TEUTON FORCES ACROSS DANUBE INVADE SERBIA

Attacks by Austro-German Armies Proceeding South of Belgrade—All Serbia United in Resistance—Germans Repulsed at Loos, Leaving 8000 Dead in Front of Trenches.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Austro-German armies which crossed the Danube and Save rivers and occupied Belgrade, are meeting with stubborn resistance at the Serbian advance defenses but have not yet come in contact with the main Serbian forces.

Serbian Campaign The Serbians plan of campaign depends considerably upon the amount of assistance they will receive from allied troops, but it is not believed that they will attempt, in any event, to make a decided stand north of the mountain range near Kraguyetaz, which they already have proved to be a line offering superb facilities for defense.

Entire Nation Aroused The population of Macedonian Serbia has gathered into bands with the object of repulsing a possible Bulgarian attack. In addition to 300,000 soldiers, a million Serbians of both sexes and all ages are said to be ready to dispute all attempts at Austro-German-Bulgarian conquest.

German Losses Heavy The only news of the night, according to the French official announcement made public this afternoon, is that of fairly severe bombardments on the part of the Germans near La Scarpe, in the Champagne district, and in the region of Souain. The French batteries everywhere replied effectively.
