HONG KONG KOLUM

One advantage of having wooden leg—can tuck up skeeter so won't fall down.

Very Likely?

Do hurried city folks with kitchen-
ettes,
Satisfy themselves with eating meal-
ettes?

A. E. TURB,
Mgr. The Bathhouse,
San Diego, Cal.

Would You Take His Word for It?
(From the Warren, Ill., Sentinel-Leader.)

I. H. Damleyer, who lives near Mill-ville, had the misfortune to break his limb, last Monday.

Good Reason

Why does your wife dry the clothes
in the cellar?

Because daughter is wearing so little that her mother is ashamed to hang them in the yard.—Judge.

The Skeeter

The skeeter is a bird of prey,
Which flies about at night,
About three-eighths of it is beak,
And five-eighths appetite,
And fifteen-eighths or so is buzz,
And nineteen-eighths is bite.

Eternal Feminine

First Girl—Belle always looks under the bed to see if there is a man there.

Second Girl—Yes, but she always glances in the mirror first.

Perfectly Safe

Thug (rushing into office)—Sir, where can I hide? The police are coming!

Clerk—Get into the card index case. I defy anyone to find anything in there!—Judge.

Easy

Marriage was the subject under discussion at the sewing party.

"I could never understand the little reference to marriages in heaven," said Mrs. Jones thoughtfully.
"Why do you suppose there is no marrying nor giving in marriage there?"

"That's easy," said a sarcastic spinster. "There probably isn't a man in the place!"—Ladies Home Journal.

Stella's Bargain Counter

Sons of the old farmers who used to get at 5 to milk the cows now wear at the milk man for rattling the cans at 9.

Ready money isn't ready when you want to borrow some.

His Explanation

William did not shine as a student,
and his reports clearly proved this,
yet he insisted to his mother that he was right at the top of his class.

"You see," he explained when one of his reports was under scrutiny,
"that 'E' is for 'excellent' and that
'D' is for 'dandy'."

"But," persisted his mother, "the little girl across the street gets almost nothing but 'A's' on her reports."

"Well, mother," responded the boy,
"I hate to give her away, but that
'A' stands for 'awful'."

And it is said that he got away with it.

THE RE-BONDING SCHEME

THE comment of bond purchasers upon the proposed scheme to rebond the city of Medford for $1,020,000 to redeem $564,250 Bancroft air improvement bonds outstanding and rebate $455,750 to property owners indicates that the proposal is regarded as unbusinesslike and calculated to injure the credit of the city abroad.

Without the consent of the bondholders the proposition will be attended with disaster. That this consent will not be forthcoming is shown by the following extract from the letter received by Recorder Foss from the First National bank of Cleveland, O., the largest purchaser of the bonds:

The bondholders would not for a moment consider exchanging their securities, which have specific items back of them, together with the general liability of the city, for a bond which carries with it only the general liability of the city, to begin with, and it seems to us such a proposal would result only in a disastrous way to your city, and jeopardize its credit beyond all possible redemption.

If an attempt should be made to exchange long term bonds for the existing improvement bonds, it would be seriously contested by the bondholders, resulting, first of all in a default by the city, which would be published in all of the bond journals and cause an absolute shattering of your city's credit, as the bondholders would naturally fight to protect their rights."

The refunding plan looks to the bond-buyer like a scheme to provide hard-up property owners with a little needed cash, rather than a patriotic effort to better the city's condition. Its worst feature is that it sacrifices the community for the individuals owning property upon paved streets—increasing taxation without resultant benefit.

It would have been wise to ascertain the sentiments of bond-buyers before launching the scheme, for if the bonds cannot be sold the plan is futile. Moreover, such an issue will completely exhaust the city credit and render it powerless to lend financial assistance to a railroad to the coast or any other community upbuilding enterprise that will return dividends in the shape of prosperity.

We have suffered enough from inflation—let us keep from inflating our debts and taxation. They are high enough as it is.

WATER SUPPLY ENDANGERED

THE MAIL TRIBUNE does not want to appear in the role of obstructor or discourager of enterprise, but if desires to call the attention of the public to the fact that the purity of Medford's water supply is endangered by the building of a dam at Fish lake.

The dam is needed to impound water for irrigation purposes, but some provision should be made at once to safeguard the city's water supply, for the impounded water will not be fit for drinking purposes unless a filtering system is utilized.

When the previous dam existed, analysis of the water showed it impregnated with typhoid and other bacilli. It could not be otherwise. The reservoir basin and drainage area has been used as cattle pasture for half a century. All the debris of countless herds as well as the decaying vegetation of the forests will be drained into the lake, to decompose and find its way into Medford stomachs.

Some method must be provided to keep Medford's water pure, and should be provided by those causing its spoliation. Now is the time for action, before the damage has been done.

If Medford calmly watches without protest the ruin of its water supply, in which it has invested nearly half a million dollars, it will lose its right of protest after the ruin has been wrought.

SMOKING PARLOR
FOR OLD LADIES*FRENCH COMMENT
GERMAN EXCUSE

ST. PAUL, Aug. 28.—A silent group of gray-haired women, some of them grandmothers and some great grandmothers, resting easily in comfortable rocking chairs with thin blue ribbons of smoke rising from their merschaum and calabash pipes will be one of the modernisms at the new $150,000 woman's building now in process of completion at the Ramsey county poor farm.

For the old ladies are to have an elaborate smoking room, fitted in modern style and, said Mrs. Albert Moore, wife of the farm superintendent, with a smile, today, "if the old ladies want the walls covered with pictures of race horses, prizefighters and baseball players, they may have them."

"When we took a poll of the old ladies regarding the establishment of a smoking," she continued, "there was hardly a dissenting vote. We shall furnish the tobacco."

Marriage was the subject under discussion at the sewing party.

"I could never understand the little reference to marriages in heaven," said Mrs. Jones thoughtfully.

"Why do you suppose there is no marrying nor giving in marriage there?"

"That's easy," said a sarcastic spinster. "There probably isn't a man in the place!"—Ladies Home Journal.

"But," persisted his mother, "the little girl across the street gets almost nothing but 'A's' on her reports."

"Well, mother," responded the boy, "I hate to give her away, but that 'A' stands for 'awful'."

And it is said that he got away with it.

PERMANENT MODEL CITY FOR PLYMOUTH

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Plans for a permanent model city to shelter a population of 100,000 to be erected at Plymouth, in connection with the celebration in 1929 of the 400th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, are being considered by municipal experts, it was announced today. The idea is to eliminate the waste of money used in the construction of temporary exposition buildings. The purpose is to build a permanent city that will be fire and smoke-proof and will suffice for fairs and industries.

A brief two-hour engagement occurred yesterday near the mouth of the river of Cattaro (in Dalmatia) near the Montenegrin border between our forces and rather strong detachments of the Austrians. The Austrians retired leaving numerous dead on the field. Ten prisoners remaining in our hands.

"But," persisted his mother, "the little girl across the street gets almost nothing but 'A's' on her reports."

"Well, mother," responded the boy, "I hate to give her away, but that 'A' stands for 'awful'."

And it is said that he got away with it.

4000 MORE MINERS
IN WALES STRIKE

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Although it had been announced that Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, who acted as arbitrator in the recent coal strike, would decline to see a deputation of miners, Mr. Runciman and David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, conferred for half an hour today with the committee representing the men which came to London from Cardiff.

A further conference will be held Monday.

Although dissatisfaction with Mr. Runciman's award to the miners is spreading, the men's leaders are standing firmly against another strike at this time. Nevertheless, reports from the coal fields today stated that 4000 more men had quit work.
