One of the prettiest church weddings of the season took place Friday evening, September 10th, at 8:00 o'clock at the First Baptist church, when Miss Marie Fleming and Mr. Edward Earl Russell were united in marriage by Rev. Frederick W. Carstens. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Fleming, and Mr. George Maddox attended the groom. The ring service was used, and Little Miss Fay Garnett headed the bridal procession as ring bearer, followed by Miss Alta Garnett and baby Grace Renshaw, a cousin of the bride, as flower girls.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of ivory white crepe meteor, with chantilly lace and pearl trimmings and a veil of tulle caught with lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of white carnations, her only ornament being a necklace of pearls.

The maid of honor was very prettily attired in an ivory colored imported embroidery batiste, and carried pink carnations. Miss Hamilton furnished special music for the occasion, and during the procession Miss Verne Roberts played the wedding march. During the ceremony Miss Grace Bratney sang "I Love You Truly." The church was beautifully decorated with asters and ferns, and white streamers of satin ribbons were carried by the ushers from the vestibule down the aisle to the altar railing where the ceremony was performed. Mr. W. C. Allaway and Henry Garnett were head ushers. After the ceremony light refreshments were served at the home of the bride, to the relatives and immediate friends.

Both the bride and groom have resided in Medford for the past two years and are well known here, having been active and loyal members of the First Baptist church, and the Amona and Barrea Sunday school classes. Mrs. Russell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Fleming of North Central avenue, and came here about two years ago from The Dalles, Ore. Mr. Russell also formerly lived at The Dalles, but for the past two years has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific in this city.

Mr. Russell has recently been promoted to Passenger agent at Hugo, Ore., and the young couple leave this morning to make their future home and the best wishes of their many friends accompany them in their new undertaking.

The Philathea Sunday school class of the Methodist church was entertained at the home of Mrs. James Leslie on West Jackson street Wednesday evening. The lawn was prettily lighted with red, white and blue electric lights and preparations were made to spend the evening on the lawn but owing to the coolness of the weather the guests were obliged to adjourn to the house where a very pleasant evening was spent with social conversation and music. At the close of the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The guests were Mrs. Percy Wood, Mrs. C. A. Meeker, Mrs. George Kunzman, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Lawton, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Conwell, Miss Matney, Miss Vroman, Miss Mary Hess and Miss Katherine Holloway.

This being the first meeting after summer vacation, a large attendance is hoped for, both of members and of college women, who have not yet affiliated with the organization. With the fall meetings a regular program is to be taken up, not over forty-five minutes of each session being devoted to the study of some form of American art. In outlining this program, the work has been so divided that no one will find it burdensome, as each member will be called upon but once during the year.

The College Women's club, which will soon be three years old, has for its object "to bring together the women of the Rogue River valley for the promotion of social interest, intellectual culture and educational enterprise." Meetings are held on the second Saturday of each month when the intellectual and social aims are pleasantly combined. The officers for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. J. H. Carkin; vice-president, Mrs. R. B. Peebles; secretary, Miss Julia Hoppin; treasurer, Miss Ina Akin. Heads of committees: Program, Mrs. R. B. Committees were then appointed and three new members taken into the class by vote. Twelve calls were reported by Mrs. Stewart and eighteen by the first vice president made during the past month. A motion was made and carried that the Bible study meetings be held twice each month instead of once a month as formerly now on the first and third Wednesdays, beginning the next meeting on September 22. Following the business meeting the Bible study hour being given to a very interesting lesson carefully prepared by the efficient teacher, much appreciated and enjoyed by all taking part. All credit is due Mrs. Stewart for making these lessons so bright and helpful to the young ladies of this Amona class.

Mrs. Monroe gave a most inspiring talk outlining the welfare work at the fair as carried on by the auxiliary. This work has as its aim the oversight of women and girls visiting the fair or staying there as employees. The welfare workers are paid sufficient salaries so their entire time can be given to enring for the many strangers who come into San Francisco. At the close of the delightful and interesting talk refreshments were served by Mrs. Eleanor Cristy, who assisted Mrs. Welch in entertaining, and the Misses Laura Page and Flora Welch.

The first social affair at the Andrews studio was a studio tea given by Miss Lacy to her kindergarten pupils Thursday afternoon, September 9. This time it's the elongated bloom-er which comes down to within two or three inches of the high shoe top skirts, even though the dress skirt be full.

When the thermometer climbs, as it always does climb in September days, it's mighty handy to have an easy substitute for the fluffy tulleome petticoat.

Worn, as Miss Helen Spencer is wearing the new garb, with a thick corduroy skirt, it makes a capital combination.

Many of these clever substitutes for the skirt are made of Indian silk and finished at the lower hem with neat little garter band which holds them in place.

GREATER MEDFORD NOTES

Thanks are due Austin Raymond for the first contribution of plants, rhododendrons and ferns, for the reservoir park. Parties bringing in plants from the mountains should be most particular that the roots are not allowed to become dry through exposure to sun and wind. If the earth cannot be taken up with the roots, the roots should be covered with mud and then wrapped in moss, paper or gunnybags. Plants may be left at the public library for the Greater Medford club.

Mrs. Gardlon, an ardent admirer of this charming valley, and who has made several investments here, has offered to present the city with a flag for the reservoir park, providing the city erects a suitable pole. Mrs. Gardlon has also offered bulbs and plants and her services in various ways that will be of great value in this undertaking.

E. Ed Hull, instructor in manual training, spent Tuesday morning at the Opp mine, selecting trees suitable for seats and tables for the proposed park.

- A fire that carries its own fuel—
- Leaves no ashes or soot, and gives off no smoke or gas—
- A fire that is always uniform without watching—
- That cooks evenly and thoroughly—
- That roasts, where others bake—or broils, where others lost the juice.
- A fire that makes cooking automatically perfect—
- Your kitchen in perfect order, rid of kindling wood, coal hods, shovels, dirt and gas—
- Then cook with electricity.
