NEGRO EMPIRE'S ROSY DREAM FAILURE

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—With the arrival here tonight on the steamer Norsman from Liverpool of eighteen distressed Americans, forming what was left of the crew of the British steamer Liberia, a dramatic chapter was written into a colonization scheme headed by Alfred Charles Sam, said to be chief of an African tribe, to transport negroes from the United States to the west coast of Africa. The capture by the British authorities of the colonization ship and the chasing of the crew by a German submarine were among the adventures of the Liberia's sailors.

The project as described by Sam, was to enable negroes to go to West Africa, join in a colony and live in comparative luxury. Before the Liberia sailed on its first trip Sam widely announced his plans, chiefly in the New England states.

The Liberia financed, it was said by negroes, left Portland, Maine, in May and stopped at Norfolk, Va., proceeded to Galveston, Tex., where it was reported to have taken on forty negroes and started on its voyage to the west coast of Africa.

STINSON, GRAND KEEPER PYTHIAN SEALS, SUICIDE

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 6.—L. R. Stinson, for 18 years grand keeper of records and seals of the Knights of Pythias of Oregon, committed suicide yesterday at his farm near Salem. He shot himself through the heart with a shotgun. Overwork, resulting in nervous prostration is said by members of the family to have affected Mr. Stinson's mind. He was 53 years old.

The suicide took place in Mrs. Stinson's bedroom. Mrs. A. L. Stinson was in the house with a son, Long Stinson, and his mother.

Mr. Stinson was born in Albany, Oregon, Jan. 2, 1862. He was a printer by vocation. From 1907-1911 Mr. Stinson was state printer.

For 18 successive years Mr. Stinson was unanimously elected grand keeper of records and seals for the Knights of Pythias. The grand lodge convenes in Portland in a week.

NO INDICTMENTS BY FEDERAL PROBERS

The first federal grand jury ever convened outside of the city of Portland was called in this city Tuesday afternoon with Federal Judge Wolverton on the bench. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon no indictments were returned. This morning Archie Rassel pleaded guilty to an assault with a deadly weapon and was sentenced to sixty days in the Multnomah county jail. The work of trying cases will probably begin in the morning. A large crowd is in attendance, including jurors and witnesses, from all over southern Oregon. Routine business is being transacted.

OFFER 2 PLANS FOR RELIEF OF CITY'S FINANCES

The Medynski rebounding plan was knocked in the head and revived at the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday night, after an avalanche of oratory. Finally, after three hours of talk, a compromise was effected whereupon the Medynski plan and the Miles plan will both go before the people at a special election to be held November 2. The Miles plan was introduced as a buffer and smooth out the fantastic and impractical portions of the financial child of Councilman Medynski. Judge W. S. Crowell was the intermediary that prevented the Medynski plan from being forever buried.

The Miles plan is based upon the clearing of the pavement indebtedness without the issuance of any bond. It provides relief for the poor man by ability to pay, according to his means, and that his property shall be assessed according to its value, and further provides that owners of high rental property remit in full. The city under the plan will share 40 per cent of the burden for the small property owner. It tries to adjust the difference in worldly possessions and equalizes the burdens. Many of those who signed the petition for a vote on the Medynski proposition afterwards favored the Miles plan as more practical, and a means to clear the city indebtedness without impairment of credit.

Colonel Sargent made a long speech. At its conclusion it was suggested that both the Miles and Medynski propositions be submitted to the people. A delay was asked to put both on the ballots. This was opposed by Councilman Medynski, who insisted that a vote be taken at once. It was. Result: Four against, two for, Medynski and Amy voting in favor. Thereupon there was a sudden willingness to consider the Miles proposition. It was agreeable, and both plans will be submitted to the people for acceptance or rejection November 2.

Judge Crowell led the fight for a compromise. Over 600 people signed the referendum petition, many doing so simply to force an end to the drifting tactics of the council.

During the evening speeches were made by Judge Crowell, Colonel Sargent, Fiscal Agent E. H. Felt, Councilman Medynski, J. S. Howard and others. After the storm had passed the speakers engaged in battery of each other. The largest crowd that has attended a council meeting months was in attendance. Aside from the action on the debtless plan and the allowing of the monthly bills, little business transacted by the council.

LOOK OUT FOR COLDS—CATARRH

Don't let this Winter bring to you the annoyance of Catarrh suffering which every man and woman who is afflicted with this disease, has cause to dread.

First of all remember, if you will continue to suffer with Catarrh, it is your own fault. Catarrh is worse in Winter because the most common place precautions against germs and contaminations are neglected.

We go to study theatres and inhale cold and over again visitated and germ-laden air. We sit in over-heated rooms, neglect exercise, exclude fresh air because it's cold, and in a hundred ways do everything possible to assist in the ravages of a disease that is already making tremendous progress towards a complete sapping of vitality. It is small wonder that Winter brings additional annoyance to Catarrh sufferers. The most ill, reasonably free in summer, are easily stopped up by the inflammation of the tender membrane, and the phlegm and secretions which cannot readily flow, aggravate the delicate lining of the throat and poison the system. Hawking and spitting becomes more frequent. In fact, Catarrh is not only a nuisance, danger and annoyance to the afflicted, but a continued menace to everybody. Any one who comes in contact with Catarrhal germs—sneezed or exhaled in study rooms, poorly ventilated theatres or cars, may contract the disease. They'll think they have taken cold, but it is more likely this infectious waster of strength vigor has hastened itself upon them. They will soon know the Catarrh headache, the disagreeable closing air passages, they may find it entering the bones of the nose, the lining of the ear, resulting in deafness, loss of smell, for no part of a nose is secure from the ravages of Catarrh. Catarrh makes you sneeze over. It is a disease of the blood circulates through the system, and this reason sprays, washes, vapors and salves must be failures. It is you can relieve Catarrh throat, and permanently S. S. S. will clean the blood, relieve internally as well, reduce the membranous swelling, it will literally wash the nose free from the poison. S. S. S. goes directly to the source of trouble, reaches, while it cleanses the blood, is a wonderful tonic invigorator. We us particulars of your case and let physicians help you get rid of stubborn and disagreeable Catarrh. Their services cost you nothing. We will take pleasure in answering your letters. S. S. S. is for sale at all stores. Refuse imitations. Write Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 15, Atlanta, Ga.
