

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Mrs. H. G. Enders Jr. went to Klamath Falls on Monday to attend the funeral of Judge Noland, the families being intimate acquaintances.

D. B. Grant of Eugene, was in town Tuesday, on his way to Texas and Mexico on an important business deal.

Will Edwards, who has been living on the original Patterson fruit ranch, now being operated by Arthur Graham and Paul Williams of this city, has returned to Oklahoma. His wife and two children left Monday, he following later with a car of stock and household goods.

The round trip rate from Ashland to the exposition on an excursion from the valley being gotten up by Scott Davis of Medford, is $31, which includes railroad fare, hotel accommodations and sight seeing attractions for an eight day trip beginning about Nov. 10.

A faction of a church following here in connection with perennial revival services which are ever on the flow instead of the ebb, claim to have arrived at a period of sanctification, whereby they are enabled to speak in "unknown tongues." A bunch of agnostics, in order to test the merits of the claim, plan to attend the services and find out if the language used is plain United States, or whether in line with Scripture prophecy it is in reality a polyglot jargon.

On the Rialto, Tuesday morning, two citizens, one high in city councils and the other somewhat elevated in commercial circles, allowed temper to get the better part of discretion in a talk over municipal improvement matters, with the result that No. 1 ordered No. 2 out of his place of business, the party of the first partness, came out in the open and receive a pounding. In the absence of the police, a deputy sheriff happened along who quelled the incipient riot.

State Representative Irwin of Newport, has been in Ashland for some time past, trying the benefits of a change of climate for arthritic troubles. He is stopping at the Hotel Columbia.

Little Miss Helen Loraine Stratton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Stratton of Portland, had the honor of having her picture in last Sunday's Oregonian as the possessor of remarkable musical talent at the age of three years. Her home is at 804 East Mill street. Her mother was formerly Miss Jessie Wood, daughter of Mrs. Mary Wood, residing here on Laurel street, and to pursue the ancestral genealogy further it might be added that Tom Fuson of Medford, is an uncle of Miss Helen Loraine.

A. L. Lamb, pagoda contractor on park embellishment, is scheduled in the last report of the state industrial commission, on the accident side of the ledger, as having lost a finger.

Mrs. Pansy Childs is substitute teacher for the time being in the first grade, East school, until the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Vida Foley is permanently filled.

Educators and students of a previous generation who will remember Howe's Grammar, published in the east many years ago, will be interested to know that one of the authors of the textbook, Prof. Edward P. Howe, died in Sacramento recently, at the age of 76 years.

First Co., C. A. C., of this city, will attend the dedicatory exercises of the Medford armory Wednesday evening in a body, under command of Capt. C. A. Malone. Mr. Malone will attend the social function given in honor of Gov. Withycombe and party incident to the dedication. On Thursday Capt. Malone, as a member of the Governor's staff, will accompany the chief executive and party to the exposition, where they will take part in the observance of "Oregon Participation Day," Oct. 30.

The title of the high school anniversary play, to be given in November is "A Rose of Plymouth Town," suggestive of New England colonial days. Eight students participate, and although John Alden is not in the cast "Priscilla" is in the person of Miss Carnahan. Others are Leith and Ernest Abbott, Louise Gillette, Elbert Farlow, Ralph Harris, Dorothy Edwards and Gertrude Barber. Miss Elfrida Merz, instructor in English, is coaching the cast and directing the play generally.

Mrs. W. W. Ussher has been elected vice president of the Oregon congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations in recent session assembled at Corvallis.

Monday, Nov. 1, is designated an Ashland day at the Land Products show in Portland. The evening of the same date is to be devoted to a general gathering of members of the Elk's order.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Billings left Tuesday for a visit to the exposition. Expert automobile drivers, motoring a little more leisurely on the return trip from the recent non-stop road test from Tia Juana, Mexico, to Vancouver, B. C., confirm the report that the distance, 1898 miles, was covered in 127 hours without the stoppage of a wheel from the Mexican to Canadian boundaries. On the way north they passed through Ashland in the early morning hours. The car was a Chandler, manned by Ben Kroopf, mechanic, and Joe Waddell, moving picture operator, who took along Charles Hunter, manager of the Chandler Motor Car Co. of California, Al Waddell, auto editor of the Los Angeles Times, and Jack Griffin, common every day passenger.

Monrad Nyby, who recently traded his premises at the head of Maple street to Emerson Hough for Portland property, has gone to the Rose City to reside. He is a bricklayer by trade. Hough is occupying his new purchase of two acres, on which is an abundance of fruit, garden patch and substantial house.

Rev. Dr. Matt Hughes, well known Chautauqua lecturer, and who has appeared on the local assembly platform, is mentioned as a candidate for bishop of the M. E. church at the forthcoming national conference at Saratoga, N. Y. He is at present pastor of a leading church in Los Angeles. If chosen, he will make the second selection out of one family, his brother, Rev. Dr. Ed Hughes, holding a similar position in San Francisco. Ashland families remember the Hughes boys as students of Iowa college at Grinnell.

A coroner's jury at Hill censured the Fruit Growers Supply Co., of that town in a recent verdict regarding the accidental death of Earl Vettel, who recently lost his life in the logging camp of that corporation.

The high school monthly will return to the annual form of publication.

FLOUNCE ROCK FRILLS

Mrs. Hollenbeck of Prospect died Friday morning at Salem, this state, and was buried Sunday at Antioch. Mrs. Mooney and Ed Hollenbeck have the sincere sympathy of all their acquaintances. Mr. Irwin took Mr. and Mrs. Mooney to Medford Friday night in his car and Mr. Hollenbeck and family drove through.

Mr. and Mrs. Stearns and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Vinson, all of Los Angeles, came in Saturday in an automobile to visit at Mr. Peyton's. Mr. Vinson and Mrs. Stearns are cousins of Mr. Peyton. They are well

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look years younger! Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Misses Lillian Nye and Flossie Tucker took dinner with Violet Ditsworth and later attended Sunday school.

Mr. Conley took a bunch of cattle down from Imnaha Sunday and some men took a bunch of Mr. Bowers' cattle up to Red Blanket Monday.
