FRENCH SEE IN HESPERIAN NEW YANKEE CRISIS

PARIS, Sept. 6, 12:55 a. m.—Great prominence is given by the morning papers to the torpedoing of the Hesperian. All declare themselves at a loss to find a theory to account for such a proceeding by a German submarine six days after Ambassador Von Bernstorff's solemn assurances to the United States.

KAISER VIOLATES PROMISE

given to the liner. Persons so far seen by Mr. Frost state that no warning was given. The list of identified survivors still leaves a considerable number of persons unaccounted for. The Allan line is confident the final checking up will show no loss of life except for the death of one or two persons after reaching Queenstown.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The American consul at Queenstown, Wesley Frost, telegraphed today to the American embassy that the admiralty authorities had not been informed officially that the Hesperian had been torpedoed without warning, but that they believed this was the cause. None of the officers of the Hesperian, except an assistant purser, has yet arrived at Queenstown. This man and various passengers interviewed by Mr. Frost agreed on the statement that warning was given.

Mr. Frost's message also said that forty-five unorganized Canadian troops were on board, most of them invalided, and that the Hesperian had a 4.7-inch gun mounted astern. The consul has been unable to learn of more than two Americans who were on the Hesperian, but members of the crew, and both reported to have been saved.

From stories told by survivors the detailed account of the disaster gradually is being unfolded. Most of the passengers say there is no doubt the attack was made by a German submarine, and some of them say they heard the lookout shout, "Submarine on starboard quarter." Thus far no statement has been made by any survivor who saw a submarine or a torpedo.

All agree the Hesperian was struck on the starboard side between the foremast and the bridge. Lifeboats were launched in the darkness, but without panic. The fourth and fifth boats were lowered unevenly and overturned, the occupants being thrown into the water. Some of them were injured.

At the London office of the Allan line it is stated that all passengers reached Queenstown safely. Some of the rescued, however, say they heard cries for help from persons in the water.

A woman in one of the lifeboats stopped a small leak by removing a stocking and stuffing it into the hole. Three Sisters of Mercy were among the last to depart from the Hesperian. One of the passengers asserts that sixty persons were crowded into a lifeboat having a capacity of forty.

EFFORT TO SAVE TORPEDOED SHIP MADE BY CREW

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 6, 10:37 a. m.—Word has been received here that the Hesperian while making her way back to Queenstown sank at 6:45 a. m. today. Wireless reports said Captain Main and the crew were taken off safely.

The Hesperian remained afloat virtually thirty-four hours after being struck, and it was hoped she could be towed into Queenstown. Captain Main and the only members of the crew had remained aboard. Several steamers were standing by.

Late reports showed the Hesperian was down by the bow to about thirty-five feet, with water in the two forward compartments. Captain Main was then on the bridge, hopeful of being able to save his vessel. Major J. S. Barres, a Canadian officer, and Lieutenant Lewis of one of the British rescue ships, assisted the Hesperian's engineer in closing the bulkhead doors.

HUNTER KILLED

(Continue from Page One). in so doing he threw the gun from him, discharging when it struck, and fatally wounding him. His shoes were smooth, and the tragedy is traced to this cause. The evidence showed that it was impossible for him to have been shot by any of the hunters in the neighborhood.

The coroner's jury was composed of F. M. Wilson, C. W. Craig, H. C. Burgess, William Scott, F. O. Gottwinkle and D. T. Lawton.

HESPERIAN LOSS BRINGS SILENCE AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—There was no comment on the Hesperian disaster from either the White House or state department today, but high officials, it was understood, thought it inconceivable that a German commander had attacked a peaceful passenger liner without warning in view of the recently expressed attitude of the German imperial government.

First reports from Consul Frost at Queenstown stated the Hesperian carried a 4.7-inch rifle mounted aft. That is permissible—under international law. It was suggested, however, that the presence of the gun might figure under some circumstances in the submarine commander's explanation to the Berlin admiralty.

NO GUN ABOARD LOST HESPERIAN

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—There was no gun aboard the liner Hesperian, according to Andrew H. Allan of the Allan line in commenting on the dispatches of the American consul in Queenstown, which indicated the steamer had a 4.7 inch rifle mounted astern.

Twelve Million See Fair SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—The total attendance at the Panama-Pacific exposition has passed the 12,000,000 mark, it was announced here early today.

YEGGS FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO ROB LUMBER VAULT

Yeggs entered the office of the Medford Lumber company Sunday night and attempted to blow open the safe. They drilled holes in the door, and poured in the nitroglycerine but the explosive was so weak that when discharged it only cracked the door, preventing any entrance. Nothing was in the safe but papers. The attempted robbery was reported to the police this morning.

Burglars Sunday entered the residence of L. S. Schnebly and stole a gold watch and chain, two rings, two stick pins, and other trinkets. They forced a back door to secure entrance.

METHODISTS GIVEN $36,684 IN GIFTS

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 6.—The Columbia river conference of the Methodist Episcopal church received $36,684 in benevolent collections, according to a group to the conference in session here. Bishop Cooke, in speaking of this, congratulated the conference, saying that the financial depression was but little felt in this section of the country.

Most of the morning session was given to the reading of reports. The assignment of ministers will be announced tonight.

BERLIN CHARGES MISUSE OF RED CROSS EMBLEM

BERLIN, Sept. 6, by wireless to Sayville.—The official statement issued at Vienna on September 5, as received here, contains the following: "A Red Cross flag has been flown over the monastery at Lukzanow, which is in the midst of the Russian front. Since it is improbable that the Russians would establish a hospital in the midst of their fighting line, and since the Austrians made it absolutely certain that the monastery had been strongly fortified, it is to be expected that the Russians will soon make a report about their own misuse of international congress, stating that the Red Cross was fired upon.

The version of the Austrian official statement of yesterday which was received by way of London did not contain the foregoing passage. Apparently it was eliminated by the British censors.
