BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Large German and Austrian forces have invaded Serbia. The Teutonic troops have crossed the Drina, Save and Danube rivers at many places, the war office announced today.

It is stated that the invading troops have established firm footholds on the other banks of the rivers. The portion of the official German statement of today dealing with these operations is as follows:

Cross Border Rivers "German and Austro-Hungarian troops crossed the Drina, the Save and the Danube at many places and obtained firm footholds on the eastern bank of the Drina and the southern banks of the Save and the Danube."

The invasion marks the beginning of the expected campaign against Serbia and may precipitate the crisis in the Balkans which has been looked for. Recent developments have shown that Bulgaria was likely to co-operate with Germany and Austria by attacking Serbia from the east.

The German announcement indicated that the invading forces are proceeding along the boundary between Serbia and Austria. PRESIDENT TO WED WIDOW IN DECEMBER

Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, whose engagement was announced last night, will have quiet ceremony, only a few close friends being invited.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, whose engagement was announced last night at the white house, will be married probably the first week in December. The ceremony will be private, only a few close friends being invited, and will take place at the home of the bride on New Hampshire street near Dupont Circle.

Plans for the honeymoon have not been completed, but it was indicated today that the trip might include a visit to the San Diego exposition. The fact that the president of the United States, on whom the eyes of the world have frequently been focused in the last few months of the European war, had decided to marry again, gave the national capital a topic of absorbing interest which, for the moment, overshadowed all questions of international or domestic politics.

Surprise to All The news came as a surprise to all but a few intimate friends who knew that the friendship of the president for Mrs. Galt had developed into an intimacy that presaged marriage. Close friends expressed today their pleasure at the announcement, not only because it meant a change from a life of loneliness and unvaried occupation to an atmosphere of helpful companionship. His incessant labor alone in the white house during the period of mourning had affected his spirits. When he began to take a renewed interest in personal affairs his friends noted immediately a change for the better in his health and the energies with which he attacked tremendous problems before him.

Mrs. Galt is regarded as a woman of rare beauty and charm. Those who have known her best predicted today that she would be as the first lady of the land a popular hostess as well as a comfort and support to the president in his daily work.

Bride To Be is 38 Mrs. Galt is about 38 years of age, youthful in appearance and simple in her tastes. She is a widow of a well known business man of Washington who died eight years ago. She was married in 1896. Before that she was Miss Edith Bolling of Wytheville, Va. Her father was William H. Bolling, a lawyer of distinction.

In the circles of cultivated people with whom she mingled in Washington, Mrs. Galt has always been sought out for her unusual character and gifts. Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's eldest daughter, and her cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, first brought Mrs. Galt into the white house circles. They met her in the early fall of last year and were so much attracted by her that they sought her out more and more frequently. It was through this intimacy of his daughter and cousin that the president had an opportunity to meet and know Mrs. Galt. Not until this summer, however, when Miss Bones invited Mrs. Galt to Cornish, N. H., as a house guest did the president and Mrs. Galt become intimate friends.
