

NO DEMONSTRATION BY JAPAN AGAINST CHINESE MONARCHY

KIOTO, Nov. 9.—Japan has assured the powers she has no intention of making a military or naval demonstration against China in connection with the pending negotiations for the postponement of the re-establishment of a monarchy if this change in the form of government should be decided upon.

According to a report current in Kioto, which is believed to be authentic, President Yuan Shi Kai intended to proclaim himself emperor of China on November 16, the day of the first coronation feast in Japan. The idea of the enthronement of Yuan Shi Kai simultaneously with the coronation of Emperor Yoshihito was displeasing to representative Japanese.

Most of the diplomats and special envoys who have arrived here to attend the coronation ceremonies are quartered at the Kioto hotel, which has been refurnished from cellar to roof. Every article used was manufactured under the direction of the imperial household, constituting one of the items in the $5,000,000 budget provided to pay the expenses of the coronation.

The United States cruiser Saratoga, flagship of the Asiatic fleet, arrived at Kioto today and gave the salute. After official visits had been exchanged Rear Admiral Albert J. Winterhalter and his staff came to Kioto and called on the American ambassador, George W. Guthrie.

PROGRESSIVES GAIN IN RUSSIAN ELECTION

PETROGRAD, Nov. 9.—A considerable change in party representation in the imperial council has been made by the elections. Sixty-three members were chosen, 43 by Zemstvos, 12 by the nobility and the remainder by universities, the clergy and various industries.

The campaign resolved itself in efforts against the progressive element, which gained a majority in the last duma. The progressives added materially to their strength.

REQUEST NEUTRAL ZONE ALONG BORDER DURING FIGHTING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Neutral zones at Agua Prieta, Naco and Nogales, extending four miles over the border from each of these places, to be patrolled by American soldiers, were proposed today by Senator Ashurst to Secretary Lansing and Major-General Scott, chief of staff of the army, as a means of preventing further damage to American life and property in the Mexican border fighting.

"Difficulties in the way of creating neutral zones were pointed out by both Secretary Lansing and General Scott. General Scott thought the plan would involve invasion of Mexico and Secretary Lansing indicated it was not feasible from the state department's standpoint. General Carranza's government, it is understood, would be willing to permit United States troops to cross into Mexico if Mexican troops were permitted to cross into the United States. The plan was discouraged and Senator Ashurst was inclined to drop it. It was submitted to him by citizens in Douglas, Ariz."

ARSONISTS GIVEN PENITENTIARY TERMS

PORTLAND, Nov. 9.—Four members of a coast wide arson ring, which has been operating for 10 years, were given indeterminate sentences of from three to seven years in the state penitentiary by the state circuit court here today. The district attorney's office announced that the organization had been effectively disintegrated.

The men who received sentences were Sanford W. Currier, confessed head of the ring; Mordie Keeney, former Portland fire department lieutenant; Mont Akeyson, former lieutenant of the Oregon National Guard, and George L. Woollette.

Two other members of the arson ring had been sentenced previously. William Stewart is now in the penitentiary and Fred W. Castle is out on parole.

SHIPPING NOTE DOESN'T WORRY ENGLAND MUCH

LONDON, Nov. 9.—"Enlightened opinion here is not uneasy over President Wilson's note," says the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, who is in the closest of touch with public men. The president's attitude, continues the correspondent, is regarded as the whole somewhat pedantic, but as not in intent or in any degree menacing.

He is conducting the controversy, it is thought, in such a fashion as to keep American rights intact and unprejudiced, and at the same time to keep the discussion from developing into a quarrel.

"The only danger that is foreseen here from the president's attitude is of a political kind. The presidential election in the United States is drawing near and in presidential campaigns everything is put into the melting pot. There are big vested interests in America, notably the Chicago meat packers, that are aggrieved by our practices based upon the order in council of March last."

ASK PRESIDENT TO AID IRON WORKERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—President Wilson was asked again today by a delegation of union leaders to commute the sentences of former officers of the Structural Iron Workers union now serving terms in Leavenworth penitentiary for their conviction in connection with the so-called dynamite conspiracy, which involved the destruction of the Los Angeles Times and ramified throughout the country. The president listened attentively and took the appeal under advisement.

HA!
"I am a man of few words!"
"Shake—I'm married too!"

parade. Mrs. Mary Kennedy, the only alleged member whose case has not been disposed of, was present in the courtroom today.

QUIET RESTORED ON MEXICAN BORDER FUNSTON LEAVES

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 9.—With the Mexican situation all quiet as a result of a failure to switch the allegiance of the Nogales, Sonora, garrison from General Francisco Villa to General Venustiano Carranza, Major General Frederick Funston found it unnecessary to remain here and left today for his headquarters at San Antonio, Tex.

It is the opinion of army officers that conditions all along the border are settled for a few weeks at least. Some uneasiness was manifested concerning Nogales, Sonora, across the border from here, where it is believed Villa's expected entry tonight might produce some excitement. American schoolkeepers and others were preparing to spend the night on this side of the border.

Today was General Funston's 50th birthday. He is the youngest major-general in the army. He confessed to having some sentiment concerning birthday dinners and declared he derived great happiness from the fact that his anniversary did not occur yesterday when it required twelve hours for him and his party to come 124 miles from Douglas, with various disjointed railroad connections, and when dinner consisted of salt pork, boiled cabbage and sour dough biscuits at an adobe crossroads eating house conducted by a Mexican cook, with a camp stove as equipment.

REBELS VICTORS OVER GUATEMALA FORCES

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 9.—The defeat of the forces of President Cabrera of Guatemala by revolutionists was reported today to Andreas G. Garcia, Mexican consul here, in advices from Mexico City.

According to the dispatches, the revolutionists attacked the government forces at Vallejo, Ixtatam, and a severe battle followed. The dispatches were based on reports by Governor Blas Carral, governor of Chiapas, state of Mexico.

UNITED STATES OF EUROPE PREDICTED AS WAR RESULT

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 9.—A new and greater Europe with the peoples of the warring nation coming at last to a realization of the real liberty Americans gained so long ago, was pictured tonight by the secretary of the interior, Frank K. Lane, in an address before the State Literary and Historical association of North Carolina. He said in part:

"We look with horror upon the inhumanity of human nature and say to ourselves:

"Is this all that christianity has brought? What has become of that sweet song of the brotherhood of man? Whether has flown that sense of outrage against injustice, that men now die by the millions because a prince was killed in Serbia?"

Words of Despair
"But these are the words of an unthinking despair. Surely our memories have not failed us. We must look back, look through this blinding storm of fire and see the Europe that was, and that will be again. Then there was to be seen a pillar of fire leading the multitude—England trying to regain her lands for her people—Germany threatened with a transfer of political power from the few to the many—Russia slowly emerging from the middle ages with her groping duma—France, la belle France, gentle, gracious, glorious France, living out the philosophy incorporated in the first ten lines of our own Declaration of Independence."

May Secure Liberty

"Europe may burn up. Her people may be blasted by bankruptcy. Her national lines may be made to follow new channels. Her industries may be buried. Her sons may fall and the blood and the brain of many an unknown Tolstoi, Beethoven, Pasteur or Darcin may fertilize her shell-furrowed wilds. She may set up for a day new standards of national greatness. But all these cannot destroy the passionate purpose of her people to decide for themselves what chains they will bear and what sacrifices they will make. For chains and sacrifices must be these men's social life, and only the anarchist dreams of a life without restraints."

"But Europe knows that it may" have what we Americans long ago gained, that degree of freedom which sacrifice is made—consciously and proudly made—for those and to those with whom we have a common interest. And this is liberty."

PREVENT IMMIGRATION OF BRITISH SOLDIERS

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The British government today took its first definite steps toward preventing emigration of able-bodied men from England.

Since the refusal of the Cunard company to carry abroad British subjects eligible for military service last Saturday, the Anchor line and the White Star line have adopted an identical course. Other lines are expected to take similar action at the request of the government.

The Only Kind

On the train out Medford way, Subbubs got into conversation with a stranger, who remarked:

"I see you are putting up a good many new buildings."

"Yes," answered Subbubs, "new buildings are the only kind we put up."
