

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS CONCERT GIVEN BY SKOVGAARD

By ED ANDREWS.

The large crowd which assembled last night at the Natatorium to hear Skovgaard and his company in their very enjoyable concert proves that the Ministerial association of Medford deserve recognition as impresarios.

But, to speak more seriously, it was a very worthy effort of the Ministerial association to bring a splendid musical entertainment to Medford at popular prices. Their success suggests to our minds that there are many local enterprises that our church folk could interest themselves in to the great advantage of the community.

Mr. Skovgaard as a violinist is well up in a class with the big ones. In fact, from a standpoint of tone and technique, we believe him equal to violinists who have made a reputation on both sides of the Atlantic.

The singers all possess good voices, and in their concerted work harmonized in a manner that is rather unusual. Miss Hawkins has a high, clear, lyric soprano, which she used to splendid advantage in her various numbers.

The entertainment, as a whole, was a good one, and the public, one and all, extend its thanks to the Ministerial association of Medford.
