HOOPER CALLS ON KLAMATH CAMPERS

The following story from the Eugene Register is the first inking the authorities have had of John Austin Hooper since he left E. Kroff at Rogue River the evening of his escape. There is a striking resemblance between the farewell words of Hooper to both men: "W. L. Orr, living on Fourth avenue west, had the novel experience of sitting down to a camp fire in eastern Oregon and entertaining a noted highwayman, Hooper, unawares. Hooper, known all over the coast as the gentleman burglar, who recently commiserated an automobile in Grants Pass to make his escape from the jail, after robbing a bank, walked in on Mr. Orr, who with a party was camping on a ranch he owns near Fort Klamath. "The man came up, talked a while in his usual smooth and entertaining way. After remaining for a time he pulled out his watch and said that he had a long ways to go, and guessed he had better 'hit the trail,' and departed. "Shortly afterward officers telephoned that Hooper would be along that way and to look out for him, but he had gone, and no more trace of him has been found."

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

M. E. Root and B. U. Young representing the Produce Fruit Co. of Sacramento, Cal., were among us Tuesday last looking after the interest of the fruit men. Mr. Young is the vice-president and assistant manager of the company. The orchard men are busily engaged gathering their pears and peaches and the prospect is that they will have a large crop and the peaches seem to be of a superior quality. George Stevens and T. W. Osgood, one of the civil engineers and Mr. Cowgill another civil engineer, were all here trying to perfect the plan to have a general irrigation system throughout the valley last week. In my rounds Wednesday I had occasion to call on T. D. Singleton, one of our progressive farmers. While he has planted quite a tract of his land to fruit trees he also has utilized his land for diversified farming and the result is that he has a large lot of hay and grain on hand and is perfectly independent so far as this world's goods are concerned. While I was there he renewed his subscription to the weekly Mail Tribune and is talking of having his subscription changed from the weekly to the daily so that he can get "all the news, all the time." While I was there he told me that he had been over to help at a barnraising for Nick Young and that the following persons among Nick's neighbors assisted in the work: Pete Young, James Owens, Charles Given, Jimmie Duggan, Alex Betz, W. W. Taylor, Thomas and John Singleton and Thomas Cingade. The Butler threshing machine was at work at George Given's at the time, so that kept quite a number from joining in the festivities of the occasion for while they worked hard to get the frame up which they did, including the rafters, they always have fun on such occasions and to "cap the climax" two of Nick's sisters Miss Clara and Mrs. James Owens served a regular "Butte Creek" dinner that consisted of all the good things the country affords. The next move I made was for the beautiful home of Charles A. Pruett and just as I was turning around with my buggy to go to the next place Mr. Pruett came dashing by me in their auto. They had been out to Crater Lake, Port Klamath, Klamath Falls, Yreka, etc., and after resting a little while a nice large watermelon was out and we helped to dispose of a part of that and then Mr. Pruett gave me his check to renew his subscription to the weekly. Passing on to the next place I stopped at the home of J. L. Frank, where he renewed his subscription for the weekly Mail Tribune. From there I went to George Given's home where I found Mrs. G. and her daughter and one of the boys but Mr. Given was working on a tract of land that fell to Mrs. Given in the division of her father's estate, so I did no business there but sampled some of their fine peaches. Going from there to Nick Young's I found Nick at home just fixing up his wagon to go to the Edmonson mill after lumber to finish his barn and he told me that he was going to build a new house also on his own land as he has been living in his sister's house. I do no business there. The next man I saw was Sam Coy who bought a part of the old J. J. Fryer place. He was on his way home and had been down on the Bishop place picking peaches, but did no business with him, then went home and reached there just in time to eat my supper alone. Dr. Rebec, one of the professors in the state university and a car load were here Wednesday evening for supper. The doctor has an orchard near Jacksonville. Miss Ruth Holmes of Central Point is here visiting her cousin Miss Hazel Brown. While I was out Thursday working for the Mail Tribune I met Mr. Frank Derrick and he gave me his subscription for the weekly. I also called at the farm of John Rader but found that he was in the hills but his wife renewed the subscription to the weekly. I also went to some other places but found that they were short of cash so did no business, but live in hopes of doing better in the future. I see that the school board have posted a notice that there will be a special school election September 3 at 3:15 p. m. to vote on the adoption of the following budget, to-wit: For teachers salaries $2,925.00 Apparatus, major, chalk, etc., and H. TWO FISHERMEN AT MOUTH CONVICTED

Judge F. M. Calkins returned Monday from Coos county, where he tried the first cases of the Rogue river fishery rights, involving the rights of the rammer of the Markey estate and the independent fishermen. The charge was a violation of the injunction of the court, restraining pillagers from interfering with the rammer, employed by the Markey company. The two men tried were found guilty and fined $25 and costs. They will appeal to the supreme court of the state for a final decision.

FOREST BLAZES UNDER CONTROL BY SUN-DOWN

No new forest fires have been reported today in Jackson county, and all now burning are under control, according to reports received by the federal and state forestry services and the Jackson County Fire Patrol association. The fire in the Butte Falls district, which was the most serious, will be under control by sun-down, some of the fire-fighters sent out returning this morning. The Jackson County Fire Patrol association will import bloodhounds for the trailing of firebugs. An active effort will be made to apprehend some of the incendiaries who have been responsible for 90 per cent of the fires this summer. As high as thirty fires at a time have been set in the Trail district, and with dogs on the scene in three or four hours the arsonists could have been caught. The fires are set for the purpose of furnishing employment. One of the matters to come before the next session of the grand jury will be incendiarism. A brush fire burning on the headwaters of Pleasant creek, covering about 1000 acres, started Monday afternoon and threatens timber under the protection of the Patrol association. The fire on Galls and Kane creeks are under control, back-firing being resorted to. The fires on the Applegate are also well in hand.

MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

Yields To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Elkhart, Ind.:—"I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me. "If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SARA WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., so prove this fact. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.
