"BUDS" TO BE IN WASHINGTON, D. C., SOCIETY

The following musical program will be given by the choir, assisted by the Hazelrigg orchestra of twelve pieces, at the First Baptist church, Sunday, December 19, at 7:30. Every one most cordially invited to attend this service:

Orchestra, selected; "Oswald, Christian Soldiers," choir and congregation; "Watchman, Tell Us of the Night" (Shelley), quartet; orchestra, selected; "In Old Judea" (Giebel), Miss Bess Bryan; "Nocturn" (Mendelssohn), Carlton James; "Calm as the Night" (Gotze), Miss Florence Hazelrigg; Louis Bennett; orchestra, selected; "The Wonderful Savior," choir and congregation; reading, selected; Mrs. George T. Wilson; "O, Hear Me," (Dudley Buck), Herbert Alford; "Stand Up for Jesus," choir and congregation; orchestra, selected.

The date of the alumni annual Christmas ball has been announced for Monday, December 27. This affair, which is being looked forward to as the supreme social event of the year, will be staged in the large hall of the Natatorium. Plans are being made by the decorating committee for an elaborate scheme of decoration which will transform the large hall into a huge bower of Christmas greens. The music will be furnished by an augmented orchestra under the direction of Clyde Hazelrigg, assuring the latest in popular dance music for the occasion. All the committees are striving to make this event the crowning event of a successful social season and no details will be overlooked in an endeavor to attain this end. The invitation list, which is now in the hands of the invitation committee, comprises all alumni, high school and college students, the faculty and a limited number of outsiders.

At the meeting of the Greater Medford club Monday afternoon the ladies were delighted to hear John Pierce, former Seattle councilman, relate a few ways and means of municipal government by the Seattle ladies, who work principally in the capacity of women policemen. They meet every boat and train in order to assist any and all women and girls who may come unaccompanied, to reach their destination, or if they have no destination they are provided with lodgings until they find same. The various departments made reports as to results of their many efforts.

On Wednesday last the study club spent a delightful afternoon in the home of Mrs. Alford. The rooms were beautifully decorated with Christmas greens and flowers. The regular program filled the early part of the afternoon, Mrs. Torney opening it with a complete and interesting summary of current events. Mrs. Shields read an instructive paper on "Columbus" and Mrs. Merrick an equally entertaining one on "Venezuela." A social hour with music and fancy work followed. The hostess was assisted in the serving of delicious refreshments by Mrs. Pickel and Mrs. Hutchinson, who represented the good times committee of the club. The next regular meeting will be held at the library January 5.

The Iowa society's Medford branch—about seventy strong—enjoyed an evening of delightful entertainment Monday night at the banquet prepared by the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church in St. Mark's hall, followed by an excellent program of music and dramatic readings, the latter by Mrs. George T. Wilson in a selection from "David Copperfield," and Mrs. Hovious in dramatic selections from a history of the civil war, representing southern chivalry and sentimental passion, both ladies responding to encores.

Wednesday evening, December 8, was annual election of officers at Reames chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Worthy matron, Agnes Merrill; Worthy patron, Judson Riekert; associate matron, Cora O'Brien; secretary, Lulu Witt; treasurer, Mary Strang; conductress, Ethel Boggs; associate conductress, Elizabeth Garnett. After election of officers the guests and members were invited to the banquet hall, which was artistically decorated for the occasion, and a delightful supper was served. Mrs. E. B. Pickel was the chairman of the social committee. All voted the evening a grand success both in a social and business way. The newly elected officers will be installed the first meeting in January, which is the 12th of the month.

Musical numbers which were much enjoyed were given Thursday and Friday evenings at the Catholic ladies' bazaar. Thursday evening Herbert Alford, accompanied by Carter Brandon, sang, and Mrs. John Wilkinson, accompanied by Mrs. Guy Childers and Mrs. Ivor Paley on the violin, sang. Both numbers were very much enjoyed.

The musical program was also especially enjoyable as rendered by Miss Hinman in vocal selections, Miss Butler in piano selections and Mr. Sheets in baritone.

The high school students and alumni were entertained Friday evening with a skating party at the Natatorium by the sophomore class. The hall was decorated with holiday trimmings and orchestra music was provided by the skaters. Frappe was served during the evening by the girls of the class.

Friday, Miss Geraldine Theiss, accompanied by Mrs. Guy Childers, sang in a very pleasing manner, and Miss Bess Bryan, accompanied by Miss Genevieve Wortman, delighted all present. The bazaar, which has been a great success, will close this evening.

Following the musical feature of the evening came the social time and dance, during which everybody appeared to enjoy a good old Iowa time.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Edmeades entertained at their home on West Main street Monday evening with a birthday dinner for Mr. Edmeades' father, Thomas Edmeades, who celebrated his ninetieth birthday. The guests included a few of the intimate friends of the family.

evening has somewhat overshadowed the fine production to be presented at the Page on the preceding evening, Margaret Illington, in "The Lie." This talented actress is a favorite everywhere with members of the Drama League and the play in which she appears is heartily supported by that organization.

The playgoers of Medford are to be congratulated upon their prospective enjoyment of their first fruits of the Page management's policy of giving their patrons only the very best attractions which can be secured.

The one-act play, which the Drama League will present on December 27 and 28 at the Page theater, promises to be one of the best attractions which this center has undertaken.

Hyacinth Holvey is one of Lady Gregory's best plays. It faithfully outlines the various traits of the typically rich Irish nature, through the impulsive and humorous expressions of its character, flavored with the delightfully quaint Irish brogue. The play is in the hands of the amateur players' committee and the rehearsals under the direction of Mr. E. M. Andrews, who assures us the cast is a happy one. Those taking the parts are: Hyacinth Halvey, Gerald Sooy Smith; James Quirke, a butcher, Holbrook Withington; Tardy Farrell, J. D. Cass; Sergeant Garden, Milton; Mrs. Delane, Inez Coffin; Miss Joyce, Suzan Deuel.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The public speaking class on Thursday evening debated the subject, "Resolved, The government should own and control all railroads in the United States." Mr. Nordwick, Mr. Bell and Miss Davis argued for the affirmative; Mr. Wollam, Mr. Forbes and Miss Heine for the negative. Professor B. F. Van Gilder of the Commercial college, Mr. Pierce and Mr. McCredie, acting as judges gave the decision of three votes for the negative. Mr. Simons acted as chairman, Mrs. Hovious, critic.

The Misses Beck, Holmes, Stewart, Clark, Brown, Stevens, Martin, Holmes, Fridly, Butler and Dippy have enrolled as new students in the conservatory during the last week.

The children's class from the grades meets at 2:30 Saturday afternoons for physical culture.

The public speaking class will have an imaginary banquet next week. After-dinner speeches will be the program for the evening. Gerald Wollam will act as toastmaster.

Mrs. Ed Gore is a new member in the Monday afternoon physical training class.

The Jacksonville Glee club, under the direction of Miss Swindler, will have charge of the singing at the municipal Christmas tree program in Jacksonville on Christmas eve. The club will also give two special numbers, one a Christmas carol, the other, "Holy Art Thou," the "Largo" from "Xerxes," by Handel.

Misses Alice and Florence Johnson were absent from the music department this week.

The expression class is now working on "Romola and Savonarola" and interpreting the one-act comedy, "The Suffragette Baby."
