

PAVING DEBT BURDENS ASHLAND

ASHLAND, Oct. 2.—A meeting to consider paving complications was held at city hall last Friday evening and was well attended. Mayor Johnson presided. The opinion found expression that as a general proposition some plan ought to be devised to shift a portion of the expense upon the city instead of having all the burden assumed by property owners, inasmuch as the personal liability in several instances amounts to confiscation. This view is a conservative one and is not confined to those whose grudgingness and vindictiveness are exhibited towards any phase of municipal betterments. That the city should assume one-half, if not two-thirds, of the paving expense is the recommendation of many. A committee of three to be appointed by the chairman will investigate the legal and other phases of the controversy, and a meeting at the Vining theater will be called later on to consider and discuss the problems which have arisen over paving matters not only in Ashland, but elsewhere.

CENTRAL POINT

Victor Bursell, one of the prosperous farmers in this vicinity, left with a carload of hogs for Portland Saturday night and returned Tuesday morning.

A. C. Walker made a business trip to Glendale Monday evening.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The Misses Gertrude and Helene Biede have returned from their trip to the exposition. They were gone ten days.

Herman Stock and Dan Applegate left Saturday on a hunting trip, to be gone a week or so. With Dr. In Douglas county, as a base of operations, they will work westward in the Umpqua forest reserve.

Frank Sanger is home from a fortnight's visit at San Francisco, the first vacation which he has had for years.

Mrs. Margaret Lindsay has moved into town from her Dead Indian ranch, occupying the family residence on Church street.

E. F. Smith and Charley Lindsay were in Medford Saturday on a deal involving an important business matter.

Dr. and Mrs. Watkins, the former a naturopath and the latter a teacher of vocal music, have left the city after a brief residence on a ranch in the Ashland canyon district.

The Ashland-Klamath Falls football game in the high school series played at the latter town on Friday last, was won by Ashland in a score rivaling the victory over Grants Pass, the figures being 26 to 0. The Hall Taxi Co. of Medford took the home team over to Klamath.

The recent Sunday school convention of Jackson county, held here Thursday and Friday of last week, was a notable one and in attendance and interest exceeded any previous gathering of the organization. Over 500 took part in the parade. Pupils of the Fourth Street Mission won the prize pennant. Dr. J. L. Hill was elected president, and James T. Carpenter, secretary-treasurer, both of Medford. Frank J. Shinn of Ashland, vice-president. The convention for 1916 will be held in the Baptist church at Medford.

Yreka's new Carnegie library was dedicated last Thursday, exercises being under auspices of the Improvement club. Miss Nettie Magoffey is librarian.

Mrs. Michael Lory died Saturday at her son-in-law's residence near the Dollarhide trestle. She was 80 years of age, a widow and the mother of Mrs. Frank Warren, wife of the railway bridge tender in that vicinity. Funeral was held on Sunday at Dodge's undertaking rooms and interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

A desultory fire which had been burning for several days in Mount Wagner territory, assumed a threatening phase last Thursday in a section extending from George Trask's ranch to Oak Flat. Forest Ranger Gribble of Medford, requisitioned under a score of helpers and had the flames under control by Friday night, the recent shower aiding the men's efforts.

Local trainmen report fatal injuries to Ed Barnard by No. 13 near Red Bluff last Thursday. Barnard was riding the rods and accidentally fell under the wheels. His home was at Eureka, Cal. For several months he was employed at Medford.

The Ashland-Klamath Falls high school game occurs on home grounds next Saturday, October 29, at 3 p. m. It remains to be seen whether or not the visitors will return the compliment in the way of reversing the score over them by Ashland a week since.

With the removal of B. F. Mulkey, formerly of Ashland, to Portland, he will become associated with W. H. Powell in a law partnership about November 1. Mulkey is best remembered here as president of the Normal and throughout the county as district attorney and candidate for congress. His talent as an orator is known statewide, and as a post-prandial speaker he has been much sought after on social occasions.

Bishop John William Hamilton of the Methodist church, a pioneer of that denomination on the coast, and the first to introduce Methodist church establishments in Alaska, passed through Ashland today on his way to San Diego to attend a conference of bishops, accompanied by his daughter, Helene, and her aunt, Miss Frances Battelle. The bishop's home is now in Boston.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and party were scheduled to pass through here Sunday afternoon on the way to Portland.

The changes in local restaurants up to October 23 are to the effect that the Royal Cafe, lately operated by Harry Moran, has been leased to Elizabeth King, Marie Boyd and W. E. Boyd, who are now in possession. The institution will be open till midnight, with a merchants' lunch served from 11:30 a. m. until 7 p. m. The interior throughout has been thoroughly renovated and the location is one of the most convenient in town.
