PLAN TO SOLVE PAVINGPROBLEM

City Takes Over Outstanding Bancroft Paving Bonds-Assessments Reduced to 60 Per Cent of Value of Lots, Which Relieves Outlying Residence Property.

The following proposed solution of Medford's problem in connection with paving assessments is offered by Councilman T. W. Miles and will appear upon the ballot at the special election in November. Mr. Miles explains his proposal as follows:

"I will state at the outset that I do not claim this plan as wholly original, but same has been carefully considered and worked out largely from suggestions made by citizens who are deeply interested in the welfare of our city with the only object in view of securing the best possible solution of this most important problem with which the city is confronted at this

"1st. The City of Medford shall take over and assume as general city obligations all outstanding Bancroft Paving bonds, the aggregate amount of which is approximately $560,000. All interest hereafter accruing on such bonds shall be paid by general taxation, and the principal thereof shall be paid by the sale of refunding onds as soon hereafter as such bonds can be sold to advantage.

Relieves Outside Property

"2nd, Every assessment which has been levied for street paving shall be scaled down and reduced to an amount not exceeding sixty per cent of the value of the lot, exclusive of improvements, against which the assessment stands, the basis of value to be that fixed by the county assessor for purposes of 1915 taxation. The effect of such a reduction will be to wipe out from two-thirds to threefourths of the paving assessments against outlying residence property. a somewhat less proportion in case of the more valuable inside residence property, in the case of corner residence lots, the reduction will be much greater because the said assessment for 1915 which is taken as a basis will not be substantially larsult in no reduction at all on the assessments against inside husiness

"3rd. The city shall proceed vigorously to collect all the unpaid assesments remaining after making such reductions.

"4th. From the funds so collected. the city shall repay to those property owners who have heretofore paid on their assessments amounts in excess of such assessments as so reduced the full amount of such excess with interest at 6 percent from the date of such payment,

"5th. The remainder of the funds so collected from assessments, both principal and interest, shall be placed in a sinking fund to retire the bonds issued to refund the present Bancroft bonds.

Advantages of This Plan "(a) It is practicable. No doubt whatever exists but that it could be carried into effect. It is not absolutely necessary to issue or sell any bonds at the present time. The refunding bonds can be issued, if it is found possible to sell them at the present time, at as low or a lower rate of interest than the present Bancroft bonds, otherwise, the city can wait a more favorable time for selling such bonds, as most of the outnounced when the noon recess was five to six years to run. It is doubtowners until the Bancroft bonds are celes Times building, that they ex-
