

OREGON APPLES GIVEN AWAY AT EXPOSITION TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Two, and even one month ago, people connected with the exposition at San Francisco expected to see a decided falling off in the attendance, especially during November. It has not materialized. With only three weeks more, the attendance is more than holding its own. The ordinary California winter tourist crop is beginning to arrive, and the host of San Francisco and bay people seem to be saying, "We must see the fair again before it closes for good." The loyalty of local citizens to this wonderful exposition is splendid.

The Oregon building continues to be the most popular state building on the grounds. The exhibits are up to their best. The introduction of some novelty or extra piece of attractive display by one booth is taken as a challenge by the other sections and they promptly try to outdo it. Hence the building as a whole is looking fine.

The 100 boxes of Spitz bought by the commission were given away today, "Oregon Apple Day." Half are from Rogue river and half from Hood River. You couldn't tell one box from another. The commission has presented a carton of fine Spitz to each of the exposition directors, heads of departments, foreign and state commissioners, army and naval chiefs and a few local celebrities. They make a very creditable and acceptable remembrance.

Commissioner Booth has been succeeded as commissioner in charge by Senator Hawley of McCoy, who will supervise the last month's work. The attendants at the building elbowed together in presenting to Mr. Booth a very fine tooled leather book cover with the inscription of presentation in illuminated lettering done in oils. Ben Sheldon of Medford made the presentation at the weekly meeting of the "Oregon Family" Monday, the 8th. Mr. Booth has made a popular and successful leader in the work.

A number of Jackson county people have registered during the past week, including: From Medford—Gus Newbury and wife, J. C. Mann and wife, Georgin Miers, Grace B. Nye, R. A. FEW TURKEYS IN VALLEY THIS YEAR

The president's Thanksgiving proclamation didn't bring a stock of fat turkeys for distribution in this valley. Hence, the Thanksgiving turkey has become a local problem. In addition to the fact that there are not many turkeys in the valley, considering the ease with which they can be raised here in great numbers, the drought had much to do with the turkeys being poor. It reduced the quantity of food on the range and, in the same proportion, it reduced the stock of grasshoppers and other bug and worm food in which the turkey delights. On this account the turkeys are few in number and lean of body. The price is affected adversely, also, for the farmer can't get as much for a poor turkey, squab or adult, as he can for the one in good condition. Even the same number of pounds will not bring as much.

The mails bring every day such circular letters and card prices of turkeys and geese in the San Francisco market, for distribution in the country, as will make it quite certain that a good many turkey producers in the rural districts will be deceived and finally stung on what few they have for sale. These fake-price quotations come from concerns whose standing should be carefully ascertained before the farmer risks his poultry with them, except for cash in advance.

Geese and ducks are also very scarce and equally poor in condition.

U. S. CRUISER RIDDLES MOTION PICTURE SHIP

A sensational realistic battle for motion pictures was fought in the waters off San Clemente Island, recently when Producer Thos. H. Ince allowed a U. S. cruiser to sink a ship especially purchased for the purpose.

A thousand persons sailed out into the Pacific aboard yachts and launches from San Diego, Cal., to view the battle. It lasted more than two hours. Six thousand feet were exposed by nine cameramen.

The vessel which was sacrificed was formerly the Bowhead, famous for many years on the Pacific as a whaler. The attack was made by the U. S. armored cruiser San Diego, now lying in San Diego harbor. Ince had the Bowhead converted into a warship of the Blueches battle cruiser type. The cost of this work, including the purchase price of the vessel, approximated $180,000.

HOBSON TO SPEAK AT PAGE SUNDAY UPON PROHIBITION

Richard P. Hobson, former congressman from Alabama, and distinguished as a soldier, will speak in the Page next Sunday at 3 p. m. on "Destroying the Destroyer." A national prohibition rally, the largest ever held in Medford, is expected must be there by 2:45 p. m. With must be there by 2:45 p. m. With Mr. Hobson will be Dr. Edwin J.

Stearns of New York. This is what is said of him:

"He climbed out of a Pennsylvania coal mine, over the Philadelphia bar, on a Presbyterian Pulpit, to reach the International Temperance Platform. Mr. Stearns is truly a man of mark; of many marks. In his hand a piece of chalk talks and laughs and weeps. The pictures grow and change before eager eyes. He is a smiling partner in the firm of Cheer and Jeer, wholesale dealers in fun, fact and fancy, down in Jersey, where he has a little flock of sheeters, the children call him Dr. Merryheart."

FAMOUS WHITE DEER OF UMPQUAS SLAIN

The white deer of the West Fork country, which has been seen in several years only by a few hunters at rare intervals, has been killed, recounts the Roseburg News. The white deer is a freak of the deer family and very seldom is one found in existence. So far as known, this was the only one in the state.

The white deer which roamed the mountains about West Fork for so long, and always immune from the hunters' wiles, had its career ended last week by Dick Bounds, who lives at Clark's Branch, near Myrtle creek. Mr. Bounds was hunting in the vicinity of West Fork for several days when he finally sighted the beautiful snow white animal and knew immediately what it was. The deer is said to have a beautiful hide and it will probably be given a skillful preparation with a view to preserving it.

FINAL WEEK OF CAMPAIGN FOR SUGAR FACTORY

This is the final week of Rogue River valley's opportunity to obtain a $600,000 sugar mill, with all of the advantages that will accompany its establishment and operation. It is a hard week for the various committees in the valley whose members are busy acquiring the acreage necessary to insure it. They already have obtained 3000 of the 5000 acres necessary. The 2000 acres remaining to be secured constitute the center of the fight this week.

One hopeful sign is found in the fact that the farmers who have so generally complained, with abundant reason, against the middleman's getting the lion's share of the farm profits, have begun to see that in this sugar beet proposition the middleman is absolutely eliminated. The producer of the beets yields his product direct to the factory without the intervention of the greedy go-between who always endeavors to convince the farmer that his assistance is needed in the safe delivery of the crops of the farm to the wholesaler or consuming public, for which service he "grabs" the bulk of the returns in cash. In fact, he sometimes leaves the farmer without anything to show for his work.

The beet culturist everywhere delivers his beets immediately to the mill and gets the mill's price per ton, without anybody's rakeoff reducing it. This pleases the farmers and is proving to be an attractive inducement in this case.

The committees all over the valley are doing strenuous work, early and late, this week in order to make assurance doubly sure. If they fail it will not be an account of lack of work, and struggle for it. It will be the fault of the farmers.

REAL ESTATE LAW DEFINED BY COURT

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 16.—An agreement employing an agent to sell or purchase real estate for compensation must express the agent's commission to be valid, according to a decision of the Oregon supreme court today. The decision, in which the supreme court reverses itself as well as the Multnomah circuit court, is considered important as it clears up a question of real estate law in Oregon in conducting the statute of frauds. The case was recorded on an appeal by J. N. Hunter and William Staats, who had commissioned J. W. Taggart to sell a piece of timber land in Crook county.

On Galician Front

On the Galician front the Russians, while admitting they have yielded some ground in the neighborhood of the Styf fort, do not concede they have been forced back across the river, as is claimed in the German official communication of yesterday.

Further details of this fighting will be necessary to determine whether the Russians have lost the town of Czartorysk, and whether Russian control of the Kovel Sarny railroad is thereby endangered.

GERMANS CEASE CENSURING WAR REPORTS OF ALLIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The German ambassador, Count Von Bernstorff, announced today that he had been informed that German censors should be instructed to insist upon the publication in the full in Germany of war reports issued by the allies. An announcement at the embassy quoting the instructions of the German chief bureau of censors said: "Cases have occurred where such news items which are unfavorable to us are eliminated from the reports at the order of the censors. The latter procedure does not correspond with the opinion held by the army headquarters."

"We have the less reason to fear the unabridged publication of reports circulated by our enemies, as our own war reports are strictly according to the truth, giving everybody the opportunity of forming a correct conception of the situation."
