RED APPLES BIG NEED IN COUNTY'S DISPLAY AT FAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12 .- The Oregon building at the San Francisco exposition is receiving a deluge of the several county and the state fair held in Oregon. In many cases they are worthless for the standard set by other buildings and heretofore maintained in the Oregon exhibits, does not bermit of anything but the best or products being used. Some of the extra large vegetables, and especially the exhibits from school-boy gardens in Columbia county, are being displayed to good advantage.

Six weeks ago the peach held the center of the stage, with the south ern Oregon booth leading. A few are left. Next came the pears and southern Oregon so distinctly outdistanced all other sections of the state, that one might consider it the only pear exhibiting district.

Now the red apples are coming in and the displays are being brightened up and are looking better than at any other time during the exposition. Coos county sent in some splendid Gravensteins. Eastern Oregon, some good Arkansas Blacks and Ben Davis. The county fairs in the Willamette valley have sent down some good apples, but most of them small lots of almost abnormal sized fruit. The southern Oregon booth was making a brave display of pears and Newtowns, playing the new crop against last year's in an effective display of that fruit's superior keeping quality, when Jack Morrill's shipment of magnificent Spitz were received with some good-King from Douglas counsetting the pace.
