FORBES-ROBERTSON KEENLY APPRECIATED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

(By ED ANDREWS.)

The large house that greeted Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson last night at the Page was a credit to Medford's taste for the best in art, and the manner in which the excellent performance was received proves that Medford is not lacking in a keen appreciation of the most finished productions.

"The Passing of the Third Floor Back" is entirely void of dramatic sensationalism. It is a delicate work of art which appeals to the intellect rather than to romantic emotion. In fact, the play is so spiritual that it is difficult to describe it in words. Forbes-Robertson is to the drama what Millais is to painting, giving us a strong outline and leaving volumes to the imagination capable of comprehending; for we cannot with word or color give to art what imagination can supply and heart can feel. Imagination alone can apprehend the infinite, and true art is of the infinite.

Everyday Events of Life

The play deals with the every-day events of life, with no unusual or dramatic incident which might border on the improbable. It is the mirror held up to life, showing the selfishness of human nature, and the little, petty bickerings that form the discords of existence. But with the coming of the lodger in the "third floor back" all is changed by the alchemy of the love and kindness of one man. A few pleasant words are sugstituted for irritating criticism, and all is transformed—the base metal is turned to pure gold. It is a lesson we should carry with us in our daily lives. We should be more charitable to what seem to be the faults of others. Harmony is the one great potent force of nature, and all that has been done worth while for man has been done through the influence of love.

A Remembered Sermon

Last night's performance was a sermon to be remembered long after the great dean of the drama has retired to private life, and as the audience filed out of the playhouse one could see that they carried with them the impression of hours spent in the atmosphere of the higher life. The flood of light left by the passing of the unnamed lodger illumined the hearts of all, and fell like a benediction over the hushed and solemn throng.

It is fitting to voice our gratitude to the Drama league and the management of the Page for their untiring and persistent efforts to bring this production to Medford, in spite of the many discouragements which they encountered.

Apropos of the work being done by the Drama league, Forbes-Robertson says: "I regard the Drama league as a great institution, an institution destined to become one of the greatest factors in the drama world of today. The league has already done a wonderful work; it will do much more in the future, and I consider its work a great power in the theatrical world, both for the theaters and the public."

A Veteran Actor

G. W. Anson of the Margaret Illington company remained over to see his old friend, Forbes-Robertson, and occupied a box last night at the Page. These great artists were for a long time in the same company together, in the early days of their careers; and Mr. Anson, by the way, is one of the conspicuous members of the Illington fact; in fact, he is fully capable of starring in a play suited to his particular abilities. In speaking of the Illington play, "The Lie," Mr. Anson quite agrees with the general impression that Miss Illington is much greater than her play. He feels that the dramatist could have used the material at hand in the first and second acts to better advantage, enlarging on the poverty of Sir Robert Shale, which would have afforded excellent opportunities for comedy. Mr. Anson was given a short time ago a very beautiful gold watch by Miss Illington, on the occasion of his celebrating his fiftieth anniversary as an actor. How true it is that only after the frosts of many winters have touched the hair with gray that the actor arrives at his best!

TALENT TALK

Mrs. J. R. Robinson has returned from Ashland, where she has spent the past week visiting relatives and friends.

Jeff Brophy of Rogue River visited relatives and friends in this vicinity Sunday.

Mrs. George Ross visited the primary grade Monday.

Mr. Ager has been very ill with la grippe.

Miss Ruth Wilson returned Saturday from Eugene, where she has been attending the university.

J. E. Smith and wife of Alaska stopped here on their way from the fair for a visit of a week or so. They start for northern Oregon Tuesday.

Miss Anna Dunn, who has been working in Medford, is home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stannard of Ashland entertained Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Morse and family at dinner Sunday.

Kenneth King, who is attending school at Berkeley, is home for his Christmas vacation.

E. H. Maize of the Bagley Canning Co. will take the third degree in the I. O. O. F. lodge. The Ashland and Medford lodges have been invited to attend. A supper will follow the initiation.

L. R. Schmalhausen of Medford visited W. Reynolds Sunday.

W. Reynolds and son, Paul, spent Saturday at the home of S. G. Van Dyke in Phoenix.

Rev. Glockner, the Presbyterian Sunday school missionary from Ashland, was at Wagner creek Sunday.

Mrs. Vernon Brophy is home from Monmouth for her Christmas vacation.

Sam Wimer of Rogue River was visiting J. E. Smith.

Many in this vicinity are seriously ill with la grippe.

Our school was dismissed for the Christmas holidays Tuesday. It will resume again Monday, January 3.

The high school pupils gave a surprise spread in honor of Bonita Taylor, who leaves for Patterson, Cal., soon.

William D. Willis died Saturday at the home of Mr. Race. He was nearly 90 years old and had been a resident of this vicinity for over fifty years. He was buried at Phoenix.

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson expect Mr. Anderson's sister Wednesday. She will spend about a week here.

Mr. and Mrs. Reimer entertained Miss Cox of Medford and Mr. and Mrs. Bowman of Klamath Falls.

Ray Reynolds is clerking for the Talent Drug company.

The Methodist church intends to have a Christmas tree and program Friday night.

The local town basketball team lost to the Phoenix team by a score of 7 to 35.

Mr. Houston is moving his furniture to California.

WILLOW SPRINGS

Miss Ethel Myres is spending several weeks with relatives in Eugene.

The property formerly owned by Roy Nichols' parents is now leased by the Cardwell and Gerhke families.

The annual telephone meeting of lines 14 and 18 will be held at the schoolhouse December 31, 1915, at 2 o'clock sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddinger of Gold Hill have been visiting H. M. Foster and wife for the past week.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond, a daughter, Thursday morning. Mrs. Hammond and Dorothy are doing very nicely.

W. D. Clarke and family and Herbert Clarke will visit their parents in Portland during the holiday season.

A large delegation from this vicinity attended the performance by Margaret Illington and Forbes Robertson at the Page this week.

Saturday evening, December 25, at the Willow Springs schoolhouse there will be a program and Christmas tree under the direction of Miss Hazel Taylor and R. W. Elden. The children of the school will render a very excellent program. All the children of the neighborhood, their parents and friends are cordially invited to enjoy the Yuletide celebration.

W. K. Parker was called to Grants Pass Monday on account of the serious illness of Mr. Allverson, Mrs. Parker's father.

The people of Willow Springs have discontinued the use of one of the main highways to the schoolhouse and are at present playing hide and seek through the diggings.

Miss Anna Thomas departed for her home in Milwaukee last week, after a very pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Julius Burkholz. Miss Thomas addressed the Willow Springs school on her "Travels in Europe," which was a very unexpected treat and was indeed appreciated. The lecture was made more complete by the use of a mirrorscope and views of the points of interest.

Friday afternoon the loyal Grangers and neighbors took their teams, scrapers, picks and shovels to the Willow Springs schoolhouse and made the road and grounds passable. The grade along the road was so steep that it was dangerous for strangers or even those families with the road to travel by night without a strong light. As it was, there were only two roads leading to the schoolhouse. As it is now, the approach is good and places along the school yard. Ralph Dean, George Davis, Julius Burkholz, Oscar Blackford, Albert Forgey, Winchester Huston and others were those who donated their services.

SAMS VALLEY

Mrs. Cox and family have arrived from Klamath county and will make this their home for an indefinite time.

We are rather late in recording the birth of a baby boy born to Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cooper, December 12.

Peter Van Hardenburg was calling on Medford oculists one day last week.

The neighborhood was overshadowed by sorrow at the deaths of their two beloved neighbors, Mrs. D. C. Wilson and Mrs. J. I. Fredenburg, which occurred Friday and Saturday, December 17 and 18. Though the death of Mrs. Wilson had been expected for some time, a kind, loving mother, wife and friend will be sadly missed by all who knew her. Though an invalid for several years, her every thought was confined to the welfare of her family. She was a resident of Sams Valley for the past nine years.

Mrs. J. I. Fredenburg was born in 1860 in Sams valley, and with the exception of five years in Gilliam county, has spent all her life in Jackson county, being a resident of Sams valley for the past ten years. Her death came as a terrible shock with only a few days' warning. She was well known as a busy, happy woman and highly respected by all who knew her. She was a kind, helpful wife and loving mother. The community will feel her loss sadly.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes with both bereaved families in their time of sorrow.

The following relatives were called to the bedside of the late Mrs. Fredenburg: Louis Pankey, brother, from Klamath county; Louisa Smith, sister from Central Point; Nellie McKenney, from Klamath county, and Minnie Moore, from Central Point, daughters; Mary Leslie of Medford, sister-in-law, and W. J. and Harmon Fredenburg, brothers-in-law, from Medford.

Miss Aillen Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. L. E. Hoover, of Medford, attended the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. D. C. Wilson. The following are others who attended from Medford: Mr. and Mrs. Adam Emig, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Richardson and Miss Doris Richardson. A sad coincidence was the two funerals in our little cemetery at precisely the same time, Sunday, December 19.

Mr. Wiley of Medford was called to Sams Valley to officiate at the funeral of Mrs. Fredenburg.

Mr. Horton of Gold Hill officiated at the funeral of Mrs. D. C. Wilson.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pine on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

EAGLE POINT SCHOOL NOTES

Considerable interest is being manifested in basketball, the court in the opera house being used two nights each week, Monday night for the school and Wednesday for the community teams.

Arrangements are being completed for the community Xmas to be held at the opera house Xmas eve. A program and tree will be the principal features.

Mrs. Grace von der Hellen taught in the primary department three days last week while Mrs. Shesler was taking the examination.

Supervisor A. R. Chase called at the school on Monday and gave a brief talk on the Xmas spirit.

Three new pupils have been enrolled recently. They came here from the Wellen district.

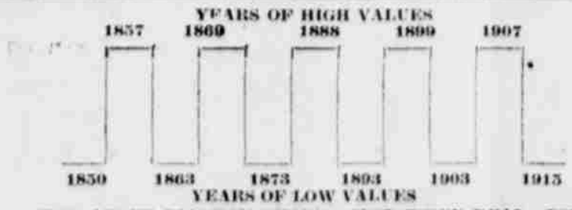
YEARS OF HIGH VALUES



YEARS OF LOW VALUES

THE ABOVE DIAGRAM SHOWS JUST WHEN REAL ESTATE SHOULD HAVE BEEN BOUGHT AND WHEN IT SHOULD HAVE BEEN SOLD.

Real Estate rises quickly in value with good times. Prosperity is coming. It has not struck Real Estate yet. Real Estate is generally the last to feel prosperity. It must feel it in a short time. Then it will jump in value.

How many will have the foresight to take advantage of the present depression and the low prices of Real Estate.
