THE PAGE TODAY AND TOMORROW

“YOUTH” The General Film Company. Guided by the eye of the artist.

Harold Harcourt, a well-to-do young sculptor, employs Elena, his wife, as his model, and she lends inspiration to many beautiful pieces of statuary. But a few years later, while striving for the great prize, a statue of "Youth," he finds Elena lacks that indefinable "something" which spells youth. Without regard for her feelings he frankly tells her she is too old, and when Elena, a vivacious and ideally formed young girl, visits them, he sees in her the perfect model for his greatest work. The inevitable follows, and Elena, her heart breaking, watches the growing fascination of her husband and lone wife he exhibits only coolness toward herself. Julian, a former suitor, comes into her life, and she is about to run away with him when a sight of her husband's marvelous statue stays her. Instead, she goes away alone after leaving a note for her husband saying she trusts in his sense to save the situation. His conscience awakened, he makes honorable amends, smashes the work of art he has created, in expiation, and secures his wife's loving forgiveness.

CLOSING ARGUMENTS IN INDIAN MURDER CASE

The closing arguments in the Joe Brown murder trial before Judge Wolverton in the federal court began this morning. Attorney Seneca Fouts opening for the defense this afternoon. The case will be given to the jury late this afternoon. The defense closed its testimony this morning. Self-defense was the plea. Brown and Eugene Isames, his alleged victim, had consorted for ten years over a right of way, and the murder was the finale of a long-standing neighborhood feud. The men, the testimony showed, had not been on good terms for years. The maximum sentence faced by the defendant is a life term in a federal prison.

Upon the conclusion of the present trial the court will take up an assault and several bootlegging cases. Action will also be taken on the twelve indictments returned by the federal grand jury last week. Three local men will face trial on bootlegging charges—Bob Anderson, Charles Hayes and William Welsh. The court will continue for a week or ten days.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermented food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines. Instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the soap, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.
