Waldermer E. Tammel and Miss Jessie Minter. The newly married couple started the same afternoon for San Francisco on a bridal tour and to visit the Panama exposition. Their many friends in this section are wishing them all the happiness imaginable. Mr. H. owns a large tract of land north of here and is considered one of teh leading men of his neighborhood, and Mrs. Hammel has been raised on her father's farm, three miles north of Eagle Point and has a host of friends where she is known.

Nimrod Charley and his son Walter were in town Thursday. Mr. Nimrod Charley is living now on his farm in Illinois valley, Josephine county, and his son is living on his father's place on the divide between the north and south forks of Little Butte creek, N. C. seems to think that his section of the country promises to be one of the rich sections in the state as there are very extensive copper mines there that are being developed and the owners are now hauling vast quantities of ore to Grants Pass for shipment, and he seems to think that when the railroad that is being built out of Grants Pass to that valley is completed that there will be a large number of men employed there, and that will create a demand for the food | ten days. supplies of the valley.

Their next meeting will be held on the bank of Little Butte creek just across from the Lake creek postoffice in a tent and before the meeting of the grange they contemplate having a picnic dinner which will take place on Saturday, Sept. 4. Everybody is invited to come and bring their dinner and have a good time. There will be present on that occasion a deputy Grange organizer, and a special dispensation will be granted so as to allow the grange to receive applications for membership and have them acted on and initiate the applicant the same day. I expect to be there at the time and will have something to tell the readers of the Mail Tribune on the subject and also be prepared to transact business for the Mail Tribune. It is the in-
