They "Roast 'em" if They Don't, and They "Roast 'Em" if They Do (From Wheeling, W. Va., News)

Residents in the vicinity of the Haskins Glass House were shocked last Saturday afternoon when a foreign woman living near by coolly proceeded to take a bath in a tub near a hydrant in her front yard.

Talking of tongue twisters, try saying this one a dozen times: "Flesh of freshly fried fish."—M. J. K.

Today's Bellsinger

Franklin P. Adams, the humorist, went to visit friends in Massachusetts. The host, a man of wealth, had many curios on his walls. After dinner he took down a rusty sword and with much reverence said:

"Never shall I forget the day when I drew this sword for the first time."
 "Where was that?" asked Adams.
 "At a church bazaar!" piped up the small son of the family before his father could answer.

GERMAN EDITOR ST. LOUIS DIES A SELF SLAYER

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—Edward L. Preetorius, publisher of the St. Louis Times, committed suicide this morning.

Mr. Preetorius, who was president of the German-American Press association, which published the Times and the Westliche Post, was found dead in the bathroom of his home, where he had shot himself.

He was 49 years old and had been in poor health since January, 1914, when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by a street car and a deep gash was cut in his face.

Since that time he has been unable to attend to his newspaper work until a few weeks ago.

In 1907, Mr. Preetorius in company with the late John Schroers founded the St. Louis Times, an afternoon paper published in English.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor:

The article written by J. A. Whitlock on "The Needs of the Valley," appearing in your issue of the 26th, was one of the best and most practical of its kind it has been my pleasure to read for a long time. Good, because it was practical, full of common sense and wholesome advice. It should be beneficial, because it was written by one who has lived here, who knows the conditions of the valley, the soil, the climate, its beautiful sunshine and the advantages of irrigation, four elements absolutely essential for the success of the farmer, orchardist and gardener in this valley. The Creator has indeed been generous in the distribution of these elements and surrounding the valley with such scenic beauty that needs only to be seen to be admired, filling the hills with precious metals, the forests with billions of feet of stately pines, cedars and firs, the streams with fish, the primeval forest with all kinds of game, coal for fuel, marble and limestone for its diversified uses and water power to more than light the entire valley and medicinal springs, both hot and cold, to restore the health of those who seek their healing powers.

Can we ask more for the pleasure and comfort of human kind? Can we go anywhere and find so many conditions and elements combined to add to the pleasure, comfort and happiness of mankind? Then I ask, in all candor, why don't we make use of all these rare and precious gifts? By doing so and applying scientific methods of farming, both intensive and extensive, producing such diversity of crops as will supply the needs and requirements of the valley without the necessity of importations, then, and not until then, will we see such degree of prosperity in the Rogue River valley as has heretofore been undreamed of, and its glories will rapidly spread. With the establishment of a sugar beet factory and the distribution of water throughout the valley these results should immediately follow.

Then increase the population of the rural districts by cutting up the larger tracts to smaller acreage and to invite to the valley all such as are schooled or trained in agricultural pursuits, those who have no other vocation or ending and who have an ambition to work and succeed on the farm. We already have (and I am one of them) too many professional men as farmers and orchardists. They may be all right in a way, but the needs of the hour is practical farmers—farmers' clubs instead of University clubs—men who will plow the land, not scratch it; who will cultivate the crops and not depend upon the fertility of the soil and diezier sources to bring profitable results.

When these conditions prevail, with the hearty and cordial co-operation of the merchant and farmer in the purchase and distribution of his produce, making this an exporting instead of an importing valley, continued prosperity of the valley is assured and the wandering discontent will return and the croakers cease to croak.

Cleanse The Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood had allowed poisons and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They felt "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor digestion and despondence. They tried S. S. S.—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poisons, and with the flow of pure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happiness. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. Insist upon S. S. S. If yours is a long standing case, write for special advice to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., but begin taking S. S. S. at once.

GOREMYKIN WILL GUIDE RUSSIAN FOREIGN POLICY

LONDON, Oct. 31, 5:55 p. m.—It is understood that Premier Goremykin of Russia is shortly to be appointed chancellor of the empire, with supreme control of foreign affairs, a Reuters dispatch from Petrograd states. His appointment would make him the twelfth Russian to hold such a position, the first being Chancellor Gortchakoff, who died in 1883.

The Boerz Gazette says that M. Goremykin's conductor would be M. N. N. Sicho, formerly Russian ambassador at Vienna. The newspaper adds, it is reported, that Emperor Nicholas has accepted the resignations of Sergius Sazonoff, minister of foreign affairs; M. Krivoshein, minister of agriculture, and of M. K. Aronoff, controller of the treasury. Alexei Khvostoff, minister of justice, will become premier, the Gazette declares.

STRONG BILL AT THE PAGE THEATRE

In "Destiny, or The Soul of A Woman," in which Emilly Stevens, the wonderful emotional actress, is starred, the B. A. Rolfe company has achieved a masterpiece of screen production, that will create a distinct sensation. The picture, which was produced from the original document by Anthony P. Kelly under the direction of Edwin Carewe, is an allegorical study of unusual power. The treatment of the theme is daring and decidedly novel and many of the photographic effects are distinctly out of the ordinary. At the Page Wednesday.

PRESIDENT WILL BE MARRIED AT DECEMBER'S CLOSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—It was formally announced today at the White House that the marriage of President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt will take place "near the close of December," and that it will be private at Mrs. Galt's home here.

This statement was issued by Secretary Tammily: "In order to quiet speculation, President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt today authorized the announcement that their marriage will take place near the close of December. Their plans are for a very simple ceremony. It will be quietly performed at Mrs. Galt's residence. No invitations will be issued and it is expected that the only guests will be the members of the two families."

BRIGHTER CHILDREN

Children are probably brighter to-day than a generation ago—but are they stronger? That's a grave question. So many pinched faces, dulled eyes and languid feelings make us wonder if they will ever grow into robust, healthy men and women. If your children catch colds easily, are tired when rising, lack healthy color, or find studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion for one month to enrich their blood and restore the body-forces to healthy action. Scott's Emulsion is used in private schools. It is not a "patent medicine," simply a highly concentrated oil-food, without alcohol or harmful drugs. It cannot harm; it improves blood; it benefits lungs and strengthens the system. Your druggist has it—refuse substitutes. Scott & Bower, Bloomfield, N. J. 15-21

PLYMOUTH CHURCH ASKS HILLIS TO CONTEST ACTIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The board of trustees of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, have addressed their pastor, the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, to withdraw from his agreement to arbitrate the controversy with his former business manager, Frank L. Ferguson, over money matters.

In making this announcement today Colonel W. C. Beecher, chairman of the board, said the trustees had voted their "utmost confidence" in Dr. Hillis, but believed that "the welfare of the church will be best conserved by the fullest investigation in a court of justice and not by a secret hearing in any star chamber, no matter how well meaning its members may be."

Doctors Prescribed Vinol

To Restore Strength to This Weak, Nervous, Woman. Many fair minded doctors prescribe Vinol because they know of what it is made, viz.—the medicinal extracts of fresh cod livers, peptonate of iron and beef pepton, without oil or grease, in a mild tonic wine. They know these are the oldest and most famous tonics. Read the result in Mrs. Mason's case: "I keep house for my little family of two, and got into a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I was tired and weak and did not know what ailed me. My doctor prescribed Vinol, I noticed an improvement before I had finished the first bottle, and I am now feeling fine and doing all my household work." Mrs. M. S. Mason, 203 Passaic St., Trenton, N. J. Every weak, nervous, run-down person, feeble old people and delicate child in Medford should try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to benefit. For sale at Medford Pharmacy.
