Visitors to Portland need not expect to be entertained at the Mulnomah for the time being at least.

C. H. Gaunt, a familiar figure in Western Union circles, and who has frequently visited here, has been transferred as manager of the Pacific coast division, San Francisco.

Charles G. Anthony of New York, an eminent authority on mineral springs development, addressed a gathering at the Commercial club rooms on Thursday evening.

A political item from Lakeview respecting the candidacy of State Senator W. Lair Thompson for reelection, is of particular interest.

Incident to refusal of the Ashland road tax for 1912, one of the highest amounts drawn was $132.22 by G. S. Butler.

A few days since an out-of-town client, while consulting with a local attorney, lost his mind. Following this peculiar circumstance in quick succession, last Tuesday it was reported that a local wood dealer had died suddenly.

A special committee, as appointed by the Taxpayers' league of Jackson county at its recent meeting, consists of J. W. McCoy, O. Winter, C. B. Larkin, G. S. Butler and G. F. Billings.

Mrs. Lillian De Hay has lost out on her $5000 damage suit against Klamath Falls for slipping on an icy walk.

The passing away of J. T. Rogers in Portland last week is a reminder that he was one of the first to join the exodus of Ashland to Alaska.
