ENLARGE LIVESTOCK YARDS AT MEDFORD FOR BIG SHIPMENT

Wilbur (Wig) Ashpole, deputy state stock inspector, has taken steps toward securing an enlargement of the stockyards of the Southern Pacific in this city, upon the grounds that the present accommodations are too small to handle the steady increase of the stock business in the Rogue River valley. The Southern Pacific is willing to enlarge the yards, but first want a demonstration that they are too small. The matter will be taken before the state railway commission for adjudication.

Buyers representing Miller & Lux of San Francisco this week have purchased 600 head of Rogue River valley stock and are in the market for 400 more head. Most of the beef cattle purchased are from the Little Butte and Big Butte country. The work of shipping the cattle will begin next week, and the purchases to date will mean a trainload, the largest stock shipment out of the valley in years. Most of the cattle will have to be quartered on the road while loading.

There will also be heavy purchases of Rogue River valley hogs this fall, and the pork shipments will show an excess over 1914 and 1913. It is during the last two years that stock raising has shown a revival in this section and the returns have netted fair profits to the stock raisers.

Applegate stock raisers will be visited next week by the buyers, sheep, hogs and cattle for fall delivery being sought. Among the stock in that section is Pat Swayne's famous herd of 300 Texas longhorns.

BIG BILL AT PAGE ON SUNDAY ONLY

Kathlyn Williams, the world's screen favorite, appears Sunday at the Page in a Solig Jungle-Zoo wild animal picture, written by and for Miss Williams. This is a unique and absorbing story with a mysterious trend and the wild animals of the Solig zoo add considerable excitement to the picture. Miss Williams at times plays a dual role, first appearing as Hilda Lind and later as Talmal Lind, Hilda's seventeen year old daughter. On occasions she is apparently playing both these roles simultaneously and these scenes are most skillfully handled by the director. The fearlessness and nerve which Miss Williams displays in playing with the animals provide thrills and unusual interest to the photoplay.

In addition to this three reel picture is shown one of the humorous George Ade fables in which Roger Danby goes hunting for buried treasure and finds what Adam found in the Garden of Eden—a mate. Moral—"Keep on digging and you will find something."

An interesting Vitagraph drama and a one reel Biograph picture complete an excellently balanced program.

"R U A MASON" AT STAR THEATER MONDAY MATINEE AND EVE

The prominent star, John Barrymore, who attained phenomenal popularity as an irresistible screen comedian in the two Famous Players Film company's comedy triumphs, "An American Citizen," and "The Man From Mexico," surpasses both his former screen successes in the five-part film adaptation of Leo Dietrichstein's famous farce, "Are You a Mason?" the latest release on the Paramount program at the Star theater, September 6.

This subject was selected as the vehicle for Mr. Barrymore's return to the screen because it represents, more than any other comedy of similar reputation, the type of dramatic humor best adapted to the inimitable talents of this star.
