

SHOWERS LIKELY TO GREET PLAYERS IN WORLD SERIES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Thousands of baseball fans in this city rushed eagerly for their morning mail today to learn whether they had been fortunate enough to secure reservations for the world's championship games between the Philadelphia National league champions and the Boston American titleholders. Those who had taken the precaution to write the management last week and were modest in their requests were in most instances rewarded with a notice to report either at the grounds or at the downtown office of the Philadelphia club. The lineup at these places took the place of the long line which in previous years stormed the local department store where some of the reserved seats were offered to the public.

Although the first game will not be played until tomorrow afternoon, the line-up for the 7600 seats in that section was begun yesterday and was augmented during the night and early today was composed of several score eager fans and numerous small boys who hoped to sell their places in line to an advantage.

Intermittent showers which fell today slowed up the final workout of the Philadelphia National league pennant winners in preparation for the world's series.

Manager Moran was not much disappointed for he has his men in first class condition.

According to the weather bureau, if it rains at all tomorrow it will be only light showers that should not prevent the first game from being played. Indications are, the bureau stated, that the present cloudiness will continue without much change in temperature.

RUSSIAN MINISTER LEAVES BULGARIA

PETROGRAD, Oct. 7.—In the absence of direct word from the Russian minister at Sofia it is assumed by the foreign office that the minister and his assistants departed yesterday from the Bulgarian capital.

The unsatisfactory nature of Bulgaria's reply caused no surprise here. It is announced here unofficially that the Italian, Belgian and Serbian ministers at Sofia also have demanded their passports.

WILD WEST MILD COMPARED TO LIFE IN BRITISH TRENCHES

Mrs. K. Lunge of Reddy Avenue, this city, has received letters from British soldiers in the trenches in Flanders, who may have fallen in the great drive of the allies last week to oust the Kaiser's hordes from France. One is from Edward V. Birch-Reynardson, an officer of the Royal Engineers, and the other from an old friend who is fighting near Ypres, in the sector of the "Bloody Triangle," where so many soldiers have died. No military news is given, but the letters tell of the effect of daily touching shoulders with death.

"Things get a little lonesome here some times," writes a friend at Ypres, "and sometimes they are far too lively. Many times one thinks he is living his last hour, but I have pulled through all right so far. Really we are so used to living by the minute that we look back upon terrible events, that snapped the lives of dear ones, with a smile, and sometimes with a curse."

Regards are sent to the two little sons of Mrs. Lunge with the comment that they are lucky that they are not in Europe and of military age.

The final words of this letter tell of going weeks without changing boots or clothing, and never under a roof. "Talk about your wild west!" is then appended.

Birch-Reynardson has charge of mines "somewhere" in Flanders, and refers to death as "close squeaks." When the war is over he plans to join the Canadian mounted police.

"Have you heard anything of Charlie Hanson," the letter reads. "I would like to get a hold of him and tell him what I think of him and make him get up and help fight the Hun. I am getting awful tired of this show. I have been here for six months now, and have had enough of it."

Over-Education Wrecking Children

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 7.—"The greatest danger to child life is over-education. The work of wrecking the nervous systems of the children of the United States is well under way."

So declared Luther Burbank, scientist and creator of new plant life, at the congress of social workers held here today.

ENTIRE NATION CELEBRATES POET'S ANNIVERSARY RILEY HONORED BY OBSERVANCE OF 62ND ANNIVERSARY

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—James Whitcomb Riley's birthday had a beautiful beginning. At the dawn of his natal day which is being celebrated throughout the nation, a company of forty singers and musicians entered Lockerbie street and serenaded the poet. A large basket of flowers was placed on his door step.

The serenaders, bearing lighted candles and red torches, marched into Lockerbie street at midnight. They tipped to the Riley gate and formed a circle around the carriage block. An instrumental rendition of "Love's Old Sweet Song" stole out on the autumn air and soon lights began to appear in the poet's house. Two German folk songs followed and the serenade closed with "Good Night," an old lullaby. Mr. Riley sent word that he had enjoyed the serenade.

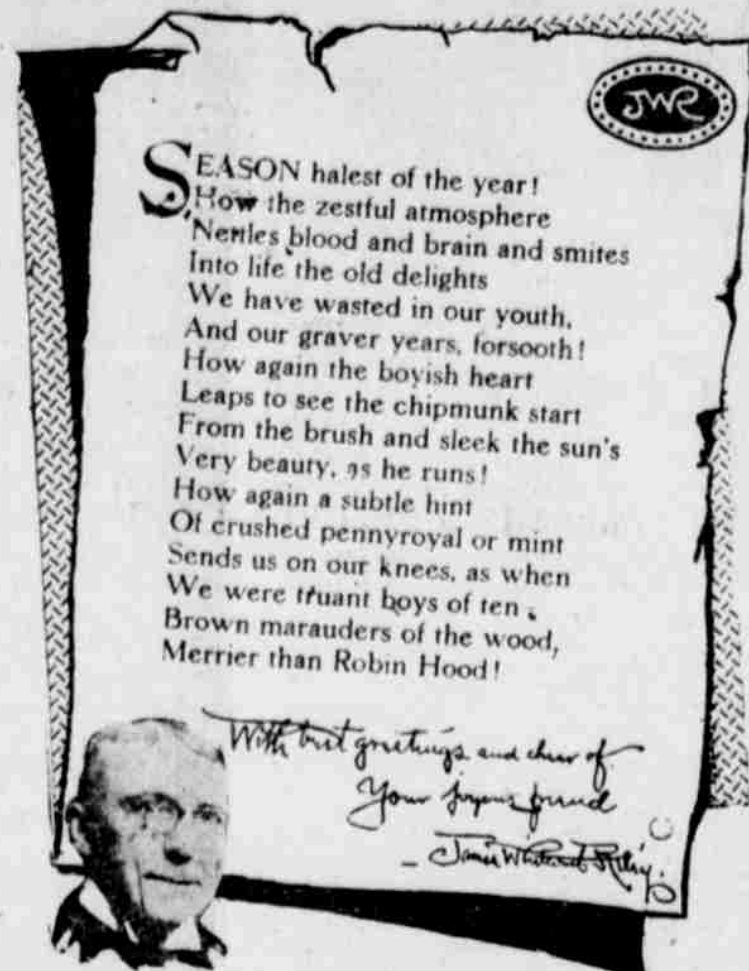

Governor Ralston's proclamation designating Mr. Riley's birthday as "Riley day," and urging all citizens of the state to pay fitting tribute to the poet was read. In every school there was a special program of recitations, readings and music. Flags and hunting were hung out everywhere and portraits of the poet were prominent.

The hotel room where the banquet in Mr. Riley's honor will be held tonight was beautifully decorated. Speakers from out of town for the banquet began arriving early in the day. William Allen White was the first to come.

Mr. Riley received many callers during the morning. In the afternoon he was the honor guest at a theatrical performance called "An Afternoon with Riley." The poet's verse set to music and interpreted by dancers was the principal part of this entertainment.

Stella's Bargain Counter Most female colleges can be rightly termed "schools of designers."

Good things are the things which are not for you.

LONDON MAIL SAYS BERLIN SCORES AGAIN

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Daily Mail says editorially today: "The dismissal of Premier Venizelos is another important success for Germany. Once more British diplomacy has been at fault. It has neither foreseen nor prepared. It has been outwitted by King Ferdinand, and its prestige has suffered grievously as a result of its errors and the remissness of the British minister.

"The situation is as grave as well could be. The hour has come for the British government to break its inexplicable silence and tell the nation how vast and imperious are its needs in men."

GERMANS REPULSE 6 FRENCH ATTACKS ON WEST FRONT

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Renewed fighting of great severity in the Champagne was reported today in the announcement from army headquarters. Six massed infantry attacks by the French northwest of Souain were broken down, the war office states, with very heavy losses to the attackers.

Announcement also was made that German troops which have been attempting to capture the important Russian city of Drinsk have penetrated Russian positions before the city over a width of about three miles.

The statement follows: "Western theater: The French offensive in the Champagne continues. After a strong artillery fire, gradually increasing to the utmost intensity, attacks recommenced yesterday at daybreak.

"Northwest of Souain six massed attacks by the French broke down, with a very heavy loss to the enemy. Two officers and 180 men were made prisoners.

"To the west of the Soumyy Py-Souain high road sections of two newly arrived divisions at one point succeeded in penetrating across our foremost line of trenches in the direction of Stenmarie. The enemy was driven out again by immediate counter attacks. Twelve officers, 29 non-commissioned officers and 550 men were left prisoners in our hands and two machine guns were captured. Only at and near Tahure was the enemy successful, after fluctuating engagements, in capturing 800 meters of ground. This attack was brought to a standstill by our counter attacks. (Capture of Tahure was announced yesterday in the French official report.)

"Attempts of the enemy to pierce our positions north and northwest of the Beaunejour farm failed completely. Three officers and 300 men were carried off and three machine guns were captured."

MOYER ARRIVES TO END ARIZONA STRIKE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 7.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who arrived today from Clifton for a conference with Governor Hunt and the mine managers looking toward a settlement of the grievances of the 5000 miners who went on strike September 11 for recognition of the union and a higher wage scale, assumed a conciliatory attitude. He said all organizers of the federation would leave the Clifton district if their presence stood in the way of a settlement, but he could not see how the union could be eliminated from the conferences.

Presently some manufacturers in this country will be declaring that the Russian armies retreat so successfully because they are wearing American boots.—Chicago Daily News.
