

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Mrs. Florence Studebaker, former resident who has been in the east and south for some time past, has returned here to care for her father, Eli N. Peters, an aged civil war veteran over 80 years old.

A monster squash, five feet in circumference and weighing 80 pounds, is on exhibition at Lamkin's realty offices. It was raised by A. H. Penney, who has a model garden and fruit ranch at 100 Lincoln street. The large growth contains raw material enough to manufacture 100 pies, who used this variety in New York and the Hawkeye state.

Mrs. H. O. Parcker returned on Tuesday from San Diego, after an absence of nearly two months visiting in various sections of California.

"Love's Rival," words by Elizabeth Yockey, local poetess and composer, is the title of a new song just published by the Marks-Goldsmith Co. of Washington, D. C. One does not have to read between the lines to note that "Rest" is love's rival. The music is by Claude Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Case, their daughters, Mrs. Carrie Hargadine and Helen Casey, and the Misses Helen and Gertrude Biele, leave Sunday for San Francisco exposition.

A plaque has been delivered by the city attorney, in line with a request from the council, on the issue of appropriating certain moneys for improvement purposes in territory outside of the jurisdiction of the municipality. The specific contention relates to work on the Dead Indian road. The officials' opinion is that such expenditure will not stand the legal test.

The recent robbery from a leading residence in the Scenic Drive district which rounded up three diamond rings, a solid gold necklace and a gold ring all at one and the same haul, might pass unnoticed but for the fact that the stock of valuable jewelry was the property of a local Methodist minister.

Leading papers are giving credit to J. E. Anderson of The Dalles as being the father of the prohibition movement in Oregon, whereas it has heretofore been generally conceded that R. P. Hutton of Portland, who addressed an audience at the Methodist church on a recent Sunday, was entitled to that distinction, even if Anderson did introduce the particular bill in the legislature.

Mrs. W. W. Hovener, visiting here from Klamath county, was agreeably surprised on Thursday by a picnic party in the park given in her honor by ladies of upper Granite street district.

Conductor Blalock of the S. P. left early in the week on a trip to Edmonton, Alberta, concerning land matters. On his return Mr. Blalock will meet him in Portland.

A musical attraction at the Vining, October 11, will be a recital by Miss Doris Bagley, a young lady of noted vocal accomplishments, whose talent on this occasion will be tendered in behalf of the Wednesday Afternoon club.

The local high school will compete this season in the state league for debating honors. The question at issue is a resolution to the effect that "the United States should adopt the essential features of the Swiss system of military service and training," qualified of course to the extent that "Mamma don't want her boy to be a soldier."

The Anderson-Myer-Walker-Baron clans picnicked in Lithia park on Wednesday, the families of the quarter of familiar names enjoying a pleasant reunion.

Local Grand Army veterans are interested in the election of one of their old comrades, Elias R. Montfort, of Cincinnati, O., and ex-postmaster of that city, as commander-in-chief of that organization. He won in the election over William J. Patterson of Pittsburg by a vote of 539 to 241.

Bob Stanley, "the chair doctor," who recently located on the abandoned premises at the corner of Third and A streets, has improved the appearance of the property in a way that more than comes up to civic adornment requirements.

M. C. Bressler, now located at Harrisburg, is revisiting the scene of his former surroundings here and making a particular note of the springs and park development, postponing after which he is urging steps be taken in his adopted town.

A. B. Seefield is seriously ill at his home on North Main street.

Freckles and His Friends

day, Welborn having just returned from a surveying trip on Applegate. C. Carey was a business visitor in Talent Tuesday.

The crop of fine Newtown apples in the Hargrave orchard is being gathered this week and hauled to Medford for shipment.

Senator Von der Hellen and wife and Mr. and Mrs. George Von der Hellen were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reimer of North Talent Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Beeson of Wagner Creek were pleasant callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carey Thursday.

S. S. Stephens had the misfortune to lose a valuable milk cow from alfalfa bloat this week.

Otto Caster is hauling his grain to Ashland mills, where he sold his season's crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rader intend to start Saturday for the San Francisco exposition to be gone a few weeks.

Grandma Hughes of Ashland is visiting her son, L. E. Hughes and wife of Fern Valley this week.

Jim Bell of Langel valley is visiting his father, Jeff Bell of Talent.

H. C. High of Talent was a business visitor in Medford Tuesday afternoon.

E. M. Rease of Ashland made a business visit to Phoenix Tuesday.

Fred Weeks accompanied by his mother and sister, Mrs. and Miss Weeks, and Mrs. Hargrave, came out to the Hargrave orchard Sunday evening.

Harry Mathews and wife and a friend or two from Ashland visited friends in North Phoenix district Sunday.

Quite a number of ladies from Talent Saturday evening and enjoyed a social evening.

Otto Caster was doing business in Phoenix last Saturday.

There seems to be quite a waste of valuable ammunition in this locality, as the game bags look rather empty for the amount of shooting going on.

Miss Letia Stephens of Talent went to the fair at Salem, being one of the lucky ones to win a free ticket on her fine exhibits at the school and county fairs. Miss Stephens has a right to be proud of her honors.

SAMS VALLEY

Ben Perry and family moved to Gold Hill this week, where Mr. Perry will be employed at the cement plant.

The Hauptmann bungalow, which Mr. Hauptmann is having built on his recently acquired farm, is almost completed and will be finished in an up-to-date style.

Otto Tresham and family have recently moved to the Perry ranch, which Mr. Tresham has rented for the following year.

Apple picking and packing is going on in full force.

The farmers are all complaining of the unusually dry weather. The ground needs rain badly for the fall plowing.

Mrs. Gardner left last Saturday for the San Francisco exposition.

M. A. Schultz received the sad news last night of his mother's death. Mrs. Schultz resided in Medford.

H. A. Tresham was doing business in several of our towns yesterday.

W. W. Edington is installing an up-to-date water system on his farm.

GOLD HILL NUGGETS

Fletcher Stout, pharmacist for the Bowers drug store, has been taking his vacation the past week.

Miss Millie Hodges was a week-end guest of Professor and Mrs. B. G. Harding at Rogue River last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Herriek of Missoula, Mont., visited Mrs. Herriek's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. McMillan, on Wednesday while on their way to the Frisco fair. They will return in about ten days for a more extended visit.

Numerous Gold Hill citizens were in evidence at the Rogue River baseball game last Saturday. The baseball boys, as well as the students, came home with various laurels.

George Iverson attended the Ministerial association for southern Oregon at Rogue River Monday.

Dr. R. C. Kelsey was in Grants Pass Tuesday on various business matters.

F. K. Duval of Medford was in our city Monday.

Mrs. Fred Witt visited in Grants Pass the first of the week.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Wharton were in attendance at the Southern Oregon Ministerial association meeting at Rogue River Monday. They left there that evening for a visit of several days at the ranch of their son, Howard, on upper Evans creek.

The house and almost all of its furnishings and contents of the Sleepy Hollow ranch, one mile west of Gold Hill, were destroyed by fire early Sunday. While partaking of their morning meal H. A. Ensign, manager of the ranch, and others became aware of a crackling sound. On investigation it proved that a fire had already got beyond control—probably from a defective chimney. Only by rapid work were they enabled to save as much as they did, as within about fifteen minutes there was nothing of the building left but a few burning timbers. While attempting to save a trunk of valuables Mr. Ensign's mother had her right hand badly smashed. She is now at Eagle Point with her daughter, Mrs. Pelouze.

A. A. Engels, one of southern Oregon's pioneers, residing at Roseburg, visited with his old comrade, C. C. McClendon, of this place the first of the week. They crossed the plains together in the early '50s.

W. E. Thompson returned Friday last from Portland, whither he had had himself on business.

J. C. Bapoh, president of the Beaver Portland Cement company, arrived from Portland Friday.

On Wednesday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock the air south of Gold Hill was so filled with the sound of the "ping" and "zing" of bullets one would almost think the European war was on here. But it was, instead, Mr. and Mrs. Ad Topperswin giving their exhibition of fancy as well as remarkable shooting. When they would hit even small nearby thrown into the air, or shoot behind themselves by looking into a mirror, it brought forth all kinds of praise. Local shots were there, you can bet.

Charley Young of Medford made a visit to Gold Hill Wednesday.

That the orders for fertilizer lime might be delivered on time, the construction company at the cement plant are now working night shifts. A. Williams' bar-hammer mill, which grinds the rock for fertilizing use, was installed this week. Work on the cement factory is now in progress.

The R. R. P. S. power plant near Gold Hill is again in operation after a two weeks' shutdown for repairs and other work. They are now furnishing power for the Beaver Portland Cement company.

The progressive Bible class, in order to make payment on a piano recently purchased, gave a very interesting entertainment at the Combs theater last Monday night. The program was as follows:

Piano solo, "Woodland Whispers," Miss Ethel Davis; piano duet, "O Beautiful Night," Misses Florence and Marguerite Wharton; vocal solo, "The Wide, Wide World," Miss Young; "You Truly," Miss Mary E. Love; monologue, "Our Wedding Journey," Gladys Darling; girls' quartet, "Gold Storage," "The Jolly Students"; vocal solo, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," "Dreams," "Absent," Professor J. S. MacMurray.
