A Hammock and Her A jiggle, a wiggle. A form at my side. A titter, a twiddle. An aerial glide.

A yearning, a spurning. A lot of sweet much. A patting, a spitting. A warning, "Oh, hush!"

A laughing, a chaffing. A hand slipped in mine. A teasing, a sneering. A whispered, "All thine!"

A swaying, a playing. A satisfied purr. A swinging, soft singing. A hammock and Her.

From Vaudeville (Lew Wells) I want to tell you a story about some Irish friends of mine, a father and two sons, who live near me.

The next day he brought his brother to work. After the day was finished they both went to the foreman and one of them said: "How do you like us after you have seen us work?"

"You are the two best men we have on the building." One of the boys said: "We would like to get our father a job."

"The foreman said: "Is he as good a workman as you?" "He can do as much work as both of us; can you give him a job?" they replied.

"Yes, tell your father to come to work tomorrow morning—and you two fellows stay home," answered the foreman.

Stella's Harmin Counter Andrew Carnegie's preference for unmarried clerks probably is inspired by the belief that they aren't so anxious to rush off home at six o'clock.

GOLD HILL PLANS ROARING CAMP AND SALMON BAKE

GOLD HILL, Or., Sept. 11.—One week from today, on Saturday, September 18, by the grace of good weather, the third annual school and industrial fair of Gold Hill will be affording amusement, interest and information to thousands of pleased visitors.

It has come to be an adage accepted as fact that for a "real good time" southern Oregon turns to Gold Hill as naturally and logically as Sherlock ever followed a clue.

Two previous industrial fairs have been stamped with the approval of many visitors, all of whom declared that the observation of this fall festival should be made a permanent one.

Large Display Promised

Reports from districts which have hitherto added largely to the success of the exhibit feature, sending a prodigality of prize produce from orchard, ranch and truck garden, indicate that the season of 1915 will be largely and creditably represented in the exhibit booths of the third fair.

Friday, the 17th, which is billed as the first day of the fair, will be devoted mainly to the receiving, listing and classification of exhibits. The full program of events and entertainments will be carried out on Saturday.

The list of entertainments for Saturday includes among many interesting minor events, a laughable and novel slow race for Fords, a spirited tug o' war, exciting display of horsemanship and skill in the game of "putato polo," the favorite feminine furore of the ladies' mail-driving contest and an especially anticipated game of star baseball between Medford and the local batsmen.

At 11:00 Saturday forenoon will occur the grand parade of school floats and marching pupils, for which entries will be made by many districts. At the last fair this feature was an especially beautiful one and won much admiration.

Roaring Camp of '32

Both Friday and Saturday evenings will witness the reincarnation of "Roaring Camp in '32," the local pleasure pageant which delighted hundreds at its first presentation last spring. "Roaring Camp" is literally, as near as painstaking effort and dogged can produce the result, a return to the typical mining camp of half a century ago.

The settlement of "Roaring Camp" will be "wide open" after the "big strikes," and various games of chance, faro, roulette, twenty-one, etc., will be boosted to the dome of blue sky with the freely circulating currency of "Roaring Camp's" platinum treasury. The site selected for this historic spectacle adjoins the open-air pleasure pavilion of the Gold Hill club, and will represent a street scene in the mining town—hotel, saloon, gambling hall and miners' shacks.

Baked Salmon for All

Although a larger attendance than ever is expected, the management of the fair will dispense for Saturday evening the savory silver salmon supper of baked fish, salad and fixings to any and all who will accept this freely proffered hospitality. Experienced chefs will be in charge of the culinary department, and the salmon will be baked in the big oven especially purchased for this purpose. This special food feature cannot be purchased with the coin of visitors—it is absolutely without price, and is free in any desirable quantity, to all guests.

Southern Oregon will come to Gold Hill next Saturday, September 18. Lots of folks you know and want to meet again, heaps of people you will enjoy getting acquainted with will be here. Every effort will be made to serve your comfort, convenience and genuine entertainment.

BROADWAY ACTRESS IN KALEM FEATURE, PAGE SUNDAY ONLY

Myrtle Tannehill, the actress who scored on two continents, appears on Sunday at the Page in the Kalem Broadway Favorites feature. "The Barnstormers," a powerful drama with plenty of humor and an interesting story. Miss Tannehill scored success in such plays as "Broadway Jones," "The Fortune Hunter," "Sealed Orders," "A Pair of Sixes," "Snobs" and other well-known plays in America as well as abroad.

In this play the charming actress emulates the role of Nell Lavelle, a soubrette, in a pleasing and artistic manner. In addition to this picture, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, the favorite Vitagraph comedians, appear in a humorous play, "Their Agreement," in which a young married couple become bored with each other's society and adopt the out-night-out-a-week plan.

Mrs. D. H. Slead and children accompanied her and expect to visit the relatives until the first of the year.

Miss Pauline Swacker made a week's visit at the Richard Swacker home, returning to Grants Pass the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaumburg are rejoicing over the arrival at their home of a charming little daughter, born September 4. She was immediately named Dean Zelma. All are doing well.

Mrs. P. E. Wahl was a Medford visitor Thursday.

Miss Bertha Woolverton expects to leave Saturday for Phoenix, where she will attend school.

Miss Ruth Wallace left for Omaha Tuesday to resume her work in the Omaha schools. Harold Jacobs returned with her and will attend school there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Woolverton and Miss Bertha Woolverton were dinner guests Thursday at the Jacobs ranch.

Mrs. Jacobs, Miss Mary Wallace and George Jacobs were Sunday dinner guests at the G. B. Alden home.

The Boyd and Hitt families are planning a week's outing at Crater lake and vicinity. They will leave Sunday.

Foots Creek school and people of the district, about fifty in all, met at the schoolhouse Labor day for the purpose of raising the new fifty-foot flag pole.

After the sumptuous picnic dinner the school children gave appropriate exercises around the flag pole. Mr. Short, being an old soldier and the oldest resident, was given the honor of raising the flag, while all sang "Red, White and Blue" and "America." Rev. Carle gave a few appropriate remarks relative to our country and all voted the day the pleasantest and the dinner the best.

This was the opening day of school with Mrs. Stannard again as teacher.

KANES CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Higinbotham were transacting business in Medford on Wednesday.

Miss Margie Lewis is attending high school in Gold Hill during the present term.

Thomas Norris made a business trip to Ashland one day last week. William Lewis was transacting business in Medford on Thursday.

EDEN PRECINCT

S. H. Ghoms of Talent has had a big well for irrigation purposes dug and an abundance of water secured.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge Willets of Klamath Falls came in Monday to visit relatives in Talent, Ashland and Medford. They came by auto over the Green Spring mountains.

A. S. Furry, W. G. Elmer and Ben Trowbridge went to Dead Indian on a hunting trip the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Chandler of North Talent, were Medford visitors Wednesday.

Joe Henry has gone to Derby for a week's hunting trip and to visit with friends in that vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Spitzer of Talent were in Medford on business on Wednesday.

Joe Rader and Mr. Owens were among the shippers who shipped a fine lot of beef cattle from the Ashland yards Tuesday morning to San Francisco markets.

Mrs. Joe Rader, Mrs. A. S. Furry, Mrs. M. Rose and Miss Juanita Furry were guests Tuesday at the pleasant home of Mrs. W. J. Elmer of Fern Valley. Mrs. Ben Trowbridge and her daughter, Miss Florence, being guests there for this week also. Debate refreshments were served in the afternoon and a very pleasant time was reported.

Work is going steadily on upon the big cement dam across Bear creek, near Talent, which will divert the water into the big canal which will be brought down back of Phoenix and on the orchard belt between Medford, Talent and Phoenix. This will follow a portion of the old mill ditch and will be available to many valuable tracts of land.

The many friends of V. K. Hendrickson will regret to learn that he is reported in a dying condition from blood poisoning at his home near Brownsville, Or. His son, William Hendrickson, and his daughter, Mrs. B. A. Dority, were summoned by wire this week to his bedside. On the same day a message came from William Hendrickson that he had buried his young wife. The entire community sympathizes with him in his deep distress.

E. E. Foss is another one of the enterprising farmers of Talent who wants water, so he is having a big well put down and has a big gasoline engine to do the pumping. Talent has an abundance of water quite near the surface and all the wells dug there this season have been a success. Talent has two fine artesian wells and the city well is of the same nature, affording an almost inexhaustible supply of water.

PACKEY M'FARLAND BOXES GIBBONS AT NEW YORK TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—New York held a larger gathering of ring enthusiasts today than at any time since boxing flourished here under the Horton law. The ten-round bout between Packey McFarland of Chicago and Mike Gibbons of St. Paul tonight has brought spectators from all over the country.

The promoters are confident that the gate receipts will more than equal the purse of $32,500. The money will be divided: $17,500 to McFarland and $15,000 to Gibbons.

McFarland's last fight was on December 8, 1913, a ten-round, no-decision bout with Jack Britton of Milwaukee. The fact that he has not taken part in a battle for nearly two years placed him slightly below Gibbons in the betting today. Gibbons' last appearance in the ring was in Brooklyn on May 3, 1915, when he fought ten rounds with Soldier Bartfield, no decision.

CRIPPLES ORGANIZE WELFARE SOCIETY

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The filing in the county clerk's office here of the certificates of elections of the Cripples' Welfare society disclosed today a board of directors, in which all are cripples and all but two have only one leg.

Charles Noel Douglas, a writer, who has been a cripple for many years, is president of the society. Mme. Sarah Bernhardt is first vice-president and Dr. William Sheldon Coons is second vice-president.

The society was organized for the purpose of supplying cripples with artificial legs, arms and appliances and securing for cripples employment for which they are best adapted.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one divided opinion that shows how able to "sway" he is at all stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure ever known in the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, setting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by holding up the constitution and enabling nature to do its work. The patient here has so much faith in its curative powers that they offer the limited liability for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
