

LOCAL POULTRY SHOW DIRECTORS ESTIMATE INDUSTRY SOON WORTH HALF MILLION A YEAR TO VALLEY

Final Awards Made Exhibitors—Statement Issued at Close of Successful Exhibit—Few Complaints Against Judges and Those Due to Poor Pens—Interest in Poultry Industry Greatly Stimulated and Bright Future for Growth and Development Pre dicted—Plan for State Show at Medford Next December.

At the close of the Southern Oregon Poultry association's show Saturday evening, after a strenuous four days of hustle and hurry, crow and cackle, the board of directors of the organization issued the following statement: "To the business men and women of southern Oregon, and especially of Medford, who so generously contributed to the success of the association's poultry show just closed, we are definitely and permanently indebted. The triumph of the first poultry exhibit in this part of the state is an achievement of great value in every substantial way to the districts represented. It has set the peg of progress ahead a score of notches in one bound in this great industry. It has stimulated interest in the poultry business as nothing else has ever done hitherto in this section of the state, comprising an ideal poultry region of wide extent. Preparation will be begun at once for holding the state show at this place next December, in the firm belief that it is practically assured. When the Mail Tribune placed the output of poultry from Jackson county alone at half a million dollars annually, in the near future, it is our belief that it stated a conservative figure. Work of Industrial Committees "The committees who worked so industriously, both before and during the show, are entitled to great praise for their earnestness, progressive spirit and ability to do things right. The officers of the association, E. W. Hunter, president; Roy B. Peobles, secretary, and Raymond A. Miksche, treasurer, together with the superintendent, Ernest Webb, and his assistants, Paul Janney and W. T. Grieve, did yeoman service for the success of the enterprise, at the sacrifice of business of their own. H. Withington, entry clerk, T. J. Gardner on equipment, W. C. Fritsche, as receiver, and Raymond Miksche at the door deserve special mention for faithfulness to their responsibilities. Judge T. P. Keeney, of Eugene, and E. J. McClannahan, of that city, did excellent work in the matter of instructing those interested in poultry, while the service of Mr. Keeney as judge of the exhibits was eminently satisfactory and educational. A few complained of his decisions, but his pens were at fault, not the judge. In the matter of publicity we are grateful to W. W. Watson and H. B. Patterson, but especially so to the Mail Tribune, in the columns of which the encouragement to organize an association and hold a show began and which has shown most commendable public spirit in giving its space generously and consistently to the promotion of the poultry industry throughout Southern Oregon. Without this loyal assistance in the matter of valuable publicity we could not have succeeded." Awards of Prizes Following is a list of the prizes awarded by Judge Keeney on merits of the birds and pens shown: Rhode Island Reds Highest score (93) single, H. W. Why the STAR THEATRE Shows the Best Pictures FIRST—Our ten years' experience has taught us the business. SECOND—We know where and how to get the best pictures that money can buy. We deal with reliable film people. "The Battle Cry of Peace" was booked through the Vitagraph Lubin, Selig, Essanay Inc., of which office Mr. Tom North is manager. When he books a picture to an exhibitor he is going to see that this man will exhibit the production. No matter what other offers he may receive. We are always kept posted on the best films by dealing with the best. A CALM SCENE IN THE GREATEST PRODUCTION IN THE WORLD

SCENES THAT THRILL The city of New York is attacked by a powerful foreign foe. You are an eye-witness. You see the enemy approaching, the powerlessness of the city, the inadequacy of its forts and defenses. You see the havoc wrought by the enemy's cruisers, its submarines, its airships — by its shells, shrapnel, bombs. You see the most beautiful sky-line in the world in flames, the metropolis of the Western hemisphere devastated. You see New York fall into the hands of the enemy, and the desolation that follows. You see Wall street in flames, Washington, D. C., destroyed. You see the vivid scenes of battle, a raid of aeroplanes, submarine torpedo attacks, battleships being sunk, and the invading hordes. Then you are shown the way that such a calamity can be avoided — the one way. You see the way to peace — the peace for which America so earnestly prays — the peace with honor. I have shown many great screen productions in my career as an exhibitor, and I give my personal guarantee that this is the greatest of them all—Dan L. Sharits, Mgr.
