That Molliecoddle

His ankles were encased in pretty spats; his lissome legs reminded me of slats. His waistcoat was a tasty thing in gray, the hue of mist upon a foggy day. A monocle was mounted in his eye. He wore a lively stick-pin in his tie, and found his neck there clung a collar towel that had the height and stiffness of a fence.

Hoot Noot!

Yesterday I rode home on the Millis car with a Scotch friend of mine.
"There's Miss M.—," I remarked, "sitting up in front. Why don't you speak to her?" "Wait till she passes her fare," answered my friend.—H.

Today's Beltinger

Richard Henry Little, the Chicago writer, says:
"At the recent encampment at Fort Sheridan, a nearby farmer's son walked into camp and expressed a desire to join the ranks of the citizen soldiers.
"Have you ever done any drilling?" asked the sergeant.
"Sure," came the response, "across of it!"

OUR FOREIGN POPULATION

IT will surprise many people who live in those parts of the United States which have been heavily settled by German people to learn that the Teutonic element in this country is not nearly as large as has been estimated. We have heard all sorts of figures on the number of Germans in America, the largest being that of Congressman Vollmer of Iowa, who said that they were between twenty and thirty millions.

Colonel Harvey of the North American Review has taken pains to look up the matter in the official tables of the United States government's census of 1910. First, he found that there were in the United States only 13,345,545 foreign born, all told. Looking up the Teutons among these, the census showed the following:

Germany	2,501,181
Austria-Hungary	1,670,524

Total Teutonic 4,171,705

But fully two-thirds of the number reported from Austria-Hungary are not Teutons at all. They are Hungarians, Bohemians, Poles, Slovaks, Rumanians, Serbians and Bosnians, who notoriously have no love for Austria, although they emigrated from Austrian territory.

The census figures show the following foreign born who hailed from the soil of "the allies":

Great Britain and Canada	3,773,269
Russia	1,602,752
Italy	1,343,070
France	117,236
Belgium	49,391

Total allies 6,885,724

The foregoing figures only show the foreign born. You have to take into account the children born in this country of foreign parents. All right; the United States census does that, too. The figures give the following as the total of all foreign born and of American born of one or both foreign parents:

British	10,037,420
Teutonic	8,817,271

Not to mention the Russians, Italians, French and Belgians, allies of the British. Nor in the foregoing are given the foreign born, or their American born children, of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Greece, Spain, Portugal and Mexico, all of which are well represented in the United States.

Our German neighbor might say that you will have to take into account the third and fourth generation of Germans born in this country. So, too, you will have to take into account the British and others who have been emi-grating to the United States for three-quarters of a century.

GOOD RIDDANCE

THE German consul general at San Francisco, Franz Bopp, who has been mentioned as implicated in some of the bomb outrages, spying conspiracies and treasonable plots against the United States, is quite angry to think that these little activities command any attention from Americans. In retaliation, he threatens to leave. He says: I do not like this country any more, and will be happy to return to Germany. I am disgusted with the ill-feeling displayed toward me and after the war there will take place a regular exodus of German Americans who feel about things in the United States as I do. Many German-Americans are not even waiting for the end of the war, but right now are renouncing their American citizenship and returning to Germany.

Let him go, and those like him, who place the kaiser above their American citizenship. That is what Mr. Bopp and those like him ought to have done when war was first declared. They should be in the trenches fighting belligerents instead of abusing the hospitality of a friendly nation to play traitor and dynamite neutrals.

Any hyphenated citizen who places allegiance to a foreign monarch above his allegiance to Old Glory, who cherishes greater love for the land of his birth than that of his adoption, and who does not hesitate to betray the nation that gave him freedom and opportunity denied abroad, had better go back where he came from.

Such threats as those of Bopp win him no sympathy.
On the contrary, the execution of the threat will be received with relief.

TWIN BEDS PLEASE
LARGE AUDIENCE

There was a good crowd out last night to see the latest comedy "Twin Beds," at the Page. No one came with the idea of seeing anything in the way of high comedy or serious drama; they came to laugh and forget the cares of business, and "Twin Beds" served the purpose admirably.
The house was well filled both top and bottom, which shows that Med-ford's appetite is beginning to sharpen for something in the way of a real show. The movies are all right, but an occasional comedy or drama serves as an excellent sauce to the main bill of fare.

The cast was all good, and to single out any one actor for special praise would be doing an injustice to the others.

The management has two excellent attractions booked for the 21st and 22d of this month, in fact, two of the strongest attractions on the road, namely, Margaret Hington, who will be seen here in her latest success, "The Lie," on December 21, and Forbes Robertson on the 22d, in either "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" or "Huckle," the choice to be left to the patrons of the theater.

While we have not been given many road attractions this season, we must thank the local management for giving us the best. ED ANDREWS.

TRIPOLITAN TRIBES
ROUT ITALIANS

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—Reports from Constantinople say that well organized Senussi tribesmen and Tripolitan-ians have occupied a whole village of Tripoli. The Senussi forces also entered Rasasrt, where they are reported to have routed the Italians.
The Italians are said to have lost six thousand men killed and to have abandoned a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

BRITISH VOTERS REBUKE
LIQUOR ADHERENTS

LONDON, Dec. 10.—A rebuke to the liquor interests was seen in the re-election today in the house of commons as postmaster general of Herbert Samuel over Henry Knight, a printer of Leeds.

In a bye-election in the Cleveland division of North Riding, Yorkshire, he polled 7312 votes as against Knight's 1453.

Mr. Knight in his campaign opposed recent enactments restricting the liquor sales, claiming to represent the consensus of opinion among the laboring classes. Labor leaders asserted his statements that trade unions opposed the regulations, were untrue.

WEDDING BELLS

John W. Walsh of Lake creek, Jackson county, Oregon, and Ida Marie Newstrom of Lake creek, were united in marriage by Rev. W. F.
Shields at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Paul Demmer, West Fourth street, this city, at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, Dec. 9th. These young people were born and raised in the community where they live and where they intend to make their home. They have a wide circle of relatives and friends being connected with some of the eldest and most substantial German families in this county. A company of friends witnessed the ceremony that made them husband and wife. A hospitable repast was provided by the gracious hostess, and the wedding couple start on their married life with the best wishes of their host of friends.

TURKS STEADILY
GAINING GROUND
IN MESOPOTAMIA

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 10.—An official report given out here indicates that the Turks are steadily gaining the ascendancy in Mesopotamia and that the British expedition, following its long retreat from the vicinity of Bagdad, is now offering less effective resistance. The report follows:

"Mesopotamian front: The enemy's resistance is decreasing sensibly.
Our troops repulsed all British sorties with heavy losses to the attackers. Six captured aeroplanes have been repaired and are being used against the enemy.

"Dardanelles front: Near Anafar-ta hostile artillery opened fire from the sea. Our artillery replied, scattered hostile troops and drove transport ships to the shoals of Kimikil Liman Bay.

"Near Arl Baran there was violent bomb fighting on our right wing. A hostile cruiser participated in the engagement. An ironclad monitor and a torpedo boat of the enemy opened fire. Our artillery replied and compelled the monitor to withdraw after being hit twice.

"In the vicinity of Seddul Bahr there was the customary artillery duel."

bar.

Why Tolerate Catarrh?

You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucus amazes you that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vaseline on referring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month.
Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes.

Scott's is pleasant to take.
