

FALL PLOWING ELIMINATES MANY DESTRUCTIVE PESTS

BY W. W. WATSON

One important aspect of the loss the farmers of this valley are sustaining through lack of irrigation is found in the fact that they cannot apply one of the most effective means of destroying crop pests without the possibility of plowing their fields and afterwards disking them in the fall. The ground is too hard, as a result of the long period of drouth, for good cultivation of this kind; but where it can be done, it would destructively break up the nests, cells and protecting encasements of a myriad of insects and expose them to the rigors of the winter weather. This plowing, disking and harrowing late in the fall will completely destroy many of the most injurious insects and greatly diminish the numbers of others. It will play havoc with the army worms, cutworms, Hessian flies, grasshoppers and numerous other destructive pests that reduce the yields of the fields and lower the quality of the product and the prices they may bring.

Winter Sleep of Insects

Different insects pass the winter in the soil in different stages—some in the egg stage, some hibernate in the worm stage, others in the pupa or resting stage, while most of the beetle tribe hibernate in the soil, if not disturbed, as adult beetles. Late fall plowing and disking will cut, crush and destroy them, in many cases, while others are brought to the surface and left to perish. The birds and animals also levy their share on those exposed.

If the fields are not disturbed till spring, these pests are left to multiply by the millions and, with their destructive forces thus augmented, their ravages in the crop growths are very serious, sometimes wholly destructive of crops, and in a general way impoverishing the farmer woefully.

With irrigation, this menace may easily be disposed of, for the ground can be put in condition for cultivation, in the proper process of which the pests are annihilated or so reduced in number that their damage to crops is merely nominal.

Means Loss to Farmers

In cases where the cultivation is desired for the purpose of putting in a winter crop, inability to do so works a large loss. If the work be attempted and the fields sown or drilled anyway, the loss is yet greater, for the work and cost of seed are both lost, along with the farmers' opportunity. In a thousand ways irrigation will benefit the farmers; and in a thousand ways the farmer may turn for substitute or substitute without finding it. There is nothing that will take the place of irrigation.

NEW PROPRIETORS MEDFORD CREAMERY

F. C. and H. B. Clark, have purchased and taken charge of the Medford Creamery on North Central, have moved their families here to reside and are very much in love with Medford and the valley.

They are experienced creamery men having spent several years in the business in Oregon and Washington, and say they will make the best product that can be found on the market, and guarantee it.

H. D. Clark is also an experienced dairyman having had practical experience. He is a graduate of O. A. C. where he studied dairying and creamery work.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

At a citizens' mass meeting, held at city hall Saturday evening to discuss paving obligations, a resolution was adopted providing that the municipality assume at least one-third of the expense of the paving. This measure will be presented to the council at its regular session, November 16, praying for relief along action taken. The meeting was well attended, quite a number of women being present.

Glenn Conwell and family of Medford were visiting paternal relatives here the last of the week, preliminary to the transfer of Glenn to Klamath Falls territory, where he is to assume new duties in connection with an appointment as leading electrician in the employ of the Oregon-California Power company.

In response to recent solicitation, voiced through the local press by flaming double-column ads, supplemented by personal solicitation cards, quite a number responded to the appeal, "One hundred men wanted," by attending divine service at Trinity Episcopal church on Sunday, both morning and evening. Sittings were absolutely free, none being reserved even in favor of the strictly high church and elect following.

Gardner Johnson of Chicago, nephew of C. W. Nims of this city, who was visiting here last summer, met with a frightful and fatal accident at an Oak Park crossing of the C. M. & St. P. railway last Friday near Chicago. Their car was struck by a limited train and Johnson, his mother, a Miss Briggs and the chauffeur were instantly killed. The party were on their return to Chicago from Elgin.

Karl Rose, engineer on logging operations with the Weed Lumber company, now taking a winter's vacation, left for the exposition on Sunday.

Dr. V. P. Murray, Southern Pacific expert in the way of testing sight, hearing and color defects, was here several days last week in the examination car No. 112, on a tour of inspection over the Shasta division.

Miss Ernestine Edwards, granddaughter of Mrs. E. K. Anderson, has won a diploma from a New York school of design, and now holds a position as an original designer in a large wholesale house in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Sim Morris, residing on Church street, was seriously injured last Friday night. While in the vicinity of Phoenix, she jumped from a recalcitrant car, fearing an explosion, injuring her head. Medical attention was summoned.

Rev. Raymond McClelland and wife of Ohio, the latter a sister of Mrs. H. E. Badger, have been visiting relatives here on their way to the exposition.

Fire last Saturday forenoon broke out at the residence of Aunt Lily Smith on Church street. Flames damaged the roof and first story, water deluging the ground floor. Most of the household goods were rescued in a demoralized condition. Fine cap out of place allowed sparks to drop among rags. House not equipped with electric wiring. Insured.

Mrs. Vera Hicks Real of Klamath county is visiting relatives here, accompanied by her son, on her way to visit the family of Frank Sutton, living in the Williams creek locality in Josephine county. Mr. Real is building a new house on his Klamath county ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davenport of Twin Oaks ranch, in the Myer creek neighborhood, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Engle, residing on the urban boulevard, were week end house guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCoy, 253 Almond street.

The state highway commission, at a recent session, apportioned $45,000 as Jackson county's allotment for highway work in 1916, that sum to be specifically expended on the Siskiyou mountain unit of the Pacific highway. Thanks for small favors.

Miss Annie Walrad of Newport has returned home, due to illness, a further surgical operation being deemed necessary. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frulan, near relatives, met her at Albany.

Mrs. Ida Taylor Ellis was visiting friends here last week on her way home to Oakland, Cal., from Roseburg.

Among recent departures for San Francisco to visit the exposition were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lamkin, Mrs. Elizabeth Van Sant and Mrs. W. E. Jeter, who left Monday.

Mayor Johnson is out again after several days' illness, due to a spell of the grippe.

In view of the football score Saturday at Medford between high school teams, 0 to 0, keep an eye on Ashland at the final game in the series here on Thanksgiving day. There will be a decisive result, one way or another.

D. M. Lowe, as an honored guest tendered by the development bureau of the Portland chamber of commerce last Thursday evening to sixty exhibitors of the Portland chamber of commerce identified with the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show, is authority for the statement that, owing to placing of heavy orders by metropolitan wholesalers, Jackson county exhibitors would be kept busy for the next five years, owing to heavy orders already plowed for pears, apples, peaches, loganberries and other small fruits.

The case of Andrew Tieman of Hood River, who bequeathed his estate to the Masonic lodge of that town, has a counterpart here in the circumstance that Ashland Lodge, No. 23, A. F. & A. M., will eventually become the beneficiary of the estate of Jacob Thompson, deceased, one of the pioneer settlers of these parts, who by testamentary letters provided a specific bequest for this purpose.

CENTRAL POINT

The musical cantata, "The Gypsy Queen," given at the opera house on Friday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church, was a decided success financially and otherwise. At the rise of the curtain the stage looked like a typical gypsy camp, with beautiful gypsies in gay regalia. Miss Francine McNassar as queen, or old Mother Grunt, was great, her singing beautiful. Mrs. W. E. Brayton as Rosalie had the leading role and took her part with her usual ability. The ladies with their queen, Mrs. M. O. Broadbent, made a beautiful picture with the graceful, light fairy step and pretty white dresses with blue scarfs. The lovely fairy palace, all white, gleaming in the background. Last, but not least, came the mountain children in their becoming costumes. Henry Riley, as pianist played with his usual skill and sweetness. Much credit and praise is due Mrs. S. A. Mulkey as director.

R. H. Ellsworth of the Central Point mills made a trip to Klamath Falls during the past week.

Mrs. Lynch, Sr., mother of George Lynch, left Sunday afternoon for Topeka, Kan., where she will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Belle Llewellyn.

The Central Point Athletic club made a trip to Grants Pass Saturday, returning Sunday morning.

Mrs. Lyons, Sr., and Mr. Lyons, Jr., mother and brother of Dare Lyons, who have been visiting here the past year, left for their old home in Kansas Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. E. Price, who has been visiting friends at Oakland and Berkeley, Cal., for a month, returned home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Moore, who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mann, for some weeks, left for her home at Hamilton, Cal., last week.

Mrs. Ina Tussney, nee Ina Owens, and little son departed for her home in Idaho Friday evening after a three months' visit here with her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Owens, and other relatives.

Frank Deford, of Sams Valley was visiting among old friends Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hazelrigg, Mr. and Mrs. Timmons, Mr. and Mrs. Minick and Professor Niebert were in from Azate Saturday transacting business.

E. Still of Derby, Or., is visiting with his mother and brother, Rev. John Still.

Quite a number of Central Pointers attended the school entertainment at Table Rock Saturday night.

Mrs. Shipley Ross is spending the week end with relatives at Grants Pass.

Miss Winnie Mason left Sunday morning to visit relatives at Talent.

Mrs. Tom Pankey entertained the members of the Embroidery club Thursday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Campbell, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. O. Broadbeut, for a week, returned to her home at Medford Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pankey of Gold Hill spent Thursday evening here.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Cingende of Eagle Point are visiting relatives and friends here.

Rev. A. D. Gillett of Barren, Wis., is here visiting Mrs. Della Applegate, and Alfred Gillette. He is a brother of A. P. Gillette, who recently resided here.

Peter Applegate is here from the Buzzard mine visiting his son's family.

Roy Ager left for Portland Friday evening to attend the golden wedding of his mother and father's fiftieth anniversary.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it. Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then get normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary ailments caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Have you a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble?

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.
