The Alpha Delta class of the Christian church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. U. S. Collins, 1136 West Tenth street, Thursday afternoon. The class had as their guests the mothers of its members, Mrs. Marion Lance, through the courtesy of Mrs. G. E. Pierce of the Medford greenhouse, presented each mother with a beautiful white carnation. Mrs. J. H. Bellinger, the class president, gave the Bible reading and prayer followed by the members, giving quotations from the Bible. In a few well chosen words appreciating the class' love and appreciation for the work of their teacher, Mrs. Bellinger presented Mrs. A. J. Hanby with a handsome gold pin with the class name engraved upon it. This came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Hanby, it being the eve of her birthday. Mrs. Hanby responded by expressing her appreciation of the class' love and interest and of the union and friendship existing among all of the members. Mrs. Lou D. Jones then took charge of the program. It was an afternoon in Hawaii, Mrs. Jones having recently made a visit to this beautiful island. She read a most interesting paper portraying her trip and a vivid description of Hawaii's famous volcano; and she also had many beautiful pictures which made all present feel as if they too had visited this enchanted isle. Mrs. Harvy Tucker gave a Hawaiian piano solo and Miss Boss Bryan delighted everyone with her perfect rendering of a number of Hawaiian songs. This proved to be one of, if not quite the most, delightful afternoons the class has ever had. The hostess and those in charge of the afternoon's entertainment were the bright yellow Hawaiian lays around their necks. The refreshments were delicious and in keeping with the afternoon's program. Those serving were Mesdames Jonas Wold, J. C. Robinson and W. F. Quisenberry. The class decided to engage in a magazine campaign and try to secure two hundred and fifty subscribers for the "Today's Magazine." If they succeed they will secure a premium of one hundred dollars. Mrs. W. F. Quisenberry has charge of the campaign. It is hoped the friends of the class will help them in securing the full number of subscriptions. Those enjoying the afternoon were Mesdames J. T. Carpenter, Baker, Sunningham, Collins, Sr., Hull, Burgess, J. H. Bellinger, T. J. Davis, O. O. Alendorfer, B. S. Cunningham, Dyer, Hazelrigg, Schmidt, Tucker, U. S. Collins, Wold, Quisenberry, J. C. Robinson, Lou Jones, Lance, Henry Marsh, F. D. Fry, B. W. Paul, A. Weissing, A. Worth, A. J. Hanby, Miss Bess Bryan and Mary and Albert Collins.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met at the church Tuesday afternoon when a musical afternoon was enjoyed. The devotional meeting was led by Mrs. S. S. Carpenter, the subject being "Song."

Mrs. Carlton James read a paper on "History of Hymns and Hymn Writers."

Mrs. Childers sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd," accompanied by Mrs. James; also a lullaby, accompanied by Mrs. Paley on the violin.

Mrs. E. S. Palmer and Mrs. P. J. Johnson were hostesses and served refreshments at the close of the meeting when a social time was enjoyed.

The Medford camp of the Modern Woodmen of America entertained its members with an oyster supper and smoker Friday evening at the close of the business session. The occasion was due to the initiation of several new members into the order. Next Friday night another class will be initiated and a social session will follow.

Mrs. E. J. Stewart entertained the Wednesday Bridge club at her home on West Tenth street. Mrs. Jack Holmes and Mrs. Roy Davis were guests of the club.

The Iowa Society will give a banquet Monday evening in the St. Mark's hall. After the banquet a program will be given, followed by dancing.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will hold a business meeting in the chapel of the church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Phipps and Mrs. George Garrett returned Wednesday from a visit to the exposition and San Francisco.

Mrs. I. E. Wakeman was hostess to the Nullo Bridge club Thursday afternoon at her home on North Oakdale.

The Parent-Teachers' circle of the Lincoln school met Friday afternoon at the school building. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Billings, Mrs. Gray acted as chairman. The reading of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," given by Miss Marie Seely, was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Neff gave a report which was very clear and interesting. Mrs. W. C. Wilson was appointed with the other committee to help in securing the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Hanby were appointed to co-operate with Mrs. Seely in visiting the rural districts. Mrs. W. C. Wilson was appointed district matron. Mrs. John Perl will meet with members from the other circles to plan a reception to be given for the teachers during teachers' institute, which meets here in December. The next meeting of the circle will be held January 28, 1916.

The Comraderie club calendar for the past week included the following affairs: Monday evening, smoker at the Ray residence, West Main street; Thursday eve, stag theater party for "Twin Beds," followed by an oyster supper at the Shasta; Friday eve, informal dancing party at the Alford residence on West Tenth street. Although this new club of young men has been organized for less than two weeks, the members are already starting things with the proper "peppery" spirit necessary to make it a success in every sense of the word. A series of original parties, dances and smokers are to be staged at short intervals throughout the winter social season.

A social was given by the Baptist Young People's Union Friday evening, December 10, in the church parlors of the First Baptist church. About sixty young people were present. A short business meeting was held, and the following officers elected for the next six months, beginning January 1, 1916: President, Nora Daley; vice-president, Waneta Carstens; secretary and treasurer, Olive Johnson. A very interesting program was rendered, after which games were played and refreshments served.

The Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church will give a tea at the church Thursday afternoon, December 16, at 2:30, to which all members of missionary societies of the city are cordially invited to attend. Miss Laura Hetty, a return missionary from China, will be present and give an address. She is a gifted and interesting speaker and it will be a rare treat to have her here. Miss Hetty was sent to her field of labor from the Oregon conference, she being an Oregon girl.

The Colony club entertained with a bridge tea Friday afternoon in their rooms at the Hotel Medford for the pleasure of Mrs. George Duggett, who was passing through Medford en route to New York, where she will make her future home. Those present were: Mesdames Sooy-Smith, Hopkins, Holloway, Pratt, Reames, Lewis, Bowne, Conrad, Ruhl, Owen, Madden, Preston, Misses Louise Burke and Margaret Hubbard.

At the meeting of the College Women's club this afternoon business matters connected with an art exhibit in the future will be discussed. Miss Quisno will talk on "Appreciation of Sculpture," Mrs. McCurdy and Mrs. Haskins on "Brilliant Masters of the Art, French and Macdonnies."

Dr. Carlow entertains the club for its December session at her home on South Laurel.

The M. H. S. alumni will hold a meeting this evening on the mazzanine floor of the Hotel Medford. Further discussion of the annual Christmas ball will be taken up at this time and committees appointed to carry out the various details of this big affair. It is important that all alumni attend—7:30 p. m.

The Parent-Teachers' association of the high school will meet Friday afternoon, December 17, at 3 o'clock. The subject will be "Language Minded and Hand-Minded Children." The subject will be open for discussion and a large attendance is desired.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Greater Medford club will be held at the library Monday afternoon. A short, interesting musical program will be given before the business meeting.

Miss Haldeman Marquet of Girard, Kan., is the guest of Mrs. Winifred Taylor at her ranch home on King's highway.

The Greater Medford club, true to its custom, gave a very entertaining musical Monday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Myron Sheets, hostess of the occasion, deserves unstinted praise for her untiring effort and enthusiasm which made of the affair an artistic success. Every number on the program was encored heartily, and music lovers in Medford will be glad to know that the club intends giving another musical shortly after the regular meeting of the club Monday afternoon, Dec. 13 at the Public Library to which all the ladies of Medford are invited, there will be music.

Miss Ethel Dean gave "Valse Arabesque" (Theo. Lack) piano solo, as first number of the concert, in a very pleasing style, and gracefully responded to an encore.

The second number was a vocal solo "Lullabye" (Kate Vannah) by Mrs. J. M. Rader, in a beautifully soft contralto voice.

Miss Marjorie Myers then gave a reading "A Study in Nerves" which was a credit to the young lady. She was accompanied by Miss Caroline Paul.

One of the very best numbers was a vocal solo "A Highwayman's Song" (R. Huntington Woodman) by Mrs. W. C. Casement accompanied by Mrs. Mary Alsdorf. Mr. Casement has a splendid baritone voice, and the lilt and swing he gave the song was splendid. He is a nephew to Mrs. Alsdorf of South Orange street and came to Medford from Calgary, Canada in October, and will probably spend the winter here.

Next, was a reading "Poor Dear Mamma" (Rudyard Kipling) by Miss Flora Welsh, which was very amusing, and the impersonation of the four characters in the sketch was very well done.

Miss Frances McNasser greatly pleased the audience by her vocal solos "Today" (Carrie Jacobs Bond) and "Rockin' In Di Win'" (W. H. Neidlinger), and Miss Elizabeth Gore closed the program by a very able and well rendered piano solo, "Secound Mazurka" (Benjamin Godard).

An informal dancing party was given by the "Comraderie" club Friday evening at the Alford residence on West Tenth street. The spacious dance floor in the music room was used for the occasion, the music being supplied by a large cabinet Victrola. As the guests arrived, they were presented with unique dance programs which were already filled out with the names of their partners for the evening. This novel method eliminated all the usual bother attendant upon the filling out of programs, and assured each lady at least one dance with every young man present. A diversified order of dance held sway for the greater part of the evening, punch and wafers being served during the intermissions. Those present were the following: Leah Walther, Jean Budge, Babe Cochran, Frances Kenney, Joan Anderson, Kathryn Swen, Mildred Antle, Esther Warner, Mercedes Barber, Ruth Warner, Marlan Gould, Herbert Alford, Earl Hubbard, Lyle Walther, Horace Bromley, Francis Bennett, Will Beveridge, Carter Brandon, Frank Ray, Milton Schuchard, Charles Ray and James Vance.

The social event of the week is the invitation dance at the Seventh company club rooms this evening. Many will be in attendance from Medford, Ashland and surrounding towns.

The Camp Fire Girls of the Presbyterian church met in the chapel of the church Wednesday evening to dress dolls for poor children at Christmas.

The Girls' Tuesday Sewing club was entertained by Miss Florence Folger at her home on West Main street Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Connor and daughters, Mrs. Ricketts of London and Miss Dorothy, have returned from a trip to San Francisco.

The Grizzlies entertained their members and friends Friday evening at the Natatorium with a sheet and pillow slip party.

The Friday Bridge club was entertained at the home of Mrs. C. A. Knight on East Main street, Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Treidler entertained the Five Hundred club at their home on Holly street Monday evening.

The Neighborhood Shakespeare club met at the home of Mrs. Porter J. Neff on Belmont avenue Tuesday evening.

The members of the Country Club held a musical and dinner at the country club house Sunday afternoon.

Friday afternoon the Parent-Teachers' Circle of the Washington school held their regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Hovious, the president, in charge. The pupils of Miss Hoffman's room gave exercises in note reading and word singing. Piano solo was given by John Neff. Mrs. W. A. Aitkins then gave a paper on "Habit-Forming in the Home," followed by a talk by Professor Daily on "Habit Forming in the School."

Miss Ferguson, Mrs. Daily and Mrs. George Wilson then gave short talks on the same subject, followed by a general discussion. Miss Robinson of the library offered the services of the library to any wishing help in selecting books for children.

The circle learned with regret that the Parent-Teachers' convention will not meet here in 1916.

The Serious Ten were entertained last Saturday afternoon by Miss Doris Layne at her home on West Twelfth street. The afternoon was spent with fancy work and taffy pulling, after which the hostess, assisted by her mother, served a two-course luncheon. The Christmas color scheme of red and green was carried throughout the luncheon. Those present were: Misses Myrl Davis, Lorena Stratton, Margaret English, Loretta Stewart, Delia Whisenand, Myrtle Parkepile and Edna Marquis.

Mrs. J. E. Stewart was hostess to the Wednesday Auction Bridge club at her home on West Tenth street Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormack, S. V. Beckwith and Mrs. Conrad were entertained at dinner Tuesday evening by Mrs. Frank Preston.

Mrs. Lee Root entertained the girls' Thursday Bridge club at her home on Rose avenue Thursday afternoon.

The first of the series of invitation club dances will be given at the Seventh company club rooms tonight. A special feature of the occasion will be the appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Loveland of San Francisco, who will give an exhibition of fancy and ballroom dancing, demonstrating all the latest steps in the art, several of which have not yet reached Medford.

Ed Eldred and Miss Katherine McJimsey, both of Central Point, were united in marriage Sunday evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. Frederick W. Carstens of the Baptist church at his home, Madrona Park. Mr. and Mrs. Eldred will make their home at Central Point. A large circle of acquaintances and intimate friends wish them a long life of happiness.

Mrs. Roy Davis entertained at bridge Friday afternoon at her home on Park street for the following guests: Mrs. Jonas Wold, Mrs. Quisenberry, Mrs. Emil Schmidt, Mrs. Gus Newbury, Mrs. O. O. Alonderfer, Mrs. Arthur Hazelrigg, John Wilkinson, Arthur Cunningham, Mrs. J. L. Helms, Mrs. G. L. Schermerhorn, Mrs. John Barneburg and Mrs. A. C. Hubbard.

A matron's gold medal contest will be held in the high school auditorium Friday evening, December 17. This contest will be one of unusual interest. The matron contestants are working hard to make this feature a successful one. They are pupils of Mrs. McDonald, a reader of ability. The public is invited to attend this contest.

Mrs. C. A. Knight entertained with cards at her home on East Main street Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Lewis and Mrs. A. E. Reames returned home Wednesday from a visit to San Francisco.
