Latest in Veils--"The Domine"

It's not a hold-up—at least smartly dressed women don't think that way about this latest freak of fashion—THE DOMINE VEIL.

Worn with the new "toppers," the veil—with eyeholes let into it—gives the chic girl a REGULAR BOLD, BAD HIGHWAYMAN APPEARANCE. But it's been noticed along Fifth avenue, where the first of these veils have been seen, that plenty of men appear willing to be victims of the beautiful "bandits."

The veils come in several patterns but the most popular one is one with a rather heavy and elaborate pattern that gives a rich effect.

All Millinery at One-Half Price Monday

An Extraordinary Hat Sale

IN which every hat in the department is included. Dress Hats and Street Hats of every kind and color—large hats, medium size hats and small hats. Many of which are Pattern Hats from the big city shops. We want to close out every single hat within the next thirty days. It means a big sacrifice, but it is our way of doing business. Salesmen are around already with the new spring shapes and in another month we want the department to be cleared of all winter stock. The price alone will do it.

Miss Loraine Cowgill entertained a number of friends with a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Van R. Pierson on Roosevelt avenue last Saturday evening. The house was elaborately decorated in Halloween splendor and the guests were greeted by a ghost who ushered the through dark holes and what appeared to be a ghost or crazy house. A fortune teller was engaged during the evening to reveal the future of the guests and was kept busy the greater part of the evening.

Games appropriate for the occasion were enjoyed together with the quaint and old-fashioned dances until a late hour when a delicious Halloween lunch was served. The following guests were present: Mildred Wicks, Gladys Natwick, Mercedes Barber, Catherine Swain, Jean Budge, Annette Walkman, Esther Warner, Grace Wilson, Frances Bacon, Gladys Wilson, Jeannette Patterson, Eric Stewart, Laura Gates, Browning Purdin, Babe Cochran, Lea Walters, Mildred Heine, Louise Daddysman, Marie Diars, Seymour Rosenthal, Glen Simmons, Nolo Lindley, Francis Bennett, Carter Brandon, Horace Bromley, Chas. Ray, Herbert Alford, Stephen Nye, Noel Calhoun, Thomas Scanlin, Dwight Phipps, John Moffit, Adelbert Rosenthal, James Vance Griffith Cowgill, Ralph Balcom and Ralph Pierce.

Mrs. Caroline Bellinger, her daughter Mrs. Slover and granddaughter, Mrs. Cartwright left Thursday for San Francisco where they will visit the exposition a few days before going to Los Angeles and Long Beach, where they will spend the greater part of the winter.

A very enjoyable time was had Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barneberg entertained the West Side Social Club with a dancing party at the Natorium.

Mrs. W. C. Cartwright accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Caroline Bellinger, and Mrs. A. L. Slover, left Thursday for Long Beach, Calif.

The Wednesday Auction Bridge club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Gus Newbury on Mistletoe street Wednesday afternoon.

The Grizzlies entertained their members and friends with a dancing party Friday evening in the small hall of the Natorium.

Mrs. E. G. Riddell entertained the Thursday Nullo Bridge club at her home on South Oakdale Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Kelly of Devil's Lake, North Dakota, are visiting Mrs. J. E. Watt of East Jackson street.

Mrs. Edwin Janney was hostess to the Girls Bridge club at her ranch home at Perrydale Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Owen left this morning for a ten days' visit to San Francisco.

A song and organ recital was given to an audience of 900 people Wednesday evening at the First Christian church. Mrs. Hildred Haight made her initial appearance at this recital and charmed her hearers. Mrs. Haight's first number, the aria from St. Paul, "But the Lord is Mindful of His Own" (Mendelssohn), was given with the dignity and sonority of voice required of oratorio. This was followed by the two great arias from "Samson and Delilah," by Saint Saens. Mrs. Haight's rich contralto voice and fine dramatic fervor showed to advantage in these numbers. A group of English songs gave great pleasure. The clear enunciation and fine diction which Mrs. Haight used showed her to be an artist. She was recalled after all her numbers, and finally after being presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, responded to an encore by singing "Annie Laurie." Dr. Frank Wilbur Chase, dean of music at Willamette university, who assisted Mrs. Haight, while a stranger to Eugene audiences, is a noted organist, conductor and composer. He was most appreciatively and enthusiastically received. W. B. Field acted as accompanist and his sympathetic and artistic playing helped to make the recital a success.—Eugene Register.

About sixty couple enjoyed an old-fashioned Halloween dancing party which was given by St. Mark's Guild of the Episcopal church in St. Mark's hall Monday evening. The evening's entertainment commenced with the grand march, followed by the lanterns, which was danced by the first eight couple in old-fashioned costume, some of which were fifty years old. The greater part of the evening was spent with dancing, and punch was served from an immense pumpkin, over which Mrs. R. A. Holmes, Mrs. Russel and Mrs. Nellie Wing presided. Later in the evening doughnuts and coffee were served, after which six more dances were enjoyed, including quadrilles, polkas, etc. The hall was pretty with its decorations of corn stalks, jack o' lanterns, pumpkins and other Halloween regalia. The guests voted the evening one of the most enjoyable spent and expressed the wish that the Guild might entertain its members and friends with a dancing party at least once a month.

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. E. N. Warner Tuesday afternoon with about forty members present. The program was opened with devotionals by Mrs. Edna Stevenson, followed by a paper given by Mrs. E. Palmer of Central Point, entitled, "The Value of Medical Knowledge in Missionary Work." A play was acted out, entitled, "The Lady Who Knows," by the following ladies: Mrs. E. A. Welsh, Mrs. Volney Dixon, Mrs. H. U. Lumsden, Mrs. W. T. York, Mrs. Grow, Mrs. Glasgow, Mrs. Gaunvaw and Miss Leard. Current events were also given by Miss Leard. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by Mrs. Warner, assisted by Maudine Hatt and Ruth Warner.

Mrs. L. P. Black has leased her home on West Main street and will leave soon for Portland, where she will spend the winter. The Misses Mildred and Kathleen are attending school at Corvallis and Mrs. Black will visit them en route to Portland.

A meeting of the amateur play committee of the Drama league was held Friday. Miss Margaret Hubbard presiding as chairman. It was decided to give a one-act play at the Page theater in the near future.

Mrs. Lou D. Jones returned home Sunday from an extended trip in the middle west, including Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and also visited in Tillamook, Portland and La Grande on her way home.

The East Side circle of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. T. C. Weeks Wednesday with a large attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lebo of West Jackson street left this week for San Francisco, where they will spend ten days visiting the exposition.

Mrs. Anna Kelleher and daughters, Misses Kate and Anna, have returned home from a visit to the exposition and southern California.

Frank Perry of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting his sister, Mrs. M. S. Hubbert, of Oakdale avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore of Baker City are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Newbury.

Miss Myrtle Purkeypile entertained the Baptist Young People's Union with a delightful social. The party was in the nature of Halloween and the house was decorated with foliage and witches. After a short business session the rest of the evening was spent with games and music. A feature of the evening's entertainment was the appearance of a ghost who called for a short time, creating much merriment. It departed at an early hour with its identity unrevealed. The young people had a pleasant glance into the future with the aid of Miss Eunice Davis, who being skilled in the art, foretold many humorous events. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Miss Dorothy Connor, who so miraculously escaped from the wreck of the Lusitania some months ago on her way to England, returned home Wednesday, coming direct from New York after a safe and pleasant voyage on the steamer Rochambeau, a small French liner which sailed from Bordeaux, France.

Miss Connor is accompanied by her sister Mrs. Harold J. Reckitt of London, England, who recently established a branch hospital near Paris for the Red Cross society. Miss Connor states that she is more than glad to be home once more.

The Serious Ten was entertained Wednesday evening by Miss Myrtle Purkeypile at her home on Olson street in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent with music and fancy work after which luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Grace Purkeypile. A Halloween scheme of orange and black was carried out during the evening. Those present were Della Whisenant, Doris Layne, Myrl Doris, Loren Stratton and Margaret English.

Mrs. Mattein of Ashland entertained the Sewing Club of Central Point, the Needlework Club of Ashland, Mrs. W. H. McGowan, Mrs. Charles Young and Mrs. Helen Minkler of this city at her home in Ashland. The house was decorated with chrysanthemums and roses. After an afternoon spent with sewing and conversation a dainty two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

The Neighborhood Shakespeare class, which has recently been organized, met at the home of Mrs. Davidson last week. The class has taken up the study of Othello. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Canode, 624 Dakota avenue.

Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mrs. Charles E. Irwin of Madison, Indiana, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Vawter, left Wednesday for a visit to the exposition en route home.

Professor Herman Gens in San Francisco was the host at a musicale at which two hundred guests were present. The affair was given in his new attractive studio, 553 Baker street. Among the performers, all of whom are pupils of Professor Gens, were two young students of Medford: Miss Dorothy Wicks, who sang an aria from the opera "Mignon," by Thomas and a song by Gens, and Mr. William Vawter, who rendered an aria from the oratorio "St. Paul" by Mendelssohn, and appeared later in a duet from the opera "Martha" by Flotow with the renowned tenor, Charles Bulotti. Miss Wicks, as well as Mr. Vawter, attracted the attention of the discriminating audience by their beautiful voices and the artistic interpretation of their solos.

Of keen interest to the members of the Wednesday Study Club, was the meeting held Wednesday at the library. The current events for the day were given by Mrs. Shields in a concise and comprehensive manner. Mrs. Torney then gave an interesting general survey of the history of South America, dividing it into four periods—the prehistoric age, the age of discovery, the age of conquest, and the modern age of development. This was followed by Mrs. Palmer's instructive talk on the geography of South America, which was made doubly interesting by the use of a map. The club will hold its next regular meeting November 17th.

Mrs. Ivor Poley entertained with a Halloween party Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. John F. White. The guests arrived in ghostly attire and the evening was spent with games and social conversation after which a delicious two course luncheon was served. The table was prettily decorated with jack o' lanterns, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

The guests included Misses Ione Flynn, Loraine Bliton, Helen Dahl, Lois Estes, Mr. and Mrs. Glasgow, Mrs. Agnes M. Yessell, Mrs. John Wilkinson, Mrs. Donald Springer.

A delightful party was had at the home of Mrs. Bliton Tuesday evening by Mrs. Bliton's class of boys and Mrs. Banker's class of girls of the Methodist Sunday school. The evening was spent with games appropriate for Halloween, after which refreshments were served. About twenty-three were present.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a rally meeting and social at the Christian church this evening. Delegates will be present from Grants Pass and Ashland and arrangements will be made to hold a Christian Endeavor convention at Grants Pass this winter.

The ladies of the Altar Society of the Catholic church entertained with a tea at the Parish hall Wednesday afternoon. Miss Anna Kelleher and Mrs. Douglas were hostesses.

The ladies were entertained informally with cards and sewing at the Rika's Club Friday afternoon. Mrs. W. H. McGowan was hostess.

The Greater Medford club held their regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon at the public library and an unusually large crowd was in attendance. A program of exceptional interest was promised, and the promise was made good.

Three musical numbers added charm to the session, and Mrs. Jonas Wold, chairman of the department of music, for all the regular club meetings. Dr. J. Lawrence Hill, so favorably known in Medford, where he has made his home for the past two years, and who, it will be remembered, rendered such splendid service as head of the Associated Charities last winter, made a short address in which he announced himself as candidate for membership on the school board, which will be vacated by B. F. Mulkey, who will leave shortly for Portland.

He was accorded the unanimous support of the club, and a committee was named to wait upon the school board in this regard, and it may not be irrelevant to mention here that practically every woman's organization in the city recognizes in Dr. Hill a man particularly well qualified to identify himself with the educational interests of the city. He has the unanimous support of the Parent-Teachers' circles, the College club, the W. C. T. U., as well as the Greater Medford club. Indeed, Medford can consider herself fortunate to have a man of Dr. Hill's education, experience and ability on her board of education.

Mrs. Porter Neff, who was a delegate to the state convention of Women's clubs at Salem from the Parent-Teachers' circles, gave a report of the work done.

Mrs. H. H. Sargent read an interesting paper on the European war. Mrs. H. C. Stoddard, chairman of the civics department, told of the work being done toward the beautifying of reservoir park and the city in general. Mrs. Stoddard is very earnest in her work, and she deserves and is receiving the hearty support and appreciation of the public.

Mrs. Charles Schiefelin's report of the state convention at Salem was of course the highlight on the program. It was for her report that the regular meeting was delayed a week, and nobody was disappointed.

The convention was held in the state house, Governor Withycombe giving the address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. Nellie Briggs of Ashland.

There are 117 clubs in the federation and 164 delegates were present, and while many subjects of interest to women came before the federation, more real nerve energy was expended on club politics than in all the work of the session.

Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Tucker; violin solo, "Liebesfreud," Mrs. Ivor Paley, accompanied by Miss Venita Hamilton.

The first Monday in December the musical department will give an altogether out-of-town concert under the direction of Mrs. Sheets, which promises to be of unusual merit.

The parent-teachers' circles of the Jackson and Washington schools held a joint meeting at the Jackson school building, Friday, October 5. A very interesting program was rendered.

Song by the sixth and seventh grades. Violin solo by Richard Stockton. Dr. Hill addressed the meeting, announcing his candidacy for director on the school board to fill the vacancy made through the resignation of B. F. Mulkey. The circles voted to endorse Dr. Hill.

Mrs. Seelye gave a very interesting report of the state convention of the Mothers' Congress held at Corvallis, October 20.

Mrs. Neff called the attention of the mothers to the excellent books now on exhibit at the library for the young people. The following officers were elected at the Oregon Congress of Mothers' and Parent-Teachers association recently held at Corvallis, to which Mrs. E. R. Seelye and Mrs. Porter J. Neff were delegates:

Mrs. Geo. W. McMath of Portland, president; Mrs. E. R. Seelye of Medford, vice president; Mrs. J. E. Montgomery, Pendleton; Mrs. B. G. Skulerson, Milwaukie; Mrs. Dora B. Schuelke, La Grande; Mrs. Bradford, Roseburg; Mrs. F. H. Skelton, Eugene; Mrs. J. E. Elliott King, Portland; Mrs. H. J. Fitzpatrick, Astoria; Mrs. Walter Brown, Lake county; Mrs. W. J. Kerr, Corvallis; Mrs. J. M. French, The Dalles; Mrs. W. W. Usher, Ashland; Mrs. Gaymon, Marshfield; Mrs. Thomas, Jefferson; Mrs. Belknap, Pineville; Mrs. Lowe, Malheur County, was elected as recording secretary; Mrs. C. F. Nichols, Portland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lillian Minton, Portland, financial secretary; Mrs. J. M. Shortt, Portland, treasurer; Director for six year term, Mrs. A. N. Felts. Delegates to national mothers congress, Mrs. W. J. Kerr, Mrs. A. N. Felts, Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, Mrs. R. E. Bondurant, Mrs. R. M. Walker, Mrs. Wilson McNary, Mrs. B. J. Skulerson were chosen as alternates.

On last Tuesday Mrs. George Carpenter gave a bridge party at her beautiful home for Mrs. Roland and Mrs. Conrad of New York. Those present were: Mrs. Roland, Mrs. Conrad, Mrs. McCormack, Mrs. Stewart Patterson, Mrs. S. V. Beckwith, Mrs. Walter Bowne, Mrs. Souder, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Margaret Hubbard, Mrs. W. L. Holloway, Mrs. Sooy-Smith.

Friday afternoon the ladies of the Colony club met and worked industriously for the Red Cross society. The ladies have a government list of wants for the soldier boys, and every Friday afternoon is devoted to sewing and knitting for the society.

The W. H. M. S. of the M. E. church South met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Worth Bennett, 842 Taylor street. After a brief business session the following program was rendered:

Song, "The Morning Light Is Breaking"; prayer, Mrs. Robert L. Taylor; Bible lesson, John, 17th chapter, read by Mrs. Frank S. Brandon; paper, "Our Work at Holding Institute," by Mrs. H. M. Branham; paper, "The Daughters of Palmour Institute," Mrs. J. W. Bennett; song, "Jesus Paid It All"; reading, "Holding Institute," by Mrs. Riley D. Henson; paper, "Industrial Training for Mexican Women," by Mrs. Robert L. Taylor; paper, "Social Barriers in Mexico," Mrs. William Miller; paper, "Mexican Schools," by Miss Rose Whitney; song, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains"; paper, "Home Economics for Mexico," Mrs. W. C. Rice; "Professional Nursing in Mexico," discussion led by Mrs. B. F. Fifer; "Missionary Items," Miss Carrie Morris; benediction.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Bennett served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Robert Taylor and Mrs. Ed Robinson.

Olive Rebekah lodge, No. 28, held their regular meeting Tuesday evening. After the business session a social time was had and a pleasing program rendered, consisting of a reading by Mrs. Manning; piano duet, Misses Whipple; reading, Glen B. Conwell; solo, Mrs. Hubler. The program was especially well rendered and enjoyed by all present. A pleasant half hour was then spent in old-fashioned games, after which the call was given to go to the banquet hall, where the committee, assisted by Martin McDonough as candy maker, had prepared taffy all ready for pulling. All present vied each other in seeing who could pull the best, and expressed their appreciation of a very enjoyable evening.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church was entertained at the home of Mrs. Geo. R. Lindley of Siskiyou Heights Friday afternoon with about 25 in attendance.

Mrs. Wm. Van Sooye had charge of the program which was very interesting. Following the program refreshments were served by the hostess. The society regrets very much the departure of Mrs. Wm. P. Mealey who has been president of the society the past three years. Mr. and Mrs. Mealey will leave soon for Los Angeles where they will make their future home.

The Amosa class of the Baptist church gave a Halloween party at the homes of Mrs. Medley and Mrs. Doolley Saturday evening. The guests came attired in ghostly apparel and were initiated into the order of the ghosts in a very ghostly manner. The evening was spent in telling ghost stories, fortune telling and games. After this a delightful luncheon was served. The decorations were beautiful, cleverly carrying out the Halloween idea. At a late hour the guests departed, after having had a delightful time.
