AMERICA'S 1915 BEAUTY IN TWO POSES, HOW TO GAIN BEAUTY

Key Laurel, Famous Beauty of Ziegfeld Follies

You can't have tired nerves and stay beautiful.

"But I haven't the time to rest properly or to try and make myself beautiful," cries the woman who works.

No here is the first of a series of exercises for health, beauty and grace for all women. That is, they are very simple, and take but a few minutes' time each day, nor do they entail expensive outfits that only the idle rich woman can afford.

They are written expressly for the woman who, although busy during most of her waking hours, still wants to find some way to keep her body healthy and herself beautiful and graceful.

This first article and the following ones are illustrated by stunning pictures of America's 1915 beauty, Miss Kay Laurel, of "Ziegfeld Follies," New York.

Miss Laurel, in addition to her fame as a beauty, is known as the girl with the "most wonderful figure in the world."

She keeps her figure because she is athletic, and she has correctly posed for the different positions for the exercises to be explained in this series of articles.

Here are simple exercises to rest the tired nerves:

Stand with the feet slightly apart, the weight of the body on the balls of the feet. Rise on your toes, breathing deeply as you rise and exhaling as you lower yourself. Repeat five times. Then shift the weight of the body to the right foot, as shown in the illustration to the left. Hold this pose for a count of five. Then swing the weight to the left foot and count five again. Repeat this ten times.

Take the first position again with the feet slightly apart. Then alter-

Expectant Mothers Relieved of Pain

A most valuable help to women during this interesting period is a splendid external remedy called "Mother's Friend." It is applied over the muscles of the stomach, gently rubbed in, and at once penetrates to relieve all strain on nerves, corals, ligaments and all parts involved. It makes the muscles so pliant that they expand naturally. And at the same time they are invigorated by the absence of harassing pains so apt to distress the mind. Get a bottle of this drugist. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 103 Lunar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a fascinating book.

at 10:30 Friday night and was loaded on the Great Northern fast mail for Seattle at 11:45. The train was due at Wenatchee at 10:55 but was late.

While waiting for the train the driver of the mail wagon is said to have kept within sight of the mail except for a few minutes, when it is alleged, he stepped into the lunch room. The loss of the pouch was discovered when the mail was loaded into the train but was kept secret in the hope that postoffice inspectors could obtain some trace of it. Thus far they have met with no success.

Lady Tourist.—(inspecting Indian relics)—How much are your bows and arrows?

Indian—Bows, arrd, three dolla.

Lady—Why, in New York they're only fifty cents!

Indian—In New York no have to pay ferlight to Idaho.—Judge.

After the Honeymoon—

The bride's first and never-ending problem is "What to Eat."

For breakfast, lunch or supper, what could one have more delicious than

New Post Toasties

These new flakes are made of choice Indian Corn, cooked and toasted by a new method that brings out a wonderful new flavor.

In this new process, intense heat expands the interior moisture producing little pearl-like "puffs," a distinguishing characteristic of the

New Post Toasties

For a flavor test, eat some dry. Then notice that these New Toasties have a body and firmness—don't mush down when cream or milk is added—
