

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

A cent social event of more than ordinary significance was the observance of the fifty-fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Casey. They were married at Bonaparte, Iowa, September 22, 1861, and soon thereafter Mr. Casey joined the army as a member of company G, 13th Iowa infantry, which company was recruited at Bonaparte. He served throughout the civil war. During a residence here since 1882, he has served as councilman, mayor and postmaster, and has also filled other positions of trust in county and state. The wedding anniversary was observed in the way of a quiet reunion.

Donnie Lowe is home from a trip to the exposition and reports that on the occasion of his visit the grounds were thronged to a greater extent than on Benson day.

W. W. Hevner of this city has been reappointed by the Methodist conference as missionary supply at the Yainax Indian agency, Klamath county. He has been visiting here of late.

Changes in local hotels and restaurants for the twenty-four hours ending September 30 and beginning October 1, have been as follows: D. W. Dobbins assumes control of the Oregon; Ed Staples resumes management of the Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beagle have taken over the Columbia cafeteria annex in the Enders block; Andy Payne has relinquished the Savoy, in the Butler building, North Main street.

Squire Parker, who lately suffered from a fearfully lacerated face as the result of a sawmill accident, has been removed from the hospital to his home.

Many friends are welcoming the return of the O. C. Tiffany family to their old home surroundings on Granite street, after a long absence in Portland.

Mrs. Robbie Parker left Saturday on her return home to Hutchinson, Kansas, after a visit with her father, Robert Edgington, and brother, M. C.

Bob Hughes of Eugene's city engineering force, has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Martha Hughes, residing on Beach street.

Mrs. C. W. Banta last week accompanied her son Herb on a visit to the boys' goat herding camp in the Keene creek neighborhood.

J. B. Sanders, local barber, has returned from Hornbrook where for sometime past he has been employed in a hotel.

Portland parties here of late have been urging the installation of a grove office Velled Prophets, an organization in which third degree Masons are eligible.

J. F. Kathrine of San Francisco, general auditor of the Oregon Gas and Electric company, the last of the week paid a visit to Local Manager Jenkins in an official capacity on routine business.

A. M. Beaver has been at Salem and other Willamette sections in the way of demonstrating merits of the Seismo-Therm throughout that territory.

H. G. Enders left Friday evening on a business trip to Portland.

Mrs. Henry B. Carter arrived Saturday from Eugene for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Grubb.

Mrs. Lydia Powell Boyd, an aged pioneer of the Emigrant creek neighborhood, is seriously ill at the home of her son-in-law, George Lowe, residing in the Wagner soda springs district.

Mrs. Mae Newcombe has returned from Portland, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. L. Mutt, who left Saturday for a visit with relatives at Berkeley, Cal.

Funeral services of the late Chas. J. Burgen, of Talent, were held on Sunday. Interment will be at his former home in Minnesota. The deceased was affiliated with Hellah Temple, Mystic Shrine, of this city.

Glenn McAdams of Eugene, representing the Ellison-White attractions in the lyceum entertainment field, was in town Saturday on business matters.

Prominent people passing through here of late have been Governor Willis of Ohio. The chief executive is of herculean build, being six feet three inches in height and weighing 265 pounds. J. G. Sullivan, chief engineer of the western lines of the Canadian Pacific, with headquarters at Winnipeg, went north with a party in the private car "Nova Scotia." Major General James B. Aleshire and Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss went south on a jaunt to San Francisco.

John E. Wiley and family, former residents but who have been in San Diego for sometime past, are visiting friends here on their way to Portland to locate permanently.

Tom Hudson has returned from a visit to the Sacramento valley in the vicinity of Corning, where he went with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Carey who extended their trip to include the exposition. On their way down, by actual count, their Ford car met twenty-seven autos of the same pedigree in addition to twenty-nine machines of various other makes.

Freckles and His Friends

Porter J. Neff, a Medford attorney, was a business caller here last Friday.

Mrs. H. G. Enders left the last of the week for an extended visit with her parents at the old family home, Amsterdam, Missouri. On her return Mr. Enders will meet her at Los Angeles.

J. N. Hinehart of Salem, accompanied by his wife, arrived last Friday for a visit with relatives, the wife of Harry Sayles being his daughter. Mr. Hinehart was formerly in the grocery business here.

Munitions of war, even if not manufactured, are being used on Mountain avenue. Grape juice was the provocation. Thieves were stealing the luscious fruit at the ranch of E. E. White in that locality, when Mrs. White fired a revolver at random, with the result that the poachers not only left the grapes but also a brand new basket. The lady is of English-French-Dutch lineage and could not observe a strict neutrality under exasperating circumstances.

George Anderson is making extensive improvements on his Atlas business block, South Fourth street, near the depot, occupied by Flackins' grocery store and rooming apartments.

The initial autumn tramp by hiking matrons was made last Friday afternoon as far as the Normal grounds on the boundaries of the Bellevue district, where Mrs. Zella Chapman treated the party to apples. Caroline Schuerman led the forlorn hope, and at a secluded spot Jessie Rondeau, Etta Lamkin and Hattie Camps, candidates for admission, initiated into the mysteries of the club's ritual.

W. A. Freeberg left the last of the week for Los Angeles to remain indefinitely. He has rented his house on Granite street to Clyde Dean, of the Electric Light company, and sold his Ford pacer to Archie Strickland, who will convert it into an individual jitney for two passengers only.

Irrigationists held a recent meeting at the Bellevue school house, further plans for the Ashland-Talent district being outlined. There will be drawn up and submitted to the county court for approval preliminary to an election being held on the adoption of the proposition. Members of the committee present were C. M. Thomas of Talent and J. W. Millner and Benton Bowers of Ashland. The source of supply will be determined by state and federal engineers. Buck Lake has been mentioned in this connection.

At the recent fire at the Stevens home on Wimer Heights the fire auto truck covered the distance, one and one-sixth miles by the speedometer, in three minutes. Much of the way is up a steep hill. Ten automobiles followed in the wake of the truck, but only two succeeded in gaining the crest, a Hudson driven by Beeler and a Ford driven by Camps. The other eight flunked. The grade varies from 20 to 30 per cent.

Charley Cain, roundhouse foreman, is on the waiting list for a new Kissel car to be delivered at an early date by W. A. Walker of Medford. The two-passenger compound Mallet locomotive heortore driven by Cain has proved rather hard on the East Main street paving, hence the change to lighter and improved models.

The School of Design of San Francisco has received another accession of Ashland students, the Misses Elsie Harner and Hortense Winter having joined Miss Esther Whited at that institution.

Mrs. Sarah Kentner has joined the exposition excursionists, not only to see the fair but also to visit two months with her daughter, Mrs. Ida Ward, who lives in San Francisco.

R. C. Mulaney of Albany, weight inspector, and J. J. Keith of San Francisco, chief auditor, both Southern Pacific officials, were paying official visits to Ashland the last of the week.

trips into this territory as a liveryman.

H. E. Ewer is clerking at the Ashland Trading company. Mr. Ewer is also leader of the Methodist church choir as reinforced and reorganized.

For the week ending September 24, $22,621.16 was expended on various phases of the springs development work here as represented by drafts on the several funds. The heaviest expenditure was a voucher in favor of the physical plant in the sum of $20,000.

Mrs. Madge Putnam, formerly assistant at Hinthorne's studio, and later employed in the photographic department of Smith's jewelry store as an expert of acknowledged ability in the art, has resigned her position there and is temporarily clerking at the Enders store.

A. W. Arbuckle has traded his ten-acre fruit ranch on Wimer Heights to G. M. Frost for a 120-acre tract in the Willamette valley, to which he will remove at an early date. C. B. Lamkin negotiated the deal.

Chas. Pope is rounding up porkers, which will be taken over to Siskiyou county where they will "root, hog, or die" on wheat stubble and other forage available on the grain ranches near Montague. Several carloads have been shipped there.

Dr. W. G. Dwinell of Montague has been a recent visitor here with relatives in the family of W. W. Caldwell.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

R. E. Root and B. U. Young, two of the fruit men of Medford, were here last Monday, looking over the fruit interests.

Mr. Osgood, one of the civil engineers of the valley, and Mr. Whitesides, Jr. were here the same day trying to hustle more subscribers to the irrigation project in the valley.

Mr. Bursell, who owns one of the fine farms of the valley, was here the same day looking for a certain grade of swine. Hogs are so plentiful now that the buyers seem to be quite particular about what kind they buy, and thus it ever was an deer will be.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazelrigg and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Allen, the latter from Ashland, were in town Monday the 27th ult. doing business with our merchants.

Frank Smith, one of our orchardists, spent the night at the Sunny-side Monday night.

Benj. Brophy and wife were buying household supplies the first of the week.

Wm. Greeson took out a load of wire fencing the first of the week and another one of the family took out a big load of ceiling lumber about the same time.

Some of our enterprising corn raisers are placing some of their specimens of corn in the show windows of Roy Ashpole's hardware store.

Speaking about corn raising brings to mind the fact that while I was out riding over the country looking after the interest of the Medford Mail Tribune, I stopped for dinner at the home of Mrs. C. Charley, just above Brownsboro, and while there was shown some of the different varieties of corn that they raise on the farm, for the reader will remember that Mrs. Charley's son, I have forgotten his christian name, took the premium at the county and state fair on his corn, and among the different varieties they have was one that attracted my attention, more particularly than any other, on account of the variety of colors of corn on the same cob, for there was almost, if not every variety of colors of the rainbow. It is called the rainbow corn and it appears to be a good solid variety, a long slim cob but the corn is well matured and appears to be perfect in every respect. Another variety they showed me was a medium sized ear of the white variety that was absolutely perfect, for I could not see the cob at all for the corn grew all over the ends of the cob and this was a part that was raised by Mrs. Charley's youngest son, Nolan Charley, a school boy. He staked off just one acre and planted it in corn on a tract of land that could not be irrigated and cultivated it himself, keeping a complete record of all the work and he gathered 88 bushels of such corn as I have tried to describe, and his brother who exhibited the corn and the tract of land told me that the corn was much better on the lower end of the piece than it was on the upper end and if the upper end had been as good as the lower end that he would have gathered 125 bushels off of the acre of land, and mark you that was without any irrigation. Another place where I stopped was Henry Meyer's and they were just finishing gathering in their corn and he had corn that would make the Kansas corn raisers green with envy to think of Jackson county, Oregon, and on Butte creek at that, raising such corn, but that corn had water. But while I am on the subject of corn will relate another incident. I stopped at the farm of Rudolph Peck for dinner, and while at the barn putting away "Babe" he asked me to take a look at his squashes that he had hauled in for his cows, and O my! there was just tons of them all put away in the dry—there is no slipshod work in that neighborhood, they are mostly German-Americans, and keep everything up in place ready for winter. And after commenting on the squashes he told me that he tried an experiment this season and planted three and a half acres in corn and squashes and the result was seventeen loads of squashes, and two hundred bushels of good solid corn—systematic farming. If anyone can either equal or surpass that let us hear from them through the Mail Tribune.

Well I started out to tell of my trip up Butte creek but find that my letter is now long enough so will simply stop here and tell more about that wonderful country and its resources the next time, for I have enough now in my mind to make a full column.
